Guilfordians Baffled As Chaperon Vanishes

Checkers, men's dormitories, coffee girls, country going to town, the chaperon vanishing into thin air with strange women, and bathing in the college swamp were the events participated in by fourteen Guilfordians last Saturday at the State College in Raleigh as a means of training them for future sociological work. And, incidentally, Sherwood Eddy was good, too.

Many of the problems of the sociologist presented themselves at this statewide conference. For instance, the results of unfair competition were ably illustrated when five Guilfordians conspired against one in two checker games which, of course, resulted in one of the hard and fast facts of life that "to him that hath shall be given, and from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath." The games began as a fair woman to woman combat, but Charlotte Parker, with that inestimably valuable feminine gift of looking innocently puzzled, soon had all the protective males rushing to her rescue. Even five against one wouldn't have been so bad if only one checker at a time had been moved, but when five of Charlotte's checkers mysteriously gained positions each time it was her turn—well, all we can say is it's no wonder, in a world of such unfair competition, that the little man soon goes out of business.

Frank Dorey, who is famous for his talks on exercising business on the principle of service instead of profits, took advantage of the generosity of the cafeteria to the extent of refilling his coffee cup with free liquid every time a

Students Promote Campus Projects

The men's student body have been asked to donate, as their contribution to the Living Endowment, money and labor toward the laying of the flagstone paths provided for by a group of graduates. According to the proposed plan, each student will be asked to sign over the balance of his unrefunded breakage fee and to make up the difference between that and the amount he wishes to give in participation in the actual task of laying the walks.

Each student who cooperates with the administration in carrying out the above scheme will be entitled to the privileges of an alumnus—publications, etc.—for the period of one year.

As we go to press, there is a rumor that the women students intend to do something similar with the furnishing of the Student Hut; however, no definite information is available.

DEBATERS TO MEET WAKE FORESTERS

Negative Group's Success at Rock Hill Brings New Challenge.

S. A. F. T. FEATURES PLAN

The men's negative debating team of Guilford College has been invited to meet Wake Forest in forensic disputation on the query: "Resolved that Congress should be empowered to fix minimum wages and maximum hours in industry." The invitation grew out of the unannounced success the Guilford men met with in the proposal of an alternative plan at the South Atlantic Forensic Tournament held March 4-6 at Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. The much discussed proposal that became the feature argument of the tournament was conceived by Professor W. O. Suiter. The plan will be presented to Wake Forest by the negative speakers: Ray Hollis and Henry Nau.

Other teams representing Guilford were: Men's affirmative, David Stafford, Alvin Meibohm; Women's affirmative, Ruth Stilson, Ruth Hopkins; Women's negative, Kathleen Leslie, Dorothy Woodward. For the second successive year our Women's negative team was the only team which defeated the Winthrop debaters who were again winners of the contest.

Major universities and colleges extending as far north as Pennsylvania and as far south as Florida were represented in the tourney.

Guilford was also represented in the Oratorical Contest for women and the After Dinner Speaking Contest for men.

coffee girl came within range of his "come hither" eyes. We might even classify the sociologically minded Mr. Dorey in the category of an exploiter of another race as he began his inveigling scheme by getting the ladies of color to minister unto him—and then gradually worked himself up to the blonde waitresses. The high principles of the consumer's cooperative were deprived of a good showing when Frank refused to loan his coffee cup to the unfortunate members of his table who had gotten tea instead of coffee, with no refill privileges.

We think the dignified chaperon illustrated a principle of sociology (although we have no name for it) when he vanished into thin air upon entering the cafeteria and wasn't discovered again until after dinner when he was finally found at a remote table, deeply engrossed in conversation with two strange women. He was quickly rescued by the thirteen Guilfordians who felt it was their turn to do some chaperoning.

The simplicity of the rural mind when caught in the intricate whirl of urban life was exemplified by our country storekeeper, Scoop Bradshaw, when he disgraced the other Guilfordians by locking a pair of gloves to the hat rack and going off with the key.

But perhaps the sociologists are all wet—at least Greig Ritchie was when he dived off the stadium into the football field and came up dripping. Greig is dried off, though, now, and we feel that a few more such instructive conferences would make us full-fledged sociologists.

Candidates Publish Proposed Policies

Following are statements of the platforms of the candidates for the more important positions in next month's campus elections. The candidates for the presidency of the Student Council are not included among those voicing opinions because as a group they did not feel that they could issue statements of policy.

