of College Dean.

Dean Clyde A. Milner, of Guilford College, left for Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn. where he is going to spend about eight months working for a doctor's degree. His work will consist of a dissertation on the "Preparation and Function of a Dean," this being subject to change. He has been working on a study for this connection with the American Association of Colleges, especially small ones. While there he will also have to pass examinations in German, French and Latin.

He received the John S. Wells Fellowship from the Seminary in 1924 and is using it this year. This fellowship is awarded to one member of each graduating class. Dean Milner received it when he took the Bachelor of Sacred Theology degree in 1924. It is intended partly for use abroad. Through 1928 and 1929 Dean studied on it abroad. There he studied in the University of Marburg, Germany under Dr. Jenech, known as a Gestalt psychologist. In Zurich, Switzerland he worked under Dr. Oskar Pfister in his psycho-analytic clinic. From here he went to Geneva when he was accepted as a candidate for doctors' degree in the University of Geneva. He passed the general examination in philosophy here. After this he studied under Dr. Boudovin, known for suggestion, under Dr. Cloperede, a child psychologist, and under Bovet.

Previously he had received his M.A. degree at Haverford, Pennsylvania and his A.B. degree at Wilmington College, Wilmington, Ohio, which is one of the ten Quaker colleges in the United States. His Junior year of college he studied in Woodbrook, England.

The night before he left, he and Mrs. Milner gave a dinner for the psychology majors, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Ryan, from Duke university, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Shepard and Charles Milner were also there.

While the Dean is gone, E. G. Purdom, professor of physics, will act as dean.

PRESENT FROSH CLASS UNUSUALLY LARGE ONE

Most Numerous Group to Register at Guilford Since Record Year of 1925

The present Freshman Class is the largest since 1925. There are 139 students enrolled in it, 96 men and 43 women. This class is one of great variety, especially in the field of religion. There are 15 religions represented in the freshman class alone. They are Christian, Methodist, Baptist, Presbyterian, Friends, Lutheran, Catholic, Moravian, Church of Christ, Disciples of Christ, Reform and Episcopal. There are students who are not members but who attend the Dutch Reform Church, the Unitarian Church and the Congregational Church.

There is also variety in the parts of the U. S. from which the freshmen Class comes. Nine states of the union are represented: North Carolina, New Jersey, Virginia, Minnesota, New York, Tennessee, South Dakota, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

ROADS SUBSTITUTED FOR GYMNASIUM

Funds Being Raised Slowly for More Ambitious Project,
Says President Binford.

OPENS CENTENNIAL WORK

While the proposed gymnasium for Guilford was not constructed last summer, as was originally planned, work on the definite centennial program was commenced in the form of a road.

Work was started on this project the past summer. Student labor, under the direction of the Federal Relief employer, was used.

Starting between the Music Building and Archdale Hall, the road runs to the tennis courts. When this road is finished it will displace the men's tennis courts and the gymnasium, and will connect with the road leading from Founder's by the rear of New Garden and King Hall, and finally terminate in the Oak Ridge Road. After the new roads are completed we will no longer use those in the center of the campus. The cars will be parked at the edge, instead of the center.

Road construction is not the only campus improvement to be made, but shrubbery and flowers, especially at the rear of the buildings, are then planted.

The plans for the new gymnasium have been completed, but the money does not come in very rapidly.

STUDY ROUTE TO FIGURE LIKE THAT OF MAE WEST

French Class Imitates Famous Woman Writer Who Drew "The Path to Affection"

"TRUE LOVE" ROAD ALSO MAPPED

The not-so-smooth course of true love, the also difficult path to a "Moe West Figure," and other devious routes, outlined on illustrated maps modelled from Mme. Seudery's Carte de Tendre" were presented in French VII class last week by a number of the students.

"Martha and Sam," by Mary Alma Coltrane, Jane Clegg, and Lily Bet Hales, illustrated the life of a boy and girl who were playmates and together went through life. As such stories go it ended in "Blue Heaven."

The second map by Ida Mae Higgins, Ruth Fuquay and Ernest White showed how to pass a college course. One begins with "good intentions," and may choose different routes, one leading to an A, AB, or a C, and one to an "Incomplete." "How to acquire a Moe West Figure" was drawn by Nell Ellington and Dorothy Sturdivant. A very slender girl decides she wants to be like Mae West, she does different things to gain weight.

