Dorothy L. Gilbert and Jacques Hardre Speak at Homecoming Today

Will Address Groups At Parker Dedication, Scholarship Meeting

Dorothy L. Gilbert, assistant professor of English here, and Jacques Hardre, teaching fellow in Romance languages at the University of North Carolina, will be featured speakers in today's activities for returning alumni.

Well known to Guilfordians as the College historian, Miss Gilbert will pay tribute to D. Ralph Parker who served as trustee from 1917 until his death in 1939. She will speak at the official opening of the D. Ralph Parker Memorial Room in the gym at 5:00 p. m.

Mr. Hardre, who received his A. B. from Guilford in 1936 and taught German and French here from 1937-1939, will address an open meeting of the Scholarship society at 1:30 p. m. in the library. A French citizen, Jacques Hardre was ordered to report to France for military duty in June, 1939. He served with the army until its demobilization in June, 1940.

Seeking passage to the U. S. from Lisbon, Portugal, he was forced to cross the Mediterranean to French Morocco instead of travelling through Spain where he ran the risk of being imprisoned as a former French soldier. From here he went to Spanish Morocco and gained passage to Lisbon. He arrived in the U. S. in December, 1940, on the American Export Line's "Exeter." Mr. Hardre will speak to the society of these experiences.

Leake Heads French Club

Roy Leake was elected president of the French club at the first meeting of the year, held last Monday night. Bernice Merritt was chosen vice-president; Tonie Ungar, secretary-treasurer.

The group, under the direction of Mr. William B. Edgerton, will hold one formal meeting a month, and conversational meetings three times a month.

Mrs. W. Suiter Deserts Housework for Classwork

By BETTE BAILEY

Ably disproving the old adage that "woman's place is always in the home," Mrs. William O. Suiter has embarked upon a profession not at all novel to the Suiter family—that of pedagogue in the English and Education departments of Guilford college.

While homemaking is the traditional career of faculty wives, Mrs. Suiter believes that teaching not only broadens her interests and keeps her busier than ever, but it also gives her a greater and more valuable insight into the needs of her growing family.

Texas born and bred, Mrs. Suiter attended Southwestern university in Georgetown, Texas, and graduated with an A. B. degree from East Texas State Teachers' college. At the University of Chicago as a graduate student, preparing for a Master's degree in Education, she met her husband-to-be, and it was after Texan met Texan that they both discovered an ironical twist of fate—their home towns are only 40 miles apart!

Board Recommends Point System Changes

Dramatics Council, Athletic Associations Included in Changes

The Student Affairs Board, at a meeting on October 9, recommended that changes be made in the point system. They will be subject to the approval of Dr. Clyde A. Milner.

The following changes were recommended by the points committee, headed by Mary Lou Stafford: the president of the Dramatic council is to receive 2 points; the president of the freshman, sophomore, junior or senior class to receive two points, this being an increase of one point for the president of the freshman class; the chairman of the social committee or the program committee of any class to receive 2 points, this representing an increase of 1 point

Kirkpatrick, Pianist, To Be on Campus Two Days, October 30-31

Will Give Recital Of All-American Music Friday Evening

John Kirkpatrick, prominent exponent of contemporary American piano music, will conclude a two-day stay at Guilford with a piano recital in Memorial hall, Friday, October 31, at 8 p. m.

Mr. Kirkpatrick will present a program of American music in chapel on Thursday morning, October 30. During the next two periods he will meet with music classes and with other students who would like to hear him. During the afternoon he will be with the choir at 4 o'clock, later meeting with the faculty. He will appear in a program sponsored by the Fine Arts club in the auditorium at 8 p. m. All are invited to attend.

Mr. Kirkpatrick will play for those who are interested in hearing him during chapel period on Friday morning. After this he will be free for individual conferences with students. He will meet with piano students during the first period in the afternoon.