For Student Government President

Lyndon Wilson:

A student government should be a government by the students. It should be unostentatious in nature, but, at the same time, should keep the power of government in the hands of the students, not making faculty intervention necessary. Believing that preventive justice is preferable to the penal type, we will attempt to cure causes rather than to penalize mistakes.

Norman Boyles:

I do not believe in a set platform. There are no two situations exactly alike. If elected, I will try to meet these situations with the best of my ability as well as in collaboration with the faculty and student body.

Earle Maloney:

My conception of the responsibility resting on the president of the men's student government is a representative one; meaning that the president is not to act as a policing proctor over the men, but as the representative from the men's student body to the administration and faculty; that he is to act at all times in the behalf of the men's student body, tempering his action in accordance with their wishes and needs.

Dave Stafford:

I favor closer cooperation with student body; emphasis on group respect and responsibility for honor system; prevention rather than punishment; continuation of gentlemen's code rather than many rules, and encouragement of steps in that direction by Student Council; encouragement of tolerant yet positive opinion and action among student body.

For Y. M. C. A. President

Greig Ritchie:

Present needs of the "Y" call for expansion of the religious and social programs by more active participation of the student body, cooperation with the Y. W. C. A., and more careful planning of Y activities.

Milton Anderson:

My policy if elected to the presidency of the Y. M. C. A. would be to emphasize campus problems to a greater extent than national and international problems that we cannot hope to solve.

For Y. W. C. A. President

Beatrice Rohr:

If I am elected president of the Y. W. C. A., I shall undertake a practical approach to the problems which will confront that organization during my term in office. In particular I shall do my best to further the Y's work in the fields of changes in the campus status quo and of inter-racial amity.

Gladys Cushman:

If I am chosen president of the Y. W. C. A., I shall endeavor to further the Y's work in promoting faculty-student relations, to maintain and expand the services now offered by the Y to the student body, and to keep up the Y's participation in state and national activities.

For Editor of Guilfordian

Milton Anderson:

I believe that an editor owes allegiance to three things: his conscience, his publisher, and his public. Since the Guilford College student body is both publisher and public of the Guilfordian, my policy as editor of that paper would be dictated by my conscience and by the needs of the students.

SOPHOMORES WILL SPONSOR DRAMA

Make First Contribution Toward Furnishing Student Hut, Admission 25c.

DRAMA, MUSIC FEATURED

The Sophomore class will sponsor a program of entertainment in Memorial hall tonight beginning at 8:15 o'clock as the first contribution to a fund directed toward the furnishing of the Student hut. The chief features of the program are the presentation of a one-act play, "Belief," a folk drama and tragedy reflecting the superstitious element of Serbian life, written by Guilford's professor of English, Philip W. Furnas; and a musical novelty by Bill Furman and his Grenadiers. The admission is set at 25 cents. Public school children will be admitted for 10 cents.

Five roles will complete the cast of the play. The chief portrayal is that of Tita, a sort of wild she-devil who murders her sister, played by Jynette LaRosa. That of her delicate but lovable sister is presented by Kathleen Leslie. Tom Taylor has the leading male role.

STUDENTS ORGANIZE PUBLIC SPEECH CLASS

Aim Is Improvement of Debating Teams
Next Year—Extemporaneous
Talks Emphasized.

TO MEET THREE TIMES WEEKLY

With a view to a superior debating team for entrance in the 1938 South Atlantic Forensic Tournament, a group of interested students have started a public speaking class to be held every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1:15 p. m. The group will have no faculty head particularly chosen for instruction in the art of oral dissertation. Suggestion has been made that each member take charge of the class on assigned days. Impromptu and extemporaneous speaking will be emphasized.

Charter members are: Dorothy Woodward, Kathleen Leslie, Ruth Stilson, Ella Cochrane and Ruth Hopkins.

It is planned that the remainder of this school year will be spent in acquiring skill in extemporaneous speaking. In the fall, however, as soon as the query for the annual S. A. F. T. will be published, the class will begin intensive study on the political and economic aspects of the proposition.

PERSONAL LIBRARIES BUILT FOR CONTEST

College Library Tries to Create Interest of Students in Personal Collection.

SOPHS MAKE BOOK LISTS

In order to create an interest in building up a personal library, the library is sponsoring a contest, giving prizes of money to be spent in books to the Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior-Senior classes.

The prize of $5.00 is to be given to the two Freshmen who have read the most interesting list of books in their English classes for the year. There are to be two second prizes of $2.50 each. This training is supposed to instill into the student an appreciation of good literature.

