

...We Are Proud...

Here it is. Though some 40 years late, the new King Hall addition not only graces the beauty of the campus, but serves the students and faculty alike with its modern laboratories and classrooms.

Four Students From Other Countries Register Here

Students of Guilford College are fortunate in having students from foreign countries for classmates again this year. In continuing its tradition of having students enrolled from various countries of the world, Guilford has this year added students from China, Japan, Palestine, and Cuba.

Jennie Chu, Canton, China, came to the United States two years ago and makes her home now in New York City. Her father is associated with the Yet Hing laundry there. She is a graduate of Warren Wilson High School in Swannanoa, N. C.

Jun Ayusawa comes from Japan. His father was a visitor to Guilford campus over a year ago. His father was one of the first citizens to leave Japan after the war. He was a classmate of Dr. Algie Newlin and President Milner. Jun holds a degree from the University of Tokyo, and studied last year at Haverford.

Classmeetings Held For Freshman Girls

After a summer spent writing to "Big" and "Little" sisters and making plans for the coming year, the Women's Student Government Association officially opened their season with speeches on various subjects and activities during Freshman Week.

Aside from the general talks by the president of the WSG and the two house presidents to the girls, an informal "get-together" was held in Founders Hall on Friday of Freshmen Week. The main purpose of the meeting was to help the "sisters" get to know one another better before the Freshman Reception in the gymnasium.

Plans for Freshman-Sophomore Days in early October are already in the formative stage with special class meetings being held in Eleanor Corneilson and Charlotte Flanders' room. The meetings are being held to familiarize the girls with the rules and regulations of their respective classes.

Eleanor Corneilson is President of the WSG. Margaret Tweddell is Vice-President; Ola Mae Gregson is Secretary and Bettie Brockman is Treasurer.

Farid Sugghayer registered for summer school from Batounia, Palestine. His arrival was delayed over a year due to difficulties in obtaining a visa. He has relatives in Chicago.

Melba Gorgas comes to Guilford from Holguin, Cuba. She attended the Friends High school there and became acquainted with Guilford through Mr. Hiltz. Her mother and two sisters remain in Holguin.

A full account of Mrs. Milner's trip will appear in the next issue of the Guilfordian.

Soap Suds!

"Our Town" is growing larger. R. E. Cummings and Dickie Pleasants have opened an Automat Laundry. The new laundry, complete with dryers, ironers, magazines and ash trays opened last Monday. Maybe we ought to get incorporated.

SCA Continues Its Drive for Members

The SCA began its activities for this year with a retreat at Camp Nawakwa the week-end of September 17-18 at which time plans were made for the various functions to be sponsored by the organization. The faculty advisers for the group were Mr. Burrows, Dr. and Mrs. Crownfield, and Floyd Moore. Vespers were held on the water with Mr. Burrows presiding. Dr. Crownfield delivered the Sunday morning sermon with Bert Smith leading hymns and fellowship songs.

Look forward to the following with the SCA during the year: Christian Emphasis Week, sightseeing and camping in N. C. and Va., chapel speakers, forums and lectures, recreation clubs, and religious programs.

At the first cabinet meeting definite plans were drawn up for the Battleground hike, a membership drive, and work project. It was decided that the Battleground hike, an annual event, should be held Sunday, October 2. The membership drive will begin with the hike and will continue through October 9th. October 8th, members are being urged to participate in a work project which will include a general cleanup of the Hut. The day will close with square dancing in the gym for the student body.

The SCA sponsored Esther Lowe, the President, at a nationwide SCA conference this summer in Berea, Ky.

Total Enrollment Goes Toward Normal

Formal opening of the 113th year at Guilford College began September 22, 1949, with the attendance at classes of 561 students.

Although an increase in enrollment of freshmen was noted, the all-over enrollment was an expected decline compared to that of last year. This was due to the huge graduating class this spring.

The number of freshmen enrolled this semester is 157, compared with 153 enrolled last year at this time. The all-over enrollment was fixed at 561, compared to the all-time high of 608 students for the first semester last year.

Freshmen week activities concluded Saturday night at the annual reception, after Wednesday and Thursday night programs consisting of presentations from members of the Student Affairs Board of their organizations, and a talent program Thursday night, in which much genius was displayed at the upperclassmen's disposal.

The college is deemed better prepared to handle the large enrollment due to its strengthened faculty and added science building addition.

Ground Broken For Friends Parsonage

In the year of 1791, a small group of people knelt in prayer before a meeting house, newly finished, to offer their thanks to a God, who had given them, always, the best. Then they entered to worship. And so began the Quakers New Garden Yearly Meeting.

Last Sunday, one hundred and ninety-eight years later, the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of those same early settlers, gathered to celebrate the one-hundred and ninety-eighth birthday of the Friends Yearly Meeting.

The celebration began with the usual 11:00 church service, after which there was a picnic. There was a special service after the dinner, in which was read the story of the first New Garden Meeting and the people behind it.

After the afternoon service there was a ground-breaking service on the site of the proposed parsonage. The site is behind Memorial Hall on the location of the Red School House.

Improvements Noted

Returning upperclassmen at Guilford this year are noticing many improvements in the college plant, and on the campus.

Renovations have produced four new rooms in Archdale, and also two new bathrooms. King Hall addition is practically finished. The library is receiving a new addition.

On the campus is noted a tremendous improvement as to the lawn. The set of lamps donated by the class of '49, and the new walk to the corner provide convenience, comfort, and beauty to the campus as a whole. The new curb erected on the circle in front of Archdale has, it seems, eliminated the huge pool of water usually standing in that area.

"Housemother" Goes To Archdale Hall

Archdale Hall, as of last Thursday morning, is blessed with a "House Mother." She is none other than Chief Charlie Hendricks. The Hall of Champions has already signed a pledge not to throw water into the suite. Hendricks has signed a contract to be full time manager of the football, basketball, volleyball, and baseball teams.
