Sorry--Wrong Chute! We'll Clean It Up

LAWRENCE, KANS. — (ACP) —A couple here got an unpleasant surprise one night when two basketfuls of trash came tumbling into their living room. It seems they lived in the basement of a three-story house, the top floor of which was occupied by a group of University students.

The students didn't realize that the basement was occupied, the University Daily Kansan reports, and decided to empty their wastepaper basket down an old laundry chute. The chute opened right into the middle of the couple's living room.

The students planned to nail the chute up this week-end.
