QUAKES

H. S. W'ns., Jr.
The Quaker teams certainly have been giving the Elonites their share of defeats lately. The baseball team let them down to the ratio of 14-8 and now the tennis club returns from a 4-3 victory over the Little Christian outfit. Looks as if Guilford is developing a "Beat Elon" complex. Wonder what Pop Shepherd's track squad will do to Hardrock's Prototypes?

Speaking of the track squad—We would venture to suggest that Ye Publique might do well to watch that outfit which recently dropped the Conference Champions of 1930 by the mere margin of 104-22.

Perhaps suggesting that the student body get behind them would not be amiss.

We notice in "The Pioneer," published by Catawba, that the Indians lost that Basketball game because our "barn" was too full of haystacks. We would like to suggest that the track meet with the Indians Saturday, will be out in the wide open spaces with nothing but the tape to check their flight.

Coach Anderson's diamond candidates are rapidly showing improvement. Zachary is showing fine form on the mound with several promising candidates following him. Webster, a fledgling of the flock, is showing a fine batting eye and has promising indications of a future.

Of the old men, Bunn, I. Davis, Chisholm, Cheek and others are up to par and from the performance of the squad as a whole, we would predict a continuation of their success.

"Folks," said the colored minister, "the subject of my sermon dis evenin' am 'Liars.'" How many in de congregation has done read the 69th chapter ob Matthew?"

Nearly every hand in the audience was raised immediately. "Dat's right," said his reverence. "You is just de folks I want to preach to. Dere is no 69th chapter of Matthew."

WAKE FOREST DEFEATED BY QUAKER BALL TEAM

Chisholm's Running Catch Is Feature Of Slow Game

In a slugfest, Guilford defeated Wake Forest, 10 to 7. Base hits of a large variety were in order for both clubs but Pratt's three sacker in the seventh was the feature hit of the day. Jamieson with three timely hits in the pinch looked good.

Both clubs turned in fast fielding plays at times, but on the whole the playing was slow. Chisholm's running catch of Benton's long drive in the ninth was the fielding gem of the day and it checked a last ditch drive of Wake Forest.

The visitor's opened strong and with timely hitting, especially by Earp, scored five runs before Guilford could push a man beyond the keystone sack.

In the fifth inning Guilford opened with a bang and before the smoke had cleared away, Barnes had left the game and four runs were over the platter. Taylor took his place and retired the side without further damage.

The Quakers were not to be denied, for in the next inning they jumped on Taylor for six runs and won the ball game.

The rest of the game developed into a defensive battle on Guilford's part to hold their hard earned advantage.

New Y. M. C. A. Officers Installed

Braxton, President; Wellons, Vice-President; And Jones, Sec-Treas.

Thursday evening, April 9, marked the close of a successful year of Y. M. C. A. work under the leadership of Bunyan Andrews. Mr. Andrews and his cabinet deserve much credit for the fine work that the Y. M. C. A. has accomplished during the past year.

The program opened with an impressive devotional service by Dean Milner. In a short talk Mr. Andrews stated the purpose and nature of the Y. M. C. A. and expressed his appreciation of what it means to him. In concluding he passed on the responsibility of leadership to the newly elected president, Wilbert Braxton. Mr. Braxton expressed his appreciation for the support of the students and gave some of the hopes and aspirations for the coming year. Harry Wellons, vice-president, and Carl Jones, secretary and treasurer, both spoke optimistically in regard to the future program.

In conclusion, Dr. Binford and Dean Milner offered words of encouragement and expressed high esteem for the work that the Y. M. C. A. is doing.

Many Quaker Stars Contribute To Major League Baseball History

All baseball fans know of Tom Zachary, ace of American League pitchers, the cousin of our Charlie, and Rick Ferrell, of the St. Louis Browns, said by some to be the best young catcher in the American league, but the story of Guilford baseball men who have made the big leagues goes farther back than that, to 1892, in fact.

Lucian Smith, the first Guilford man to be a major league player, left here in 1892 and joined the Virginia League, which won the pennant while he was pitching for it. He was consequently sold to the New Orleans team, which led the Southern League in the fight for the pennant for the three seasons after he joined it. After playing for a time with the Wilkes-Barre and later with the Pirates, he was forced to quit because of an injury from a batted ball.

