

Davidson, Catawba, McCrary Victorious

Although they dropped the last four games, the Quaker cagers are far from being discouraged over the prospects of the remainder of the season. The losses have all been to some of the best teams in the State, and the scores from these games are not considered a criteria as to the potency of the Guilford aggregation. Only one conference game has been played which resulted in a win for the strong Catawba club. The big difference in the two teams seemed to be in height. While playing the Indians about even on the floor the Quakers were not able to control either backboard for the valuable rebounds.

The lack of height again hampered the boys of the Crimson and Grey in the other games which they lost. Even though they were unable to gain a victory in the past four starts the Quakers showed encouraging signs of developing into a potent team.

After a playing layoff of about a week for examinations it is expected that the scrappy Quakers will begin to hit their stride. At that time Coach Lantz will be able to draw additional strength from new members of the team who will be in school at the beginning of the next semester. These along with the present experienced men on the team will make a smoother working and higher scoring team.

It has been demonstrated that the local club has the ability to run up a good score when they get started. Every game has been highlighted by a good run on their part. In the Atlanta game in Winston-Salem the opposition was almost evenly matched during the whole second half. This team had played the powerful Hanes Hosiery team the night before and were beaten by them by only 5 points.

In the Davidson game the highlight was produced by Jimmy Mann who connected with several long shots to keep the Guilford squad in the game during the first quarter. Mann also was high scorer in the Atlanta game with a total of eleven points.

Another of the better aspects of the Guilford play is the floor work of little Jace Ralls. He was easily the outstanding player of the Atlanta game, and is seen sparking the offence and defence of every game. Usually counted on to retrieve the rebounds are Bill Byatt and Hansard who have been turning in fine exhibitions considering the rough competition they get from the big boys on the other teams.

Next in line of the high scorers is Bunk Leonard, Captain of the team and conference high scorer of last year. Somewhat hampered by injuries Bunk has not been able to hit his stride as yet, but he, along with his brother Red, will be counted on when intercollegiate competition is resumed after exams.

Lecture Given By Psychology Professor

Dr. Joseph Banks Rhyne, professor of psychology at Duke University addressed college faculty members and students last Friday night on the subject of extrasensory perception. At Duke since 1928, Dr. Rhyne is also editor of the Journal of Parapsychology.

Introduced by Mrs. Ernestine Cookson Milner, professor of psychology, Dr. Rhyne explained the experiments on mental telepathy, clairvoyance, and extrasensory perception done by his organization at Duke University and those all over the world.

Dr. Rhyne stated these experiments were being accomplished in an effort to answer one of the greatest questions of all times—"What Is A Man?" Dr. Rhyne explained the steps taken by the psychology department at Duke in probing the connection between the mind and the physical world. It is his belief, he said, that the center of personality is not physical.

What do possessions profit a man if he have neither good sense nor wisdom? Plato.

Make Our Store Your Headquarters for Sporting Goods

COBLE

SPORTING GOODS CO.

344 S. Elm St., Greensboro, N. C.

On the Trail

With Jerry Allen

The English "Haw-Haw's" have their fox hunts . . . the Maharajah of Calcutta has his falcon bouts . . . and the student body now has in its midst the "Sharp-Shooters and Snipe Hunters Guild" of Cox Hall.

This group of reckless, devil-may-care adventurers have their headquarters in Art (hit 'em where they ain't) Faircloth's room. Among the members of this infant organization are Tommy (Honey Chile) Jones, "Belly" Benbow, the Hinshaw boys, and last but not least, Mr. Turner.

Or as the club's president said in a recent interview, "We bring two hunting animals with us . . . Tommy Jones's dog 'Boss' . . . and June Lewis's 'Red-Dog' . . . unquote.

Their first safari into the deepest, darkest jungles of Carolina, proved to be very worthwhile.

Faircloth caught a few possum. . . . Benbow a couple of skunks . . . and "Bushy" Henshaw a bad cold.

Although the rest of the boys frustrated in their efforts to capture something with meat on it (and thus fortify their diet) . . . they were still outspoken in their praise of the club's activities.

"Ah, Yes," said "Belly" Benbow . . . "the outdoors does things to me . . . it makes me wanna get back indoors."

When pinned down, the members are reluctant to admit how little they know about the finer arts of hunting.

Or to be more specific . . . how little they know about possum and snipe hunting.

In case this confuses our city-slicker friends . . . a possum is defined as "that which resembles an over-stuffer rate with a slick tail."

A snipe is "that which is known to exist" . . . but we'll be ! ! ! ! . . . if anyone ever caught one!

The principle behind successful possum hunting is to drive said beast up a tree and out on the proverbial limb by means of hunting dogs . . . a whoop 'n holler . . . and dire, verbal threats to send said animal back to Satan's kennels . . . unless it comes down.

One recent Thursday night, our friends . . . armed with only a love for nature . . . a few bags . . . and the feeling of supreme joy which only sportsmen experience . . . set out on a safari to the country which surrounds Benbow's house.

They were, dear readers, out on a snipe hunt.

For three hours . . . this reckless band of adventurers prowled hither and yon, to and fro, over hill and dale . . . in quest of the ever-to-be-found snipe.

