

'Rip Van Winkle' To Be Theme of May Day Festivities

EDDIE TEAGUE,
... New Era of Sports

New Sports Program Is Being Planned by New Athletic Head

Announcement Made After Long Wait

On Saturday, April 16, formal announcement was made concerning Edward Teague's appointment as the new athletic director and football coach of Guilford College. This announcement terminated a waiting period on the part of Guilford students, faculty, and alumni which began last winter when Williams "Doc" Newton announced his intentions of resigning from this post.

Teague's appointment was no surprise to Guilford students, though it was known that various applications were submitted for the position, and various names were mentioned in connection with the job. The fact that Teague was the strong favorite among the student body, faculty, and closely associated alumni is attributed largely to his success in building one of the finest small college intramural programs in the South.

Coach Teague's appointment as athletic head is effective immediately, and already plans are in progress for a new era of sports at Guilford College.

Lucky Stiffs!

It was announced this week that in accordance with Honor Roll Rule No. 3, five Guilford seniors have been exempted from final examinations. These students attaining this goal are as follows: Inge Lonerich, Betty Nunn Moon, Bettina Huston, Eldora Hawthorn, and Jack Tilley.

The rule governing these exemptions is stated as follows: "Seniors named on the honor roll for five consecutive semesters are excused from final examinations."

Spanish Club To Play Host to Five Groups

The Guilford College Spanish Club, under the leadership of Hiram Hilty, Spanish professor, will be host to Spanish student groups of five colleges located in and around Greensboro on May 4, at 8 p.m.

Plans are now nearing completion for the event, which will be held at Memorial Hall. All of the six groups will take an active part in the program, including students from Guilford, Woman's College, Greensboro College, Bennett, Immanuel Lutheran, and A. and T. College.

This unusual and original program promises to be of special interest to all students and visitors who wish to attend.

Clinics, Panels on Newswork Feature NCCPA Convention

1950 Convention To Be Held in Greensboro

Three representatives of the GUILFORDIAN returned to the campus Saturday from a convention of the North Carolina Collegiate Press Association. These representatives were Ward Threatt, Managing Editor; Garland Rakstraw, Business Manager; and Burley Strader, member of the business staff of the GUILFORDIAN. This convention was held in Raleigh with N. C. State College as host, April 21, 22, and 23.

Garland Rakstraw of the GUILFORDIAN was elected Secretary of the Association for the coming year, Ellen Metz, W. C. U. N. C., was named president; Joe Hancock, State College, was named vice-president; and Leo Derrick, Wake Forest, was elected treasurer. The representatives agreed to hold the convention in Greensboro next year with Woman's College, Guilford, and Greensboro College as hosts.

While at this convention, the Guilfordians attended several clinics and panels discussions presided over by experts in the field of journalism. These clinics and panels were varied in design and purpose. Those attended by the Guilford delegation were: the news reporting clinic, conducted by Neal Yancey, head of the Associated Press News Bureau in Raleigh; an editorial clinic, conducted by J. R. Barry of the Durham Sun; the business managers' panel discussion, conducted by J. T. Howard, head of J. T. Howard Associates, Advertising Agency; and the newspaper make-up clinic, conducted by George Anderson, State Editor of the Greensboro Daily News.

The representatives were guests of the Board of Student Publications, N. C. State, at a luncheon in the Grill Room, State College, Friday. They were present at a press conference in the office of Governor Kerr Scott Friday afternoon, and attended the convention banquet at the Carolina Hotel that night.

SCA Program for 1949 Is Organized

On April 9, nineteen members of the old and new S. C. A. cabinet, laden with bed rolls and supplies, set off for a week end "retreat" at the Boy Scout Camp Nawakwa.

The camp, which is located about eighteen miles southeast of Greensboro, provided an atmosphere free from the rush and daily routine of campus life. This made possible unencumbered informal gatherings which led to successful planning and group fellowship.

The early part of the afternoon was spent in a lively game of softball, after which the group gathered to hear Dr. Burrows speak on "What an S. C. A. can mean on campus." Group singing preceded a weiner roast for supper, Saturday night. "Pete" Moore spoke on "S. C. A. Organization," after which the group divided into four commissions—"Christian Heritage," with Dr. Crownfield and Lucretia Moore; "World Relatedness" with Mr. Burrows; "Social Responsibility," with Mrs. Crownfield; and "Personal and Campus Affairs," with "Pete" Moore.

After a group meeting in which all the commissions gave reports on their plans, Bert Smith led 30 minutes of fast and furious folk dancing. Everyone, exhausted from the day's activities, found the somewhat chilly screened-in cabins and bunk beds a welcome sight.

Breakfast followed a silent worship service on Sunday morning and at 9 a.m. commissions met again. After dinner their activities for the year were placed on a calendar and by 3 p.m. they were homeward bound.

Bach's Prelude To Be In Tonight's Recital

Miss Marie Orvis, better known as "Moe," will give her senior recital tonight in Memorial Hall. She is one of the two piano majors to give her recital this spring.