John and Jim Fox, who left in 1889, were the next Guilford players to continue their baseball careers successfully after leaving Guilford. One fourth of July, playing for Greensboro, Jim defeated Charlotte single-handedly by four home runs, one with a man on base, winning for Greensboro 5-3.

The next group of stars were coached by Lucian Smith, and like him, were products of the community. The Hobbs boys were the outstanding players of this group. Dr. A. W. Hobbs, now professor of Mathematics in U. N. C., was a pitcher and played with the Yankees. Dr. L. L. Hobbs, now a surgeon, was the catcher of this brother battery. He played with Greensboro and Raleigh in the Piedmont League.

Chick Doak, also of this group, a third baseman, played after he left Guilford in the Piedmont League, and later with Charleston in the South Atlantic.

Then Wilson Hobbs, the pitcher of the brother battery, coached Luke Stewart, 1912-13, who reached the St. Louis Browns. He has the unusual distinction of having hit a home run on the first ball pitched to him during his first game with the majors by Walter Johnson.

Quakers Lose In Practice Games

Scrubs Succumb to Oak Ridge and Public Service Nines in Slow Contests

GUILFORD FIELDS POORLY

The Quakers suffered a relapse in two practice tilts, losing to Oak Ridge, 8-1 and to the Public Service nine of Greensboro, 9-2.

The Oak Ridge contest, played on the cadet field, was featured by the splendid pitching performances of Royle and Stockton both of the prep school. Royle allowed no hits during his four-innings mound engagement and fanned five collegians; Stockton completed the game, permitting only two safe blows. Gold of Oak Ridge insured the victory in the fifth with a triple, while two mates were on. Slayton, Cadet outfielder hit a homer in the eight. Guilford fielded poorly, five bobbles being credited against them.

Summary:

	H.	R.	E.
Oak Ridge	9	8	2
Guilford	2	1	5

Batteries: O. R.—Royle, Stockton, and Ferebee; Guilford—Zachary, Pierce, and Davis.

Public Service Game
After getting off to a two run lead in the first inning Guilford weakened after the fourth frame to succumb to the Public Service team in a listless encounter; the Quakers showed little fight after the beginning spurt. Neese, the visiting pitcher, hurled a steady game, giving four widely scattered hits during the entire seven inning game.

Summary:

	R.	H.	E.
Public Service	000	230	4-9	11	2
Guilford	200	000	0-2	4	2

Batteries: P. S.—Neese and Clark; Guilford—Pierce and Davis.

"So you were in the hospital three months. Must have been pretty sick!"
"No, pretty nurse."

Probably the most famous pitcher from Guilford was Ern Shore, who graduated in 1914, and went to Greensboro, from there to Baltimore, and from there to the Boston White Sox, where he reached the climax of his career by pitching a perfect game against the Senators.

Tom Zachary who played from 1915 to 1919, went to Philadelphia direct from Guilford and after the war signed with the Senators for whom he won two world series games. After considerable trading he is now with the New York Yankees, for whom he has won another world series game.

Murchison, a very peculiar character, was in Guilford with Zachary. In one year he made a record of 87 strikeouts in 6 games. After Guilford he played with Winston-Salem. He was bought by the St. Louis Cardinals, who sent him to Houston in the Texas League but soon recalled him. He began playing outlaw baseball and was blacklisted for five years, after which he settled with the Chicago Cubs, and has been with them ever since.

Jumping several minor league men, we find the next group of majors to begin with George Ferrell, who has been with Memphis in the Southern League for some years.

Shirt Smith and Rick Ferrell constituted one of the best batteries ever to go out from Guilford. Ferrell, the catcher, went from Guilford to Detroit for one year, then to Columbus for three years. Last season he was with the St. Louis Americans. Smith, two seasons after graduation, signed to the Tigers, who farmed him to Montreal, and after a while he moved to Toledo. He has also been with Fort Worth, in the Western association. In one season he struck out 168 men, and the earned run average per nine inning games was 1.72.

These men do not include all those who have played in small leagues as professionals. Besides the ten who have reached the major leagues, there are any number who have played long as professionals, but whose names have been forgotten.
