Guilford Alumnus Bestows Gift on Guilford College

Former Student Gives $120,000 in Stocks for New Katherine Hine Shore Dormitory

B. Clyde Shore, a graduate of Guilford and Winston-Salem Realtor has given Guilford College a gift of approximately $150,000. Most of the gift will be used for the construction of the new girls' dormitory which will be named the Katherine Hine Shore Dormitory in honor of Mr. Shore's wife.

The remainder will be placed in a B. Clyde Shore Scholarship Fund to "aid worthy students, particularly those who are training for leadership in the Society of Friends."

The gift was in the form of 1,500 shares of stock in the New Shoreland Park real estate development on Robin Hood Road west of Winston-Salem. These shares represent a large tract which will be subdivided and sold by the college.

The new dormitory will enable the college to increase its resident enrollment by about 35 students and rental from the dorm beyond the cost of upkeep will be added each year to the new scholarship fund.

Mr. Shore was graduated from Guilford in 1925. Mrs. Shore received her B.S. degree in Music at Woman's College, Greensboro, in 1930. While at Guilford, Mr. Shore played on the baseball and football teams, was a member of the YMCA and Henry Clay Literary Society, and was superintendent of the Sunday School and President of the B.Y.P.V. He is now President of the Shore Real Estate and Insurance Company in Winston-Salem. He is treasurer of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting, a member of the Yearly Meeting's Permanent Board and Central Committee, Chairman of the Evangelism and Outreach Committee and a trustee of the trust fund. He is a member of the Winston-Salem Friends Church where he is chairman of the Trustees and Finance Committee.

The new girl's dormitory will be the third major addition to the campus since a long-range fund raising campaign was started in 1944. During the next five years the Guilford trustees hope to raise $1,450,000, which they will use to construct, besides the new dormitory, a new auditorium-chapel-religious education building, enlarge the dining and kitchen facilities (the food too?), build a permanent residence for married students (they're here to stay), construct a student affairs building and infirmary, develop a recreation and sports area, and increase the permanent endowment fund from $1,180,000 to $2,000,000.

The next construction job will be the enlargement of the dining hall so that students will be able to eat family style at dinner.

Two New English Courses Added

Two courses are being restored to the curriculum next semester, it has been announced by the English Department. One is Public Speaking (English 17), which has been offered in evening hours during the fall term and will be repeated in daytime hours in the spring term. The other is Introduction to Dramatic Art (English 28), formerly called Play Production, which affords an opportunity for those interested in dramatics to get academic credit for participation in chapel plays or in the spring production. Both these courses will be taught by Mr. Haring.

Modern Dance Course to be Offered for Physical Education Credit

A modern dance class for physical education credit will be offered next semester. The class will be taught by Mrs. Diane Gaumer, a graduate student at Woman's College, who is working on her M.F.A. with emphasis on dance. Mrs. Gaumer graduated from the University of Maryland.

Additional Courses

So often around registration time is heard the comment, "I wish a certain course or major were offered at Guilford." It is true that sometimes these wistful thinkers don't take into consideration the size of our institution, which places a limit on some fields to be offered. If you sit down and really consider our curriculum here, there are very few flaws to be found.

There are a few of us who have taken the above into consideration and have found a few suggestions that we consider might be profitable to the college as well as the students.

Instances are known in which students desiring a degree in commerce have had to go elsewhere for their education. Should the college be faced with much added expense by the establishment of such a major?

As can be readily discerned from the lively interest shown in intramurals there are quite a number of girls on campus who would prefer to major in Physical Education. We are pleased, however, with their preference to Guilford over a degree in Physical Education.

When students were asked for suggestions for additional courses in narrow fields, not many were forthcoming. Most people agreed that Guilford has the most thorough and all inclusive liberal arts education to be offered in any college. One suggestion seemed to be prevalent among most of the students. They suggested that a course be offered which would attempt to increase the students' vocabulary, his knowledge of the origin of words, and methods for improving spelling. A final suggestion was made that the course be given under the guidance of Dr. Furnas. Other students would welcome a course in journalism taught by Pete Moore. Pete has taught the course in the past, and members of his class were pleased with the results. Many students are entering some form of community or religious service occupation and would benefit from the type of recreational course Miss Reynolds taught a few years ago.

Matthews Award Announced

1954 Sponsors for Quaker Available

The 1954 Quaker is offering to sell sponsor's pages for the low cost of ten dollars for one-half page as well as dormitory ads for fifteen dollars per page. These low prices were possible due to a change in printing process. The 1954 Quaker must know in the next few days all organizations or persons who wish to sponsor this year's edition as the deadline for all pictures will be Feb. 1. All sponsors pictures must be slick prints no larger than a 5" x 7".

The staff is rushing to complete the make-up of the 9x12 book which with no further complications will be distributed the first week end in May.

Choir Plans Tour

The Guilford College Community Chorus and the Choir will begin practices on the Easter portion of Handel's Messiah the first Tuesday night in the second semester from 7:30 P.M. until 8:30 P.M. This is a continuation of the Christmas portion given immediately prior to the Christmas holidays. Everyone is cordially invited to join the choir and Community Chorus in this presentation, especially those who are interested in choir work and who don't have time to be a full-time member of the choir. The performance will be given in the late spring.

Members of the choir have a full schedule ahead learning the music to be used in the tour program which will take place during the spring holidays from March 21 through April 2. This year, the choir is using some arrangements from the Robert Shaw album, a medley of Southern Negro spirituals, and some of Mr. Baumbach, the director's compositions, which they will carry into the states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia and New York.

Religious Emphasis Week

Religious Emphasis Week will be held this year during the week of February 14-21. The committee headed by Carol Smith has been at work since the first part of November planning a stimulating program for the entire week.

Each day will be highlighted by a special event—some of which include bull sessions in the dormitory, an afternoon seminar, chapel programs, a motion picture, and vespers every evening.

Faculty advisers to the committee are Dr. Gordon W. Lovejoy and Mr. Edward Burrows. Members of the committee are Carol Smith, chairman, Willard Payne, Joyce Pate, Neva Watson, Reva Watson, Arnold Leary, Matty Burton, Janice Corneilson, Bill Gibson, Margaret Ann White, Betty Humble, and John Church.
