NUMBER 3

Phyllis Barker To Sing Contralto Role in Messiah, Dec. 13

Eight Guilfordians Make All A's But One

Amon, Bailey, Jeffrey, Leake, Rohr, Victorius, Kane, Ungar Top List

Senta Amon, Bette Bailey, Ria Jeffrey, Thomas Kane, Roy Leake, Robert Rohr, Antoine Ungar, and Claus Victorius made all A's but one at the end of the first quarter, 1942-1943, according to tabulations made by Miss Era Lasley, registrar. The same number of students made all A's and B's at the end of the first quarter, 1941-1942. No students made all A's, as compared to two for the first quarter, 1941-1942.

Nineteen students made all A's and B's as compared to seventeen at the end of the first quarter, 1941-1942. They are Betty Ann Anderson, Martha Bell, William Bowman, Corinne Field, Dorothy Hall, Marjorie Hoffman, Richard Ilgen, Mary Ellen Jordan, Buxton Mickle, Joseph Ray, Harvie Saunders, Richard Schafer, Joe Trolinger, Gerda Ungar, Bette Warnke, John Wright, Daniel Young, Benjamin Brown, and Hurford Crosman.

Gilbert King, Martha McLennan, and Grace Siler made all B's; the same number made all B's for the first quarter, 1941-1942.

Fifty-eight students, or 20.4% of the student body passed less than nine hours work with a C average, as compared to 66 students, or 18.7% of the student body, for the first quarter of 1941-1942.

Nineteen students passed less than nine hours of work, as compared to 30 students at the end of the first quarter.

R. Klepper Leads Meeting

The German club, with Renate Klepper, secretary-treasurer, in charge, held its third meeting of the year on November 19. Other officers of the club are Ria Jeffrey, head of the steering committee, and Jim Lehr, program chairman.

Students participated in the meeting by giving readings on great German men of the past who have contributed much to culture. Helena Haines presented a reading on Franz Schubert, and Renate Klepper told of her experiences in Europe.

The group plans to study noted Germans, including Bach, Goethe, and Beethoven, from time to time.

The annual Christmas party will be held Thursday, December 3, in the Hut.

Guilford Fire Fighters Douse Burning Woodpile

By DICK SCHAFER

It was a beautiful, brisk, autumn afternoon, last Saturday about three o'clock, when a frantic phone call sent Walter Shaw running out of Cox shouting hysterically, "Fire! Fire! Hurry!" The Guilford college volunteer fire department was to get its first chance to show its stuff.

Ran Tannenbaum, fire chief, was on Founders walk at the time of the alarm, chatting with some fair maids. "Door-knob" Ray tore himself away and ordered everybody to grab available fire extinguishers. A score or more of fellows responded to the alarm, and two carloads of men were speedily dispatched to the scene of disaster within four minutes after the phone call.

About three miles from the college, on the Battleground road, a dense spiral of smoke could be seen rising from the forest. (The three gals who followed the G. C. V. F. D. on bikes will tell you differently—they took the road to Oak Ridge.) As our two fire engines rapidly approached the scene, the firemen could see all too clearly the flames shooting skyward, and licking the bases of the tall trees in the vicinity. A neatly stacked pile of kindling had burst into flame, and in a short quarter-hour the strong wind had fanned the blaze to a roaring inferno. Two small frame houses stood not a hundred yards from the fire—it was the duty of the fire fighters to extinguish (Continued on Page Three)

I. R. C. Chooses Victorious President; Newlin Speaks

The International Relations club, composed of a group of students interested in the subject of post-war problems and proposed solutions, met on Thursday, November 12 in the hut. As the club had no president, Claus Victorius opened the meeting. Other officers of the club are—Edith Swisher, secretary, and Brad Snipes and Hudson Bowne, program committee. At that time the club elected Claus Victorius president, and Ruth Bab as an additional member of the program committee.

Dr. Algie I. Newlin gave a talk about the Atlantic Charter and its significance. He compared Wilson's Fourteen points made during the last war to the Atlantic Charter, a document drawn up in August, 1941, by the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain. He stated that one reason for the Atlantic Charter was that the people had demanded a statement of war objectives. He also said that according to a survey the average American citizen today is not as interested in the post-war problems of the present war, as they were after the first World War. The slogan to win the war and not to win the peace has been of primary importance to the average American citizen, Dr. Newlin believes.

Following Dr. Newlin's talk, Hudson Bowne reviewed the speech that Vice-President Wallace made to the Free World association on May 8, 1942. In

Dr. Campbell To Act As Toastmistress At Sports Banquet

Athletic Associations To Present Achievement Awards, November 28

Dr. Eva G. Campbell, of the biology department, will be toastmistress at the annual fall achievement banquet to be held on Saturday, November 28, at 7 o'clock in Founders hall. At this time all outstanding athletes will be recognized.

Miss Christine Foster and Coach Charles D. Smith will present the awards. For the men, Coach Smith will present two gold footballs, one to the best blocker, the other to the best tackler on the team. The C. C. Fordham, Jr. Sportsmanship Trophy, the most coveted award of all, will be given to the player who has most lived up to the following standards: no unexcused absences from football practice and no penalizations for unsportsmanlike conduct. Every man, including those not on the varsity squad, is eligible.

Among the women, 16 will receive the W. A. A. awards—seven, their letters, and nine, their numerals. Those having earned the 750 points required for a letter are: Barbara Anderson, Mary Belle Clark, Shirley Marshall, Anne Schneider, Judy Nelson, Dorothy Peele, and Jean Thomas. Numerals, awarded upon the accumulation of 500 points, go to: Mildred Ragan, Betty Marshall, Marjorie Hoffman, Margery Huber, Mary Alice Johnson, Hella Meyer, Maxine Ray, Kathleen Kirkman, and Patricia Shoemaker.