The program of his formal recital Friday evening will be devoted exclusively to pieces by contemporary American composers:

- I. Sonata, by Roger Sessions.
- II. Woodland Sketches; To a Wild Rose, Will o' the Wisp, From Uncle

Orchestra Will Play For Council's Comedy

The Chamber orchestra under the direction of Dr. Ezra H. F. Weis will provide music for "Spring Dance," the Dramatic council's fall production to be presented tonight at 8 p. m. in Memorial hall.

Preceding curtain time, the group will play Ballet Music from Schubert's Rosamunde, Humoresque by Tschalkowsky, and Intermezzo from Bizet's L'Arlesienne Suite. Between the acts they will play selections from The Chocolate Soldier by Oscar Strauss.

Members of the orchestra who will play tonight are: violins, Miss Rössie Andrews, Bernice Merritt, Margaret Jones; viola, Bette Bailey; cello, Dr. Curt Victorius, Margery Huber, Phyllis Haines; clarinets, Hugh Brown, Eugene Richardson; saxophone, Ruth Barnes; trumpet, Walter Kuecker; flute, Austin Scott; trombone, Dr. Paul Williams; piano, Alice Ott, Marjorie Lee Browne. Several string players from Greensboro will also join the group.

WBIG Presents Musicum

The Collegium Musicum, under the direction of Dr. Curt Victorius, made its radio debut last Thursday night at 8 p. m. on Guilford's Quarter Hour over station WBIG (Greensboro).

The program presented was: "Adagio Tartini" for cello and strings, the first movement (Allegro Moderato) for two cello soli by Boccherini, and "Gavotte" from Iphigenia at Aulis, by Gluck.

McAllister Brothers Tell Of Adventures in Panama

By NANCY GRAVES

"Panama is a good place to be," said Jean McAllister when telling about his summer there on fort construction work. For the most part brother Bob stayed silent in the background of Clyde's store or now and then agreed with Jean over his fudge royal cone. Both McAllisters worked under their father who was in charge of the defense work.

"Panama," continued Jean, "although under martial law, is a good place to be if you do things you shouldn't." Boundary lines run through the town streets, and policemen can't arrest across the line. It opens possibilities.

Van Achterberg, Kent And Furnas Coach Fall Production Cast of 13

The Dramatic council brings its fall production, "Spring Dance," to Memorial hall footlights this evening at 8 as a climax to the festivities of Homecoming day

This gay comedy of life in a girls' college was written by Yale graduate Philip Barry, well-known for his currently popular "Philadelphia Story."

In the leading roles are Virginia Chapin, in the part of Alex, a rather lively, but too-intelligent college girl; Hudson Bowne, as Sam Thatcher (a Yale man), in love with Alex. Impressionable and anxious to show his independence, Sam is ripe for the wiles of the villain of the piece, The Lippincot, played by Mason Krein, and is well on his way to renouncing women and capitalism and joining The Lippincot in his flight to Russia and the proletariat.

Complications arise with the girls in Alex's dorm, who unite to stop Sam and save the languishing love affair. Virginia Pope, who played in last spring's "It Pays to Advertise," takes the part of Mady, a comedian in the group of girls. Jane Richie, as the beautiful but dumb Frances, and Winnie Ellis, as the not-so-glamorous Kate, add to the force.

The audience will do well to keep an eye on Sarah Gray, who, in the

Miss Brisendine To Speak At Psychology Seminar

Students of the psychology seminar, which meets each Wednesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Milner, have outlined a definite program for this semester.

Each member will give an abstract in the field of his special interest. The class will have outside speakers for those different fields.

The first of these speakers, Miss Frances Brisendine, junior counselor of the employment office in Greensboro, will be with the group on Wednesday, October 22. She will hold interviews and tell how the Altrusa Club of Greensboro made a study of novelty and retail stores in Greensboro.

The group as a whole will study philosophical solutions of the mind and body problem and resulting types of psychology.
