CHOIR SINGS CAROLS

The Nativity was given at eight o'clock on Tuesday night, December the fifteenth. Dorothy Wolff played the part of Mary, and Matthew Bridger of Joseph. Ivan Thompson, Carl Jones, David Parsons, Curtis Swaim, and Harry Wellons were shepherds. Frances Carter, Julia Plummer, Rose Askew, Martha Lane, and Glenn Bane were the band of angels. Wilbert Braxton, Harold White, and Linwood Beamon were the three wise kings of the Orient. William Hire and Allen White were readers. The characters were dressed with costumes resembling those of the Biblical days. The costumes, the lighting of the stage, the choir, the singing of Christmas carols, showed the Nativity's full purpose. There were three tableaux: the enunciation of Jesus; Mary, Joseph, and the babe in the manger; and the visit of the three wise men. The Nativity is an annual event at Christmas time. It, like the Messiah, has become a traditional Christmas custom at Guilford.

Dramatic Council Plans New System

Periods Of Apprenticeship And Eligibility Precede Real
Membership

MEMBERS TO HAVE KEYS

The Dramatic Council is proposing a plan which should raise the standard of council membership to a super-extra-curricula activity, rather than "just belonging" and having to set up scenery and dash around for knock-knacks.

The plan is one which has merit as the sole standard of membership, and one must pass through a period of apprenticeship, then eligibility for election, before the final election to Council takes place. This policy would warrant some definite recognition of achievement when the individual has been received in the holy circle, so keys would be awarded to the members of the council.

Participation in producing plays here is an art which requires steady work, consistent planning, and trying to do big things with limited resources, so this new idea, if developed, will not only increase enthusiasm within the Council, but will show an improvement in the value of the plays also.

Annual Presentation Of Handel's "Messiah" By College Choral Society

Large Audience Hears Choir Of Hundred-Thirty—Exceptional Ability Is Shown, In Work Of Soloists And Piano Accompaniment

Vesper Service by the Guilford College Community Choral Society in the fifth annual production of Handel's great oratorio, "The Messiah," was given here at Memorial Hall, December 13, at 4:00 o'clock.

The soloists for this masterpiece were: Mrs. A. E. Stanley, soprano; Mrs. E. C. Caldwell, contralto; Karl Fisher, tenor, and H. Grady Miller, baritone. Josephine Kimrey and Mrs. P. D. Gileath were accompanists, and Max Noah, head of the Guilford College Music Department, was the conductor. Members of Greensboro High School Orchestra, conducted by Earl Slocum, gave the overture to that supreme work of Handel.

The program consisted of very beautiful solos and such well-known choruses as "And The Glory Of The Lord," "Glory To God," and "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings To Zion." This year a new chorus, "Worthy Is The Lamb," was added to the ones that are usually sung.

This all powerful oratorio of Handel's, written in such a short time, has been presented at Guilford College for five years, and it is the hope of everyone that this presentation will come a traditional thing.

With the audience standing, "The Messiah" ended with the beautiful Hallelujah Chorus. This idea of standing during this last chorus is a custom that has been handed down through the years.

FOOTBALL SQUAD IS HONORED BY BANQUET

Captain Love Presents Hammer To Captain Wellons Of 1932

SHEPARD TOASTMASTER

The Football Banquet given Saturday night, December 5, was the most brilliant social event of the year. The arrangement of the dining room carried out the football theme.

Under the direction of toastmaster Shepard or referee (as he preferred to be called), the program was carried out amid roars of laughter and despite the continual round of wit between the Coach and Referee Shepard, no blows were struck and the evening passed peacefully. First, the three men who are finishing this year were called on to say a few words.

Professor Newlin, a former Guilford football captain spoke. He introduced Mr. H. Sinclair Williams, Sr., a member of Guilford's first team. Mr. Williams told a few of the experiences of Guilford's pioneer team. Coach Anderson gave a last word to the squad of '31 and told them of his appreciation of their splendid spirit and cooperation.

Captain John Love introduced Captain-elect Wellons. Captain Love handed on a hammer which was revealed for the first time to the public as a charm for captains. Captain

GUILFORD COLLEGE CHOIR BROADCASTS SUNDAY

Successful Concert, Given At Proximity High School Saturday

The A Capella Choir presented two programs the past week-end. On Saturday morning, December 12, they gave a group of numbers at Proximity, to a county teacher meeting. The group consisted of "In Josephs Lovely Garden," "Alleluia Christ Is Risen," "Song of Mary," and "God is a Spirit." All the numbers were received with a great deal of appreciation.

Sunday night, December 13, the choir assisted the choir of the Church of the Covenant in giving three Choruses from the Messiah—including "Worthy Is the Lamb" and "Hallelujah." "Worthy Is the Lamb" was the new chorus added to the "Messiah" given at Guilford College on Sunday evening. This program was broadcast from Greensboro.

COACH TO MARRY

Head-Coach John P. Anderson will leave within a few days for Conway, Arkansas. He is to be married on December 20, and expects to return after vacation.

MISS HARTON TO WED HEAD-COACH ANDERSON

Coach At Guilford For Three Years—Graduate Of University Of Michigan

HIS MOTHER TO ATTEND

An announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Coach John P. Anderson and Miss Elizabeth Harton, of Conway, Arkansas. The ceremony will be a quiet one at home on December 20, and will be performed by Dr. C. J. Greene, who was their English professor while in college. Mrs. Stonewall Anderson will be the only local guest for the wedding.

