Center Wins Championship By Defeating Day Students

SCORE IS 19 TO 13

Tilson Scores Seven Points in All-Star Performance; Burton Also Plays Well.

CHAMPIONS SECOND TIME

Player Showing Best Sportsmanship Throughout Crucial Series Will Receive Smith Trophy.

By SNAG HARTLEY

A consistently winning Center quinet shot its way to another championship Wednesday night when they made it one more over the town boys in the 1938 intramural finals.

"Goose" Burton and Petrea played well, but were unable to penetrate the rugged defense of the "Centerites." Fondren and Nece also turned in impressive performances.

Burton started the scoring early in the opening period when he made the initial tally, followed immediately by "Philly" Bud Heath with two foul shots to tie the score until the closing seconds of the quarter, when Burton again found the hoop to put the Day Students in the lead.

Macon stole the show in the second quarter when he shot a long one-handed goal followed immediately by a foul shot that again put Center in the lead. Tilson then scored a goal as "Flash" Petrea and "Pug" Thomas tossed in foul shots to end the half with Center leading 8 to 6.

Center gradually pulled away from Burton's team in the opening minutes of the second half, and had doubled the score by the end of the third period, 16 to 8.

The Day Students rallied in the last quarter and came within six points of the campus boys; the game ending 19 to 13 with both teams turning in their best performances of the year. Tilson was playing his last game for Center, and deserves a good hand.

In the near future all of the players taking part in at least one section game will be given the opportunity to vote for the individual contributing most in the line of good sportsmanship to the games this season. Officials will also have one vote; and captains will collect the votes of their team.

QUAKERS LOSE TO BEARS IN FINAL GAME OF SEASON

Lenoir-Rhyne Uses Two Teams in Winning; Tucker High Scorer for Visitors.

BOLES SCORES 19 POINTS

Popular Forward Receives Honorable Mention on North State Conference Team.

In their final game of the season played on Friday night, February 25, the Quakers were easily subdued by the convincing score of 77 to 33. The Bears used two teams throughout the frame, and at no time during the game did Guilford really threaten. The first three or four minutes, however, saw the local aggregation slip into the lead.

Tucker, Lenoir-Rhyne, stole the show for the visitors as he piled up a total of 17 points, playing in only half of the game. McSwain and Little also played an impressive game for the Bears, scoring 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Roy Boles, Guilford, went on another high scoring spree with 19 points of the Quaker 33. As one of the highest scoring forwards in the conference this year, Roy received honorable mention for his commendable performances; he should make All-Conference next year. Summaries of the game were as follows:

Golden Gloves Champion

Guilford College, March 1.—In the recent Golden Gloves Boxing tournament Jim McDonald, of Guilford College, defeated Bill Irwin, of North Wilkesboro, to win a very impressive bout. Jim hails from Pleasant Garden, and has had a brilliant athletic career at the Quaker institution.

Attention was called to the part to be taken by Attorney Douglas in the program. Mr. Douglas, one of the older figures in the public life of this state, has an enviable reputation of service in civic and professional activities and is also regarded as one of the leading Catholic laymen in this section. For a long time he has taught the Men's Bible class of St. Benedict's church in Greensboro.

QUAKES

As a result of comments your sports editor received from various students in regard to a few of the remarks made in the last issue, I am compelled to offer a little explanation. First, these criticisms have been aimed particularly at the editor. I should like to announce that he is not strictly responsible for everything that is said on this sport sheet. Not only do some of the reporters contribute, but most of the remarks grow out of student opinions and suggestions, and what is wrong with voicing the opinions of the student body?

Secondly, there is usually a great deal of truth in everything that is printed on this sheet; and even though the truth may hurt a little bit from time to time; what is the advantage in concealing facts that become a part of student concern? We shouldn't want any prejudices growing out of such a refined paper.

Center section has won the intramural tournament again; and Charlie Tilson is still wondering how they did it. Dr. Purdon has done an excellent job officiating at the games; and regardless of all the fouls he might have called, he is still a liberalist at heart. The students are looking forward to having his services again next year.

More about section basketball; and we still think that the best player in such activity has to be a contortionist, a boxer, wrestler, "pigskinner," and bronco buster. Each player will have a chance in the near future to pick his all-star team. The names of Burton, Fondren, Tilson, Heath, Boles, Chandler, Maloney, Byrd and Hire have been mentioned for possible positions. The best sport, as determined by every player, will also be announced at that time.

In the recent Golden Gloves Boxing tournament held in Greensboro, Jim McDonald, last year's Quaker gridiron captain, punched out a smooth decision over Bill Irwin, of North Wilkesboro. It was Jim's second Golden Gloves championship; having achieved that distinction once before as a freshman. More "punch" to you Mack; but be careful about "Wings over Guilford."

BASEBALL PRACTICE TO START MONDAY

Seven of Last Year's Lettermen Back; New Material Looks Good.

FACE HEAVY SCHEDULE

At a meeting of this year's candidates for the baseball team, held on Wednesday, Coach Smith discussed plans for the coming season. Practices are to start on Monday in preparation for opening games with E. C. T. C. and Haverford.

The seven lettermen who will be out for the team again this year are Captain Boyles, catcher; Aecce and Boles, pitchers; Tilson, infielder; Phillips, infielder; Graves, third base, and Lentz, outfielder. All players mentioned contributed much to Guilford's victories of last season.

Among the freshmen, Nace and Hines should go far this season, both boasting of fine records in the past. Other newcomers will also be fighting hard for positions.

Guilford has contributed more players to the big leagues than any other small college in the state; and Coach Smith will do his best to preserve that tradition. Opening games are scheduled for March 28 and 29.

The old barn echoed with applause as "Shorty," Bud Heath chalked up another at a recent varsity basketball game. That was during Winnie's week-end off; and how he was weakened!

Nominations are in order for Guilford's all-around Bull Thrower. Those names mentioned thus far are Lael, Lael, Lael, and "Crab" Lael; and it's mostly all-around.