The fourth one, a map of "Studies Through the State of Learning," by Warren Beanson, received much attention.

PROFESSOR PURDOM RETURNING AFTER YEAR AT STUDIES

Spends Time in Work for Doctor's Degree at Michigan University.

MISS HUTH ALSO RETURNS

Mrs. Mellissa Powell, School Nurse, Only
Other New Member of Faculty
This Year.

Miss M. L. Huth and Mr. E. G. Purdom, two professors who formerly taught at Guilford and have been away on leaves of absence, are back again this year. A third addition to the faculty this year is Mrs. Mellissa Powell, of Clinton, who is replacing Mrs. Hamilton Moore as college nurse.

Mr. Purdom left Guilford College the first of June, 1932, and by the latter part of June had started work in the University of Michigan. During his absence Mr. Purdom carried on research work concerned with studies in X-ray radiations that are obtained from heavy elements such as uranium, platinum and gold.

He later assisted in the construction of a three-million-volt electrostatic generator. This is the second largest of its kind at present in the United States. This machine is being used in the artificial integration of chemical elements.

At the meeting last June of the American Physical Society in Chicago he fulfilled all his requirements for the Ph.D. degree except the publishing of the dissertation.

Under new management almost throughout, the old sheet is trying to turn over a new leaf, particularly in making a more regular appearance. Once every two weeks it has made definite plans to come up anew before its best friends and severest critics, the student body.

Music Department Activity; Violin-

A college orchestra, practically the first organization of its kind ever to be gotten together at Guilford, is being started by Professor Max Noah, head of the music department, this fall.

Trios, quartets and other orchestral numbers are being worked on this fall.

In the orchestra at present are Anna Naomi Binford, Charles McNeil, Warren Beanson, Helen Stillman, and Ralph Ward, violinists; Anna Jean Bonhaur, Frances Alexander, and Richard Binford, cellists; Walter Mickle, clarinetist; Massey Tonge, flutist; Esther Perkins, trumpeter; Jesse Bowen, Elizabeth Adams, and Martha Taylor, pianists.

Home coming day at Guilford will be Saturday, October 7, this year. Preparations for this annual event include a hockey game, a football game, and a reception for returning Guilfordians.

Arrangements this year are again in charge of the Homecoming Committee, under the leadership of Professor J. Wilmer Pancoast. W. W. Blair, president of the Alumni, an Miss Era Lasley, Alumni secretary, have also been active in the arrangements.

The home coming program will start with an alumnus-varsity hockey game on the girls athletic field. The game is sponsored by the women's athletic council. The opening whistle will come at 11:00 in the morning.

The returning "Old grads" will be invited to lunch either at Founders or New Garden.

The Catawba football game, selected by Coach Shepard, as being the one most likely to afford an interesting and exciting spectacle for former cheering sections, is scheduled to start at 2:30. It will be the first home football game of the year for Guilford, being played on Hobbs Field, rather than in Greensboro, as is usually the case.

Immediately following the game the alumni athletic committee and the faculty athletic committee will meet in Men's Center for the purpose of reviewing the work of the past few years and making plans for the future.

The alumni will again be invited to dinner at the dining halls at 6:00 and a number of them are expected to be there.

DEBATERS HOLD FIRST MEETING FOR THE YEAR

Discuss Plans for Coming Year; Inter-class Debating to Be Scheduled This Fall

WORK ON COUNCIL CONSTITUTION

The debating council held its first meeting of the year Tuesday, September 26. Plans for the coming semester and a constitution were started and discussed. The constitution, which is very necessary to the council, as it has none at present, promises to be finished soon.

Plans are being forwarded to have inter-class debates before the eleventh of November. The Sophomores will first match the Freshmen; the Seniors will try to overcome the Juniors. To make things fair, the upperclassmen will challenge the lower classes and give them choice of sides. As yet the questions for discussion have not been announced.

The classes will select their own teams. Both girls and boys may be on it.

At this meeting Edgar Meibohm was elected secretary, and Plin Mears representative to the Student Affairs Board. The others on the team this year are John Hugh Williams, Leroy Miller and Thomas Miller, the last named being Freshman representative.