Miss Harton was graduated at Hendrix College, Arkansas, in nineteen hundred and twenty-six, and has been teaching English in high school since that time.

Mr. Anderson, a Hendrix graduate in the class of '25, has studied in the University of Michigan, the University of Illinois, and Columbia University, and is doing extensive work in physical education. He coached in the Forest City High School in 1926, was later the Assistant Coach in Southern College, headcoach at Roanoke Rapids High School, and has been at Guilford College for three years. Basketball, football, baseball, and aquatic sports are included in his interests, and his achievements as the Guilford coach have been brilliant.

SENIORS DINE TOGETHER

All the Seniors in all their dignity and splendor gathered in the parlor at Founders on Sunday, December 13. The Seniors from New Garden and the Day-dodgers were guests of the Seniors of Founders Hall.

BAZAAR "DIRIGIBLE" CARRIES AMUSEMENTS, GIFTS, CAFETERIA, AND FORTUNE-TELLER FOR FLYERS

The Y. W. C. A. sponsored one of the most outstanding socials of the year on December 3rd, in the form of a "Dirigible" party. Upon entering, each member received a ticket entitling him to participate in the enjoyment of the journey. The theme, "Dirigible," was carried out very effectively throughout the entire party by the presence of several aviators and even a wireless telegraph to send code messages.

Several successful schemes were carried out in order to satisfy the public and the treasury of the Y. W. C. A. The bazaar table offered many trinkets for sale, such as: beads, china and glass novelties. The supply

"THE BETROTHAL" BY MAETERLINCK CHOSEN FOR SENIOR CLASS PLAY

To Be Presented As Spring Play February 20, Then At Commencement

PROF. FURNAS, DIRECTOR

The Senior class is going to cooperate with the Dramatic Council in staging the Spring play, February 20. The play will be repeated in May as the Senior Class play.

The play that has been chosen is "The Betrothal" by Maurice Maeterlinck, a Belgian writer who writes in French. The play is a sequel to the well known play "The Blue Bird."

"The Betrothal" is a fantasy centered around search of a young boy for the girl who is to become his wife. First he goes to the land of his Ancestors, but his search there is futile. He then goes to the Land of the Unborn Children. He is guided by a fairy, and directed by Light. The search ends in the choice of a Veiled Figure by one of the tiny boy children in this land. The fantastic beauty marks the plot throughout the play.

The cast requires about twenty characters, including young girls, middle age people, and older people.

Piano-Voice Pupils Appear In Recital

Massey Tonge Showed Much Talent In Playing "March Grotesque"

The piano and voice pupils of Max Noah and Miss Gail Wilbur gave a recital December 10, 1931, in Memorial Hall. The program was very well arranged with music of changing moods and tempos composed by both American and Foreign composers. Miss Mary Margaret Binford in rendering "Sonatina" and Miss Ora Matlock in rendering "Joy of Youth" showed great talent for such youthful pianists. The playing of "March Grotesque" by Massey Tonge was enthusiastically applauded by the audience. The most outstanding selection of the evening was the interpretative playing of "Concert In D Minor" by Miss Josephine Kimrey with Mr. Noah at the second piano. Several vocal selections were given by Edith Trivette, who sang "Life" by Spross, and "Ho! Mr. Piper" by Curran; and Jewell Conrad who sang "Boat Song" by Ware, and "Yesterday and Today" by Spross.

Those who took part in the musical recital were Misses Mary Margaret Binford, Ora Cornelia Matlock, Nell Ellington, Edith Trivette, Flora Bumgarner, Jewell Conrad, Marguerite Slate, Josephine Kimrey, and Messrs. Marvin Lindley, Jesse Bowen, and Massey Tonge.

DR. DUANE M'CRACKEN'S NEW BOOK REVIEWED

"Strike Injunctions In The New South" By Head Of Economics Dept

REVIEWED BY MOSLEY

"Strike Injunctions In the New South," written by Dr. Duane McCracken, head of the Economics Department, is now available for the public, and a review of the book appeared in The Greensboro Daily News on December 6. Mr. Robert Moseley, who presented the review, lauded the work to a high degree and the following excerpts from his article show his regard for the book.

"The author's examination of the questions involved is detailed and impartial. The six specific suggestions which he makes with respect to the use of the injunction in labor controversies have, in one form or another, already received the indorsement of many leading members of the judiciary and of the bar."

"Both to the citizen of the state interested in the economic and social aspects of the problem and to the North Carolina lawyer interested also in the purely legal aspect, Dr. McCracken's work is invaluable. It does not attempt to deal with the matter in the same way that Frankfurter and Greene's "The Labor Injunction" does, but supplements that work and presents the matter as a North Carolinian problem, with a North Carolina background, to be solved wisely, in the spirit of the court that wrote the opinion in the Van Pelt case."

Int. Relation Club Hold Meeting

The International Relations Club met on Friday, December the fourth, and on Tuesday, December the eighth. On December the fourth Mr. A. I. Newlin was the principal speaker. He spoke on the need of such an organization at Guilford and on the general subject of International Peace. Miss Ricks offered some suggestions as to how the club could be made interesting. The second meeting was concerned with a debate and a general discussion of the Manchurian problem. Edward Blair and Harri Moore informally debated the question. After the debating there was a general discussion of the question. W. J. Fong, native of China, Mr. A. I. Newlin, and Plin Mears were the leaders in this discussion.
