Eleven Guilford Seniors Named To Who's Who

Eleven seniors from Guilford have been elected to represent the school in the 1955-56 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

To be selected for this honor is one of the highest attainments one can receive during his college career. Candidates are chosen on the basis of character, service to the school, leadership and practical qualities, contribution to extra-curricular activities, scholarship, and potential usefulness to business and society.

Guilford's representatives to this publication are: Ketchel Adams, Ed Brown, Larry Bumgarner, Sue Genz Church, Nancy Dettor, Bill Gibson, Frank Laraway, Carol Smith, Charles Strider, Emily Warrick, and Margaret Anne White.

Ketchel Adams, a sociology major, was vice-president of his class his sophomore year, played baseball and football, has been on the Honor Roll and served on the Student Council. Originally from Elkin, he received the William Overman Scholarship and is chairman of the Honor Board.

Ed Brown, from Murfreesboro, has lettered in tennis four years, was a marshal last year, has been
