

Council Selects Characters For Maeterlink's "The Betrothal"

Bill Edgerton and Dot Wolff
Play Leading Roles

BE PRESENTED MARCH 5

Fantastic Spring Play Includes
Thirteen Seniors
In Cast

The Dramatic Council is sponsoring as its annual Spring production "The Betrothal" by Maeterlink. This play which will be given in Memorial Hall, March 5, is a departure from the usual type of production. As an unusual fantasy it will prove to be quite entertaining.

It is a fantastic story—a young man is dreaming and a fairy promises to help him select from seven girls the one that he really loves. Each of the twelve scenes is picturesque in itself.

The cast for this play has been selected with care. It is as follows: Tytyl—the hero—Bill Edgerton; Fairy—Eleanor Bangs; Millete—Bera Brown; Belline—Ava Roberts; Roselle—Elma McCanness; Aimette—Mildred Burton; Jalline—Martha Lane; Rosarelle—Rachel Beasley; Jay, the heroine—Dot Wolfe; Destiny—Sonnie Williams; Miser—Dave Parsons; Light—Rose Askew; Granny Tyll—Julia Plummer; Gaffer Tyll—Lewis Abel; Great Mendicant—Ira Cholerton; Peasant—Linwood Beaman; Priser—David Reynolds; Rich ancestor—John Love; Primatic Ancestor—Sam Bass; Drunken Ancestor—Howard Milner; Sick Ancestor—Dave Parsons; Murderer—Bill Sichel; Mummy Tyll—Blanche Silver; Mytel—Marguerite Slate; Daddy Tyll—Wade Mackie; Neighbor—Pearl Kimrey.

SENIOR CLASS ELECTS L. STAFFORD PRESIDENT

First Woman To Hold This
Honor In Class
Of 1932

A. PIERCE IS VICE-PRES.

At the regular meeting of the Senior Class Thursday morning, February 4, class officers were elected.

Lottie Stafford was elected president succeeding Ira Cholerton. Miss Stafford is the first lady to have this honor in the class of '32. She has been active and efficient in many extra-curricular activities. At present she is president of the Young Women's Athletic Association. She is quite capable of piloting the class to safe landing on May 30. The Vice-President is Arrell Pierce, "head-waiter" of Founders Dining Hall.

Marguerite Slate was chosen to succeed Edith Trivette as Secretary and Treasurer. Although Miss Slate's specialty is music, she is, we believe, sufficiently practical to care for the pecuniary interests of the class as well as the record and correspondence.

Quaker Will Appear

The prospects of making the 1932 Quaker a production we have longed to see from Guilford in the field of student publications are very discouraging. In spite of many handicaps, however, I feel safe in saying that the 1932 Quaker will be published.

DR. LEE OF AMERICAN COLLEGE OF SURGEONS IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Art Of Good Living Includes
Intelligence, Honesty,
Industry And Health

A CANCER SPECIALIST

B. J. Lee, a surgeon and cancer specialist of the American College of Surgeons in New York was guest speaker at a recent chapel program. Dr. Lee represented the American College of Surgeons which was in session in Greensboro. He interestingly discussed the art of good living and told all the necessary factors for its perfection.

Intelligence ranked as the first essential for success; however, he stressed the fact that honesty was the underlying meaning of intelligence in that a good character forms most of our mentality, thus becoming the main support of our brain. Smiles, according to the speaker determined our rank in the economic and social world, for no sullen face has ever helped any one to get a job. He stated that one could not possibly enjoy or even attain success without health; therefore, he urged all to take the necessary precautions concerning the body in order to avoid social and economical ruin.

In closing Mr. Lee gave us the following thought, "The road to success does not lie open to those who grumble and do not try, for only the industrious can hope to overcome the obstacles in life."

International R. Club Meets Friday

May Have Off-Campus Speaker
Important Business
Meeting

Those of you who have been interested in the work of the International Relations club are probably beginning to think that it has ceased to exist. This is not true however. Next Friday night, February 19th, at eight o'clock we will have our first meeting after Christmas. We are trying to get an off-campus speaker for that night. Further announcement will be made later. Don't forget next Friday night at eight o'clock. Some very important business will be taken up.

Underclasses Elect Officers For Term

Class officers for the spring semester have been elected.