In continuing the sophomore's interest in good books the library will give two prizes, the first, $7.50, and the second, $2.50, for bibliographies of books which they would like to build into a private library. This list must contain not less than 25 or more than 50 books. It must have complete biographical detail, about each book, and must give reasons for the choices made.

The Juniors and Seniors will receive prizes of $10.00 and $5.00 for the excellence of their personal libraries. They must have 25 and not more than 50 books in their collection. These collections will be exhibited the latter part of April.

The books chosen by the winners will be ordered through the librarian.

The first of May is set by Miss Katherine Ricks, librarian, for the announcement of the prize winners and the presentation of honors at a tea.

STOP PRESS BULLETINS!

Blair Gets Scholarship

Charles E. Blair, '37, of Trinity, N. C., has been selected as the recipient of this year's Haverford Scholarship. This is the first time in two years that the scholarship has been awarded from Guilford, as no one was eligible last year. Other candidates this year were John Bradshaw and Sam Smith.

Blair has played an important part in campus affairs during his year at Guilford, which culminated in his election to the post of president of the Men's Student Government last Spring. During the current school year he has also held positions on the Student Affairs Board and the Y. M. C. A. cabinet. He was the last recipient of the William F. Overman Scholarship.

Elections to Precede Vacation

The spring elections this year will be held on Tuesday, March 23, instead of following the spring vacation as usual. This decision was reached at a meeting of the Student Affairs Board held last Wednesday night, when an election committee headed by Charles Blair was appointed by President Paul Hockett.

The polls will be open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. and results will be available before the beginning of the holidays on March 26. This change was made owing to requests from certain of the candidates who wished to be sure of the results before going home.

Social Committee Prepares Party

The last major social event of the third quarter will be the "lucky party" to be held in the gym Saturday, March 20. Prizes will be given to the most ludicrously costumed couple and to the last couple on the floor in the elimination dance. Bill Furman and the Guilford Grenadiers will furnish music for the function, which will last from 7:30 to 10:15, and an admission fee of 25 cents will be charged, and the proceeds will go toward the purchase of a radio-phonograph for the use of the committee at future functions.

Vacation Lengthened One Day

The spring vacation will end at 8 a. m. on April 1, instead of at 1 p. m. on March 31, as previously announced. This change was made public by President Clyde A. Milner.

RUFUS M. JONES TO SPEAK AT GUILFORD COLLEGE INSTITUTE

Humorous Literary Philosopher
Makes Second Visit to Guilford in Recent Years.

WORLD-FAMOUS QUAKER

Now Professor Emeritus of Philosophy at Haverford College; Noted Believer in Mystic Religion.

Rufus M. Jones, B.A., M.A., D.Litt., D.D., LL.D., D.Theol., S.T.D., will address the closing assembly of the Guilford College Institute's fifth session to-morrow night in the meeting house. This is the second time within recent years that Dr. Jones has spoken at Guilford, as many students still here can recall.

Dr. Jones, widely recognized as the world's outstanding Quaker, is a firm believer in mystical religion. Of his many books (he has written an average of one a year for nearly thirty years) a large percentage concern mysticism in one or another of its many aspects.

A native of Maine, Dr. Jones has degrees from Haverford College, Harvard University, Heidelberg University, Oxford University, Marburg University, and the University of Pennsylvania. He has taught theology at Haverford College for well over a quarter of a century. During the same period he has held positions of importance in other religious and educational institutions, including Bryn Mawr College (president of the board), the American Friends' Service Committee (chairman, 1917-28), and member of Phi Beta Kappa. Before going to Haverford he was principal of Oak Grove school.

In his spare time Dr. Jones plays golf.

FINE ARTS CLUB HOLDS MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

Trotter Plays Piano Solo; Hamlin
Gives Talk on Current Events;
Mostrom and Parker Perform.

The Fine Arts club held its usual bi-weekly meeting at the Music building, Monday night, March 8.

Betty Trotter, president of the club, played a piano solo, the second movement of Bach's "Italian Concerto," as the first number on the program. Barbara Hamlin gave a talk on music current events, telling particularly about the current operas.

Margaret Mostrom, secretary of the club, then played Brahms' "Waltz" for the piano. Cora Worth Parker sang as the concluding selection on the program, "Ah, 'Tis a Dream," by Durbin.

The group then discussed what might be their contribution to the Centennial program.
