Program Announced For Home-Coming; Alumni To Attend Tilt

Some 200 alumni are expected to attend the annual Home-Coming exercises being held today at Guilford College. Dr. Eva G. Campbell, professor of biology and chairman of the faculty Social Committee, has been busy these past few weeks augmenting plans to make this year's Home-Coming one of the most successful and memorable in Guilford's history.

The majority of the alumni, hailing from far off states as well as adjacent counties, are expected to arrive sometime after noon today. Since the Bob Doak Memorial Room in Guilford's new gymnasium is not yet ready for dedication, the original program has been slightly altered.

In lieu of the initially planned dedication, the alumni will be entertained by the faculty and student body at an open house to be held in Founders Hall commencing at 2:15 p.m. Roxie Roberson, presi-

Garner Selects Year Book Staff; Quaker Has Padded Covers

Plans for the 1946 Quaker which, according to Editor J. D. Garner, will be "bigger and better than ever before" are well into execution with all of the portraits taken and the staff completely manned. All clubs and organizations are to be taken next week and the emphasis will be on informal meeting pictures.

The three main members of the staff, Editor J. D. Garner, Managing Editor Peggy Stabler, and Business Manager Howard Coble, were elected last spring. The staff was completed this fall by appointments of Editor J. D. with James Patton, photographic editor; Sol Kennedy, sports editor; Bettina Huston, copy editor; and Jane Rhodes, engraving editor. Coming with two years' experience at Westtown and Rhode Island high school, Alan Hamilton will act as layout and art editor. Faculty adviser of the group is Mr. Parsons.

In line with the "bigger and better than ever before" annual, 25c is being collected from each student at the same time the photographer's fee is obtained in order to pay for padded leather covers, the first to be seen on a Guilford annual in the past twenty years.

A feature section will appear in this annual, the first since 1938. Candid shots suitable for this section may be identified and turned into Photographic Editor James Patton for possible use in the book.

If all deadlines are met the year-book will be out on May 22nd. In order to meet deadlines Editor J. D. would like the "full cooperation of both staff and students."

All annuals for GI's will be paid for by the government under the GI bill, however, the photographer's fee of $1 will have to be met by the veteran himself.

Palestine and UNO Discussed By Club

"Palstine, Pawn of Politics" was the subject for discussion at the last session of the International Relations Club. An election of officers for this year was held at a previous meeting.

Speaking on the question of Palestine's independence were Jack Wyatt, who related the history of Palestine, Inge Longierich, who discussed the Arab problem, Carl Erickson, bringing in the Jewish side of the question, and Betty Marshall who spoke on British and American influence. After these viewpoints were presented the meeting was thrown open for a general discussion, during which time opinions and solutions for the Palestine problem were offered. Jackie James served as moderator for the evening.

Leonard Twinn is president of the group and Lucille Oliver was chosen as secretary. Inge Longierich and Brad Snipes compose the program committee whose function is to select subjects and speakers for the bi-weekly discussions. Alan Hamilton has been placed in charge of publicity and Mr. Machel is to act as faculty adviser.

Development Project Realizes $438,000 Of $761,000 Goal

The Guilford College Campus Development Program, progressing into its third year of a five-year drive, is heralding encouraging prospects, according to Dr. Clyde Milner. Now in the course of the second project with only one more to go, the program has accumulated thus far a total of $439,000 toward the realization of a goal amounting to $761,000 for the purpose of supplying adequate building funds for the vast campus improvement program.

The first goal of this second project—an appropriation of $200,000 for the library, $100,000 of which is for an addition to the building and its equipment and the same amount for permanent library endowment—has already been achieved. In addition to this, the General Education Board for this project has donated $50,000 as a conditional gift which was granted when the $200,000 had been raised.

The first and third projects are to have been in the form of drives, such as the SCA Campus Chest Drive has been; however, it is to be understood that the remainder of this second project is not a drive, but a purely voluntary enlistment of gifts, from which there is yet to be raised $150,000. This means that when this sum is donated, a total of $580,000 will have been raised, leaving only approximately $175,000 to be solicited during the third project.

Dr. Milner also stated that the friends and alumni of Guilford College have been indeed generous in their contributions and expresses a belief that the attainment of the goal of $761,000, and thus the conclusion of the drive, will be accomplished easily within the five-year limit—possibly next year.

dent of the Woman's Athletic Association, has announced that the W. A. A. will serve tea to the alumni during the open house ceremonies.

Alumni To Register

Registration for all alumni will be in Founders beginning at 2 p.m. Later in the afternoon when registration and the tea are completed, it is planned to have a softball game on Mary Hobbs Field between the students and alumni. Paul Lentz, in charge of this phase of the program, anticipates an excellent game as the students will be out to avenge last year's victory by the alumni. Students have been requested by Dr. Campbell to attend supper, beginning at 5:15 p.m. At approximately 5:45 p.m., supper will be served to the alumni in the Founders Hall dining room.

Climaxing the day's activities will be the all important Guilford-Milligan football game in Memorial Stadium, Greensboro, at 8 p.m. This gridiron clash will find the Quakers seeking their fifth straight win of the season.
