

F. CARLYLE SHEPARD IS MADE PRESIDENT OF ATHLETIC GROUP

Guilford Sports Director Signally Honored by State Conference in Greensboro.

SUCCEEDS DAVID E. FOUST

Colleges and Universities in Big Five and North State Conference Are Represented at Meeting.

Carlyle Sheppard, Guilford College athletic director, was signally honored at the meeting of the North Carolina Athletic Conference held recently in the King Cotton hotel in Greensboro. Mr. Sheppard, who is very popular among athletic circles of the state, was elected president of the conference, which embraces colleges and universities in both the Big Five and the North State Conference.

Other officers elected at the session, presided over by retiring president David E. Foust of Catawba college, include: A. W. Hobbs, of the University of North Carolina, vice-president, and R. N. Wilson, of Duke university, re-elected secretary and treasurer.

Following the election of new officers plans for the fall and winter were discussed by the various members, and the executive committee made arrangements for a study of the constitution and by-laws of the association.

Those present at the recent meeting included representatives from Duke university, the University of North Carolina, North Carolina State college, Wake Forest college, Davidson college, Guilford college, Elon college, Catawba college, High Point college, Lenoir-Rhyne college, Western Carolina Teachers college, and Appalachian State college.

DR. EZRA WEIS COMES TO GUILFORD CHORUS

Leaves Position at Kansas Wesleyan to Assume Headship Formerly Held by Max Noah.

BEGINS PRACTICE ON MESSIAH

Dr. Ezra H. E. Weis takes over the eighth year of the musical existence of the A Capella choir with a membership of 55 voices. Dr. Weis left his position as head of the music department in Kansas Wesleyan University to assume similar duties here.

Under the guidance of Max Noah, who last year resigned to accept a position as head of the music department in the Woman's College of the University of Georgia in Milledgeville, the choir built up a widespread quality, balance and interpretation of its sacred numbers.

Training Required

A definite musical training is required before anyone is permitted to sing in concert with the choir. In order to receive this training, all members are required to take a course in music which deals with all phases of choir singing.

Dr. Weis has already started his work on the "Messiah," by Handel. He has directed this well-known composition for at least 12 Christmas seasons. Plans are now being made for a week-end trip to eastern Carolina for the Christmas holidays, and an Easter week concert tour to Washington and New York, where the choir has sung in other years.

New Dietitian

MRS. POSTLETHWAITE

NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY QUOTA

Miss Ruth McKibbin, of Ala. University Appointed New Assistant to Staff.

SCIENCES IN MAJORITY

Miss Ruth McKibbin has been appointed as library assistant, coming from the University of Alabama, where she took the course in library science. She has had much experience in library work, both at the University and at the public library there. She comes for the purpose of getting a degree from an accredited college.

Numerous new books have been secured this summer, many of these being on the shelf to the left of the doorway. Among these books are the following: "Fifty Years a Surgeon," by Morris; "The Poet as a Citizen," by Quiller-Couch; "The Voice of England," an excellent short history of English literature; "Sir Richard Steele," by Connelly; "Roll River," by De La Roche; "Forty Days of Musa Dagh," by Werfel; "The Philosophy of a Biologist," by Holdane; "The Failure of Circulation," by Harrison; "Weeds," by Munser; "Rats, Lice and History," by Zinsser; "The Teaching of Jesus," by Branscomb; "The Plight of the Bituminous Coal Miner," by Morris; "Physiology in Modern Mind," by Macleod; "Handbook of Ornaments," by Meyer; several books on astronomy; "The World as I See It," by Einstein; "New Pathways in Science," by Eddington; "Devils, Drugs, and Doctors," by Hagl; "South American Progress," by Haring; numerous books on Spenser; several German readers; "Tobacco Road," by Caldwell; "Now in November," by Johnson; "Cabin in the Laurel," by Sheppard; "Psychology," by James; "The Energies of Men," by McDougall of Duke University, and a new Webster's Dictionary.

Student Parlor Remodeled

The student parlor in Founder's Hall is being entirely refurnished. Some new furniture has been added, drapes are being bought, and old furniture is going to be moved here from other parts of the house.

THREE INSTRUCTORS AUGMENT COLLEGE TEACHING STAFF

Noted Poet and Teacher Is Professor of French at Guilford.

ADD HOME EC. TEACHER

Dr. Ezra H. F. Weis of Kansas Wesleyan to Head Music Department of College.

Guilford has the unusual experience this year of welcoming on our campus three new heads of departments: Dr. Pope, head of the modern language department; Dr. Weiss, head of the department of music; and Mrs. Postlethwaite, who heads home economics and has charge of the dining room. We are interested in them not only because of their academic achievements, which are especially notable, but also because of their personalities as they can affect our student life.

Dr. Pope was born in Brooklyn, N. Y. He lived in the city as a boy but went to sea one year and lived a time on a ranch in Cuba.

He writes poetry and has published two volumes of his own verse. He also wrote a text which is being considered as the inscription to be used on the Mount Rushmore National Memorial. The Belgian government decorated him for his thesis on "Nature" and in the "Work of Canville Lemmonier."

