STUDENT UNION, DINING HALL PLANS ANNOUNCED

To Be Completed By September, 1955

During the current academic year, two major additions will be made to the campus: a Student Union and an addition to Founders housing a new dining hall and a college infirmary. In addition to these, there will be other smaller projects, and it is planned that by September 15, 1955, these projects will have reached completion.

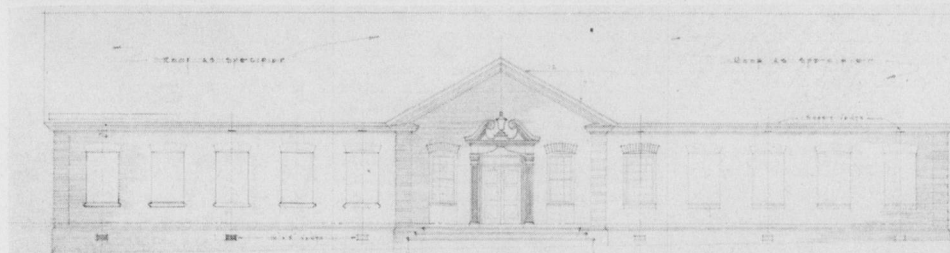

The Student Union, which is to be located on West Campus just behind Mary Hobbs Hall, is being built by a drive of the Greensboro Advisory Board to Guilford College. They are raising $150,000 to build the new Student Union and to establish a $100,000 permanent endowment fund for scholarships for Greensboro students. The floor plans and a description of the Student Union are on page 3.

The second project, which includes the Founders Hall addition, is a $128,000 drive by the alumni, former students, and friends of the college. This amount is being raised by the fifty-five organized units—the Over-50-Year Group, the fifty graduated classes, and the four undergraduate classes—which comprise some four thousand Guilfordians. Each of these fifty-five groups is being encouraged to select a special project for promotion, with which the class name will be permanently identified.

To be included in this second project are a number of separate projects. The most important, or at least affecting the greatest number of students, is the construction of a new dining hall. It will be in the location of the present facility, but will be over twice the size and will be greatly modernized. Also included in the dining hall project will be a complete remodeling of the kitchen.

On the second floor, above the new dining hall, will be a small

The front elevation of the proposed Student Union. Funds for its construction are being raised by the Greensboro Advisory Board to Guilford College, and the actual construction is scheduled to start in the spring. (See pages 3 and 4 for complete story).

'Children of Bride' At W. C. U. N. C.

The Theatre of the Woman's College of the University of North Carolina is presenting a new play by Arthur Cavanaugh, The Children of Bride, tonight and tomorrow night at Aycock Auditorium. Mr. Cavanaugh has had seven of his plays produced in one year on such programs as Kraft Television Theatre, Philco Playhouse, and Studio One.

A professional star is to play the lead in The Children of Bride, which tells the story of a twenty-seven-year-old girl trying to find a happy life of her own.

The special student rate for this premiere performance is $1.50 and regular tickets are $2.00. Reservations may be made by calling 2-5661, Extension 235.

Margaret Anne White Wins English Award

Miss Margaret Anne White, a Junior from Woodland, N. C., is the 1955 winner of the Annual Scholarship for Excellence in English. The scholarship is awarded each year to an outstanding Junior English major by Leora Sherrill O'Callaghan, Class of '24. The winner is determined by a vote of the English faculty.

The scholarship is awarded during the Junior year to become effective in the Senior year of study. Last year's winner was Barbara Mae Anson.

Margaret Anne has been very active in the Society of Friends. She is an English major with a Quality Average of 2.65, and has been most active in campus life. She is secretary of the Honor Board, secretary of the W. S. G., May Day chairman of the W. A. A., and managing editor of the Guilfordian.

President Milner Meets With Alumni Group

President Milner left Monday afternoon for Louisville, Kentucky, where on Tuesday and Wednesday he attended a meeting of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. From Louisville he went to Philadelphia, and last night attended an alumni meeting there.

Tonight he will meet with the New York City alumni group, and tomorrow will go to Boston for another alumni meeting.

The President will complete his tour on Sunday when he attends a meeting of the Alumni Association in Washington, D. C.

Choir Gives First Concert Of Year

The Guilford College A Capella Choir gave its first Christmas concert on Sunday, November 28, 1954, at the Science Hill Friends Meeting, Science Hill, N. C., pastored by Earl Redding, a Guilford student.

The traditional numbers—"The Choral Invocation," "Beautiful Savior," and "The Benediction"—were sung. Other selections were "Hodie, Christus Natus Est," "Praise To The Lord," "Roun de Glory Manger" (a Negro jubilee), and "Carol Noel," "Brother John's Noel," "Wake Now, Ye Shepherds" and "Carol of the Drum." Soloists taking part were: Evelyn Cline, Frank Griener, Neva Watson, and Reva Watson. A trio composed of Anne Timberlake, Wenda Lou Hodgkin, and Thelma Buckner also sang.

Following the afternoon concert, a delicious and satisfying dinner was served.

A recording of the choir's Christmas music was presented over WBIG at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, November 28. The choir recorded music Monday night, November 29, which will be used as the background for a Christmas program on WFMY-TV.

A section of the choir will sing several selections on "The Quaker Hour" on Sunday, December 5. Muirs Chapel Methodist Church will be host to the Choir on the evening of December 5, when the choir will again present its Christmas program.