Numbers on her recital program will include: Bach's Prelude and Fugue No. 21, Beethoven's Sonata, Op. 10, No. 2, Three Etudes by Chopin, Debussy's Arabesque No. 2, Debussy's Sunken Cathedral, Moszkowski's Eu Autumn, and Grieg's Piano Concerto in A Minor (First Movement).

Marie Orvis has taken music since she was eight years old with the exception of a two year interlude between the ages of twelve and fourteen. Before coming to Guilford, she studied at Bob Jones University. During one summer she studied at Juilliard School of Music.

Her activities and positions at Guilford have been: president of the choir this year, a member of the Woman's Student Government for two years, and a member of the Student Affairs Board. Last year she gave her junior recital accompanied by Brantly Greeson.

"Moe" is the daughter of an alumna, the former Miss Leona Chappell. Her brother, Harold Orvis, finished at Guilford last year.

Cuban Plans Changed

Mr. Hiram H. Hilty, Guilford Spanish professor, returned here last week end from Richmond, Indiana, where he led a panel discussion on Cuba before the American Friends Board of Missions.

After the meeting and a discussion between himself, Dr. Jones, president of Earlham College, and Mr. William Biddle, Earlham sociology department head, Mr. Hilty learned that the previous plans for his Cuban work camp were somewhat altered.

Whereas before, the students of Guilford would have participated in the Cuban work camp at Gibara, there will now be a different work camp for girl students of Guilford and Earlham in Jamaica.

"The reason for this," said Mr. Hilty, "is that the work camp in Gibara will require some manual labor on the part of the girls. This practice is frowned upon in Cuba, while in Jamaica it is considered perfectly in order."

Miss Bellon Reigns As Queen; Dance Will End Program

Saturday, May 7th marks the peak of festivities in the Guilford College Spring activities; namely, the annual May Day celebration. This year Miss Eileen Belton of Winston-Salem will reign as Queen of the May with Jo Carroll Bray her maid of honor. The other members of the May Court are Phyllis Stevens, Inge Lonerich, Marjorie Benbow, Jean Presnell, Joan Folger, Sarah Farlow, Ersal Adams, and Ada Wayne Stewart.

The old and new cabinet members in the W.A.A. are combining talents with Miss Hutchinson to carry through a Rip Van Winkle theme. All of the women's Physical Education classes are participating in the dances and reels. The various responsibilities of the May Day have been assumed by the following girls: Program, Ann Stabler; Costumes, Mary Corbin and Jean Kirkman; Properties, Jackie Williams and Margaret Wilson; Decorations, "Andy" Anderson and Caroline Hopkins; Dance tickets, Charlotte Flanders and Deany Belton; Publicity, Jean Presnell; Chaperones for the dance, Sarah Farlow; Decorations for dance, Polly Edgerton and Betty Brockman, Liz Gordon and Julia White; Dance figure, Beverly Utley and Alyce Valeer; Refreshments, Sarah Arnold and Emily Neece; Receiving line, Jackie Williams.

The festivities will begin in the afternoon and continue on until the end of the dance that night. The orchestra of Jimmy Perkins will furnish the music for the occasion. Tickets for the dance may be obtained from any member of the W.A.A. cabinet.

Guilford Isn't Only Place With Troubles

The following questions appeared in the Swarthmore College, "Phoenix" in an editorial:

Why does the college buy old, smelly, and embryonic eggs? Is the breakfast coffee left over from the night before? What is the "pea" soup made of? What is in the "mystery" balls we get for dinner? Why are vegetables cooked so long they have no taste, while the potatoes come out raw?

Guilford students, relax . . .

Problems and Work of Friends in Jamaica Leads Meet Discussion

Miss Dorothy Lloyd Gilbert returned Saturday, April 23, from a meeting of the Friends World Committee for Consultation, American Section, at Highgate, Jamaica, Miss.

Gilbert attended this meeting as a representative of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting.

Miss Gilbert left the college April 13, and flew from Miami to Jamaica on the 14th. The Committee convened at Lyndale School at Highgate that night. This meeting lasted all day Friday and until noon Saturday. On Easter Sunday, the eleven American Quakers present visited different Friends Meetings on the island. Monday they went to Seaside, Hector's River where the Jamaica Yearly Meeting began Tuesday morning. This meeting lasted until Thursday. On Friday, they went to Kingston and from there Miss Gilbert flew to Miami and then to Guilford, where she arrived Saturday.

Miss Gilbert is the chairman of the Publications Committee of the World Committee. This committee is now planning a booklet on recent trends of Quakerism in the United States. The principal work of this Publications Committee is the encouragement of the translating of Quaker works into foreign languages.

The object of the World Committee is to promote better understanding among Friends over the world by inter-visitation and by publications.

This committee discussed the problems and work of the Friends in Jamaica. They also advanced plans for the World Conference to be held in London in the summer of 1952.

While in Jamaica, Miss Gilbert toured the island and was favorably impressed with the beautiful country and especially the mountainous terrain and the tropical landscape.