After the presentation of awards, there will be moving pictures showing life at Guilford. This substitutes for the guest speaker which has been had at former banquets. Following the movie, there will be dancing in the gym until 10:45.

Sophomores Plan Picnic

Members of the sophomore class will leave Founders hall at four o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a picnic out in the pasture. Each member of the class may bring a guest.

Jean Thomas and Brad Snipes, in charge of games, are planning as the main feature a hockey match between boys and girls. Judy Nelson and Hazel Bradshaw are in charge of the food.

R. Beyer To Head Club

Robert Beyer was elected president of the Fine Arts club at its meeting of November 16. He replaces Graham Meade; Marjorie Huber succeeds Beyer as vice-president.

The club met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ezra H. F. Weis. A picnic supper was followed by a musical program given by Betty Ann Anderson, Homer Barker, Wilma Knight, Frances Merrill, and Peggy Taylor. Three madrigals were sung by a double quartet, made up by Betty Ann Anderson, Homer Barker, Robert Beyer, Frances Merrill, James Richards, Sue Shelton, Elihu Sloan, and Peggy Taylor.

A committee has been appointed to investigate the possibilities of sponsoring a movie on Friday night, December 4, in Memorial hall.

Contralto . . .

. . . Phyllis Barker, who will sing two solos in the Guilford college presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah"

Austin Scott To Present Flute Recital, December 4

Austin Scott, flautist, will give a recital on Friday, December 4, in Memorial hall at 8:00 p.m.

The program will include Flute Concerto in D, Vivaldi; Duo (piano and flute) in B, Kuhlau; Minuet, Mozart; Dance of the Blessed Spirits, Gluck; Tambourin, Gossec; Trio Sonata, Locatelli; Concertino, Chaminade.

'Y' Cabinet To Hold Open Meeting For All Members

An open "Y" Cabinet meeting, the first this year to be held for the benefit of all old and new Christian Association members, will take place Monday, November 23rd, in the music building at 8:30 p.m.

Planned mainly to show how the governing body of the organization works, the meeting will also include brief reports from delegates to the "Adventures in Applied Christianity" Conference, being held at Durham, November 20-22.

Cabinet members Margaret Townsend, Sadie White, Corky Field, Marjorie Bailey, and Betty Burke will give their impressions and review addresses by Hornell Hart, of the department of sociology of Duke University, Bayard Rustin, of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, and "Billy" Rowland, administrative secretary of the World Student Service fund.

Three Guest Soloists To Aid Presentation Of Handel Oratorio

Miss Phyllis Barker, Mrs. Norris Smith, Erlu Neece, and Neil Jennings have been named soloists for Guilford's sixteenth performance of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," to be presented in Memorial hall on Sunday, December 13, at 3:00 p.m.

Miss Barker, contralto, has already established her reputation as student soloist on campus. She will sing O Thou That Teltest; He Was Despised.

Mrs. Norris Smith, soprano, is soloist in several churches in Greensboro. She has also appeared in our chapel programs with the Euterpe club trio. She will sing There Were Shepherds; And the Angel Said Unto Them; And Suddenly There Was; Rejoice Greatly; Come Unto Him; I Know That My Redeemer Liveth.

Erlu Neece, tenor soloist from the First Presbyterian church in Greensboro, will present: Comfort Ye My People, and Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart.

Neil Jennings is baritone soloist from the synagogue in Greensboro. He will render: Thus Saith the Lord; For Behold Darkness; Why do the Nations Rage?

None of the four soloists has appeared as a soloist with "The Messiah" before. Only one change has been made in the presentation of the oratorio—the Hallelujah chorus will be sung as the last number.

"The Messiah," which was first presented 200 years ago, is left largely as George Frederick Handel first wrote it, keeping the orchestra within modest limits and using only four-part writing for the choruses.

The Guilford Chamber orchestra will accompany the chorus composed of students and members of the community.

Biologists Elect Officers

Officers of the Biology club for the year will be Sadie White, president; Ray Tannenbaum, vice-president, and Jane McCullough, secretary-treasurer. Ray Tannenbaum heads the program committee.

Plans were made at the meeting on November 11 for the initiation of new members. Mildred Pegram and Ray Tannenbaum will be in charge of the initiation.

Interested biologists are invited to attend the meetings of the club.

Clarence E. Dickinson, USN, Cited for Action in Pacific

By CORKY FIELD

Lieutenant Clarence E. Dickinson, U. S. N., Guilfordian, recipient of the Navy Cross with star, Navy Cross with two gold stars, and an air medal for heroism, recounted his adventures recently in an article entitled "I Fly for Vengeance" in the Saturday Evening Post (October 10, 17, 24, 31).

According to the Post, the pilot Dickinson has a "genius for sticking the nose of his plane into hot spots in the Pacific where the United States is being attacked by an enemy." That gift, so called, found Clarence Dickinson over Pearl Harbor on Sunday morning, December seventh. He received his first gold star for action during this attack for "disregarding his own life." "I Fly for Vengeance" (Part I), published with cordial approval of the Navy, describes the fier's reaction to this event in words as vivid as those pounded from the keys of an experienced reporter. On February first, Dickinson was awarded the air medal for action "for commanding the third division of a scouting squadron in the first attack on Kwajalein Atoll, Marshall Islands. 'This attack,' the citation said, 'was made in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition, and resulted in direct hits on ground installations and on a large army ship'."