The Junior Class will be represented by the following officers: Carl Jones, president; William Hire, vice-president; and Ethel Swaim, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Jones has been active in class work and is well qualified for the position.

Thomas Houck is president of the Sophomore class. Flora Bumgarner, vice-president, and Sarah Kearns, secretary and treasurer. All of these officers will, we believe, prove efficient and capable of filling their positions.

The Freshman Class officers are Fred Rudisill, president; Charlie Biddle, vice-president; Cleo Stack, secretary; and Jesse Bowen, treasurer.

BICENTENNIAL PROGRAM OF WASHINGTON GIVEN BY GREENSBORO CLUB

Historical Sketches Given As Background For The Musical Selections

HUGE AUDIENCE ATTENDS

Celebrating the Bicentennial birthday of George Washington, the Euterpe Club of Greensboro gave a concert Sunday, February 13th. The program opened with Mrs. Carrell Atkinson pledging allegiance to the flag. The concert was divided into four parts: the music most directly linked to Washington, other music that Washington heard or knew, dance music of Washington's day, and music in commemoration of Washington. Several solos, duets, and quartets were sung by members of this club dressed in the colonial attire of Washington's day. Misses Agnes Martin and Clyde Kearns were in charge of the delightful history readings which told of the various stories and memories connected with the selection. The last number "Dead March and Monody" by Benjamin Carr paid tribute to the greatest man that ever lived.

Frew Speaks On 'Power Of Books'

Greensboro Pastor Encourages
Students To Seek
The Truth

HE IS CHAPEL SPEAKER

Allan Frew, pastor of the Church-by-the-Side-of-the-Road, Greensboro, was the chapel speaker on Tuesday, February ninth. His subject was "The Power of Books."

"We of this generation," said Mr. Frew, "are prone to look with awe upon the power of physical things, not realizing that within books lies a far greater power." The apostle Paul, in jail at Rome, called books, and especially "the parchment."

Robert Louis Stevenson, an invalid, Robert Burns, a poor plowman, John Milton, a blind man, each, though handicapped in some way, reached a state of influence and fame through power exerted by books.

Mr. Frew encouraged the students to study and search for the truths found in books, while they have the opportunity of doing so.

MEN IN OPEN FORUM

The Men's Student Body met for an open forum discussion during chapel period on Tuesday morning. John Love, president of Men's Student Council, presided over the group. Various problems were discussed and special attention was given to dining-hall behavior, campus celebrations, and church attendance.

Boys Entertained At New Garden Leap Year Party

Only once in four years do girls have the opportunity to ask privileges of the boys; however, according to most young ladies on the campus, one year is sufficient for them in that they are more efficient than boys in the art of ensnaring hearts. The boys were forced to lower their dignity and allow themselves to be escorted by the girls to the Leap Year party at New Garden.

Much amusement was afforded by the names of animals pinned on each member's back, since some seemed so appropriate. Everyone was able to participate in some form of amuse-

Council To Award Achievement Keys

Dramatic Council Adopts Plan
Of Awarding Insignia
As Token Of Merit

12 ARE ELIGIBLE NOW

The Dramatic Council, at its last meeting, adopted the following plan:

"The Dramatic Council of Guilford College decides to put into effect a plan of awarding to those members who deserve it some insignia as a token of merit, the design to be selected later. Realizing that this manifestation is one of honor and should be one of achievement; and that this achievement is reached by some before others, the Council adopts the following point system of measuring this achievement:

The four major roles of each of the two annual productions to receive five points;

Business manager of each play, five points;

Stage manager of each play, five points;

Each of the following to receive one to three points according to the work done, which is to be decided by the Council. In event of two or more persons working in the same department, or the same person in two departments, the total points to be awarded: Manager of Properties; Art; Scenery; Stage Properties; Lighting; Five assistants to help where needed; and other roles in each play.

On receiving eight points a student becomes eligible to membership in the council, but does not become a member until elected by a majority vote. On receiving sixteen points a member of the Council is entitled to receive this insignia.

Those eligible for wearing the key at the present are: Eleanor Grimsley, Dot Wolff, Ruth Hiller, Doris Sapp, Rose Askew, Rubye Crews, Harris Moore, Morgan Raiford, Ed Blair, Dave Parsons, Ira Cholerton, Henry Turner, and Sinclair Williams.