Dr. Weiss is already well known to many of the students who are participating in choir, the "Messiah," and orchestra. He comes to us after having taught music for seven years in North Wesleyan University in Kansas. Before his work at that university he had held positions in five other colleges and schools.

Dr. Weiss was born in a town not far from Chicago. He came from a background of music (at one time there were seven Weisses in the home).

ENGLISH BIBLE SUBJECT OF CHAPEL ON FRIDAY

A service in commemoration of the publication of the first English Bible marked the chapel period on Friday, October 4. The service, conducted by Samuel Haworth of the religion department, was inspired by the recent celebration of the English Bible's tetra-centennial.

This rite was the second to take place during the week. The first, in memory of the late Dr. Elwood Chapell Perisho, was held in chapel on the morning of October 1. The speakers on this occasion included President Milner and President Emeritus Binford, both of whom were continually thrown into professional and social contact with Dr. Perisho over a period of years.

Other high points in the chapel programs of the past two weeks were a talk on the reasons for, and importance of, a college education, delivered by Dr. Stanbury of West Market Methodist Episcopal church in Greensboro; a talk by Guilford's Dr. Suiter on the necessity for independent study; a choral period conducted by Dr. Weis of the music department, and a description of the Huntington library by Mr. Furnas of the English department.

REGULATIONS MADE CLEAR TO STUDENTS

Seniors Must Watch Their Thesis and Bills in Order to Graduate.

NEW RULINGS FOR EXAM

A series of regulations have been given out recently by Miss Era Lasley, registrar, concerning the controlled life of a Guilford College student.

Juniors and seniors will have to attain a quality average of 1.00 to be classed in their respective positions, and seniors who expect to graduate in June must pass the comprehensive exam in language on or before January 15, and, most important of all, must settle their accounts with the college on or before May 1. The former regulation is effective next year, while the latter rule will be put into practice immediately.

The period for changing registration is over and only by special permission, to unusual cases, may a student make amendments to his course.

Senior requirements are: Credit for freshman paper, sophomore speech, junior speech, comprehensive exam in language, quality average of 1.00, and 96 semester hours. Juniors must have credit for freshman paper, sophomore speech, quality average of 1.00, and 62 hours. Twenty-eight semester hours constitute sophomore standing. Social standing is the same as regular class standing.

Special notice, Miss Lasley stated, must be made of the rule stating: Deficiencies in high school subjects required for entrance must be made up by the end of the sophomore year.

Senior thesis subjects must be chosen by November 1, outlines made by the end of the first semester, a first draft completed before May 1, and completed thesis turned in before May 15.

Dr. Milner Talks

Dr. Clyde A. Milner, president of Guilford college, will speak at the opening banquet of the Charlotte branch of the A. A. U. W. on Tuesday, October 8. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Milner, and while in the vicinity Dr. and Mrs. Milner expect to visit Queens-Chicora and Davidson on intercollegiate business.

LARGE NUMBER REPORT FOR THIS YEAR'S FALL PLAY

Prof. Philip Furnas, Director, Pleased When 18 New Students Appear.

OCT. 7 IS CASTING DATE

Play Not Definitely Chosen But Under Consideration—Production is Scheduled for November 9.

Forty-three Guilfordian aspirants to the role of Thespis answered the Dramatic Council's recent call to try-outs for this year's fall play. Director Furnas was pleased to note that 18 of this number were new students, a number of whom, he says, show definitely promising qualities of voice, enunciation, and diction. This influx of new material is counted upon to offset the loss of such old stages as Bob Poole, who played the lead in "Tons of Money," last year's fall play.

The play which will be presented has not yet been definitely chosen. Under consideration are two fantasies—"The Ivory Door" and "Death Takes a Holiday"—and a drama named "Icebound." If the last-named play is chosen, it will be the second revival of a play previously shown to the Guilford audience. The precedent was set by "Smilin' Through," last year's spring offering.

The council's decision will be announced early next week and the chosen play will be cast and in rehearsal by the evening of October 7, if present plans go through. Production is scheduled for November 9.

TAKE QUAKER PICTURES LATTER PART OF OCT.

Photographers to Appear on Campus Seventeenth of This Month; To Be Here Three Days.

ISSUE WILL FEATURE CARTOONS

Herbert Montgomery, editor-in-chief of the "Quaker," has announced that the photographers who have been engaged to take the pictures for the annual will be on the campus October 17, 18, and 19.

The officers for the annual this year are Eleanor Webster, managing editor; Floyd New, business manager; and Winston Davis, advertising editor. Although the staff and assistants have already been chosen, Herbert Montgomery will welcome any novel or improving ideas from the student body.

The editor states that the major change in the composition of the book will be in the art work. There will be a greater abundance of it, especially cartoons. There will be many other changes besides this, and the staff intends to make this annual different from those which have preceded it.

F. PARKER BENNETT INJURED IN COLLISION

Parker Bennett, transfer student from Mitchell College, Statesville, N. C., was seriously injured Thursday, October 3, as he was en route to Guilford College. Mr. Bennett is a day student from Greensboro and is majoring in music.

His sister, Ann Bennett, was also injured, along with five other persons. The accident occurred at the intersection of North Mendenhall street and West Lake drive.

He is the son of Rev. J. W. Bennett, a Methodist preacher of Pilot Mountain.
