Be Transformed Into Social
Meeting House.

SENIORS GIVE FIREPLACE

Ways and Means Committee Begins
Campaign to Complete This Part of Centennial Program.

The "Y" hut has been definitely decided upon by a committee of nine students for this year's centennial project. This hut will be finished by the middle of May, 1936. The hut is located between Prof. A. I. Newlin's home and Founders. As the building now stands it is four red brick walls and at one time this building was used as the college laundry.

According to the architect, Mr. Alfred Bussell, about 10 days will be required for repairs, which will be a hardwood floor, new roof, Colonial door, annexation of a kitchenette, flag stone walk, and fireplace and possibly a porch. This building will accommodate 30 or more people and will be of use to all the organized clubs and classes.

The Ways and Means committee has made plans and begun a campaign for the completion of this project. The Senior class is expected to give the brick fireplace which will be their class gift. The completion of such a building will make use of a part of the campus which has not been used before. This is being built as a contribution to the Centennial program.