On and on and on they went.

Forward . . . always forward . . . never relaxing their vigil.

"We must . . . we shall . . . we gotta' get 'em," cried Honey Chile Jones.

"Here's his tracks," screamed city-boy Faircloth.

Their pulses quickened . . . the snipe was nearby . . . they tightened the grip on their bags . . . "Boss" and "Red-Dog" leaped and bounded . . . with "Bos" out in front by a nose . . . and "Red-Dog" in the place position.

Gladys

Lingerie Shoppe

118 North Elm Street

EXCLUSIVE UNDERWEAR AND ACCESSORIES

Greensboro, N. C.

S Y K E S

SHOE SHOP S

and Shine Parlor

105 N. GREENE

Invites you to bring your school shoes in for repair

Merry Christmas

SEBURN'S JEWELRY

116 N. Elm St. Phone 2-1771

FOR

Wallace and Towle

SILVER

Spode, Royal Doulton, Royal

Worcester, American Haviland

CHINA

Duncan Miller, Heisey's, Seneca,

West Molland

GLASS PATTERNS

Also Fine Lines of Jewelry

Pictured above are but a few of the several hundred couples dancing to the melodic strains of Max Westerman and his orchestra at the Veterans Dance before the Christmas Holidays. In the foreground you might recognize such celebrities as M. J. Sweeten, Dave Register, Richard Pleasants, and that lone figure on the extreme left is none other than Cox Hall's own "Pug" Whiteheart.—(Photo by Don Troxler)

But, Alas . . . all was lost . . . the snipe was not snipe . . . but a derelict deer who got lost somewhere between Clyde's and the "Pines."

Benbow (who had been licking his lips in ecstatic anticipation of tasting snipe stew and candied yams) was heartbroken.

He pulled up his chins . . . thrust 'em defiantly upwards . . . and tearfully cried, "Excelsior."

But all is not lost.

They will try again.

For, if at first you don't succeed . . . etc., & etc.

It was this thought, among others, that President Jones voiced in recent speech to the guidance committee.

In this fervent appeal Jones said, "It is your duty to recruit more members . . . fet some of the fairer sex . . . explain our two pronged program of action . . . namely: To study and apply the principles of nature."

To fortify our souls and stomachs . . . by cooking the creatures we capture.

So come one . . . come all . . . our next snipe hunt will be held next Wednesday . . . bring your own bags . . . and dogs!

POEMS

By Miss Quote

Early to bed,
Early to rise,
And your gal will go out
With other guys!

Breathes there a man with soul so dead,

Who never to himself hath said-

H-m-m-m, not bad!

STARR

Electric Company, Inc.

Electrical

Contracting

And Repairing

Phone 2-2175

231 North Greene Street

After the Game

Stop At . . .

TUCKER'S TERMINAL

for

STEAKS

SANDWICHES

COFFEE

On the Winston Road

Calendar

Jan. 17-25: Exam

Jan. 22-24: Registration for second semester (Gym)

Jan. 28: 11:15 a.m. Chapel, Memorial Hall

7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym.

Jan. 29: 7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym

Jan. 30: 11:15 a.m. Chapel, Memorial Hall

7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym

Jan. 31: 7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym

Feb. 2: 9:30 a.m. Silent Meeting, Hut

New Garden Meeting House

11 a.m. Morning Worship

Feb. 3: 7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym

Feb. 4: 11:15 a.m. Chapel, Memorial Hall

7 p.m. Games and Dancing, Gym.

A picture by an artist of the modern school was unveiled before a large crowd in a Paris art gallery. Most of the spectators promptly clapped their hands—over their eyes.

Sealtot ICE CREAM

Dial 2-1125

Greensboro, N. C.

COMPARATIVE SCORES

White Oak 27 Guilford 53

White Oak 33 Guilford 42

McCrary Eagles 50 Guilford 53

Catawba 56 Guilford 34

Atlanta Eagles 61 Guilford 44

Davidson 78 Guilford 31

Raleigh 50 Guilford 48

GUILFORD SCORERS

Mann 51

H. Leonard 34

Hall 25

W. Leonard 22

Hansard 17

Poggioli 16

Chatham 16

Ralls 14

Byatt 14

Arzonico 9

Cuneo 8

Weston 5

Schoellkopf 3

Inman 3

(Note: These figures do not include Thursday evenings game.)

For Quick, Courteous
Taxi Service
DIAL 4185
SERVICE TAXI

When in Need of Taxi
Service
Call
ACME 5141

DRY CLEANERS—FUR CLEANERS—STORAGE—RUG CLEANERS

DRY

KOONTS
CLEANING COMPANY

CLEANERS

OFFICE AND PLANT—340 NORTH GREENE STREET
GREENSBORO, N. C.

MITCHELL OFFICE SUPPLY COMPANY

"Necessities for Your Office"

Call 3-4797

222 S. Greene St.

P. O. BOX 1167—GREENSBORO, N. C.

Eat Where All the Good Sports Eat

SPORTSMAN'S RESTAURANT

Seafoods

Chicken

Steaks

216 S. Greene St.

Dial 9473