

Development Continues Chapel Next in Sight

"A million and a quarter by a century and a quarter," is the goal set by Dr. Clyde A. Milner, President of Guilford College, for the completion of the Guilford development program. At the celebration of Guilford's 125 years of uninterrupted educational service, in June of 1962, the results of the plans are expected to be completed.

The outstanding feature of the plan is the building of the last large Guilford unit — an Auditorium-Chapel-Religious Education building. This chapel will provide an auditorium large enough to hold the entire student body and faculty for undivided convocations and an annex for music, drama, speech and religious education. In conjunction with the main building project will be the relocation of the athletic fields to a north-east location and the complete remodeling of the second floor of Memorial Hall to include at least four classrooms and six to eight faculty offices.

Although the facilities of the college will be greatly increased, quality will not be sacrificed for quantity. The established maximum enrollment will remain at 600 students with 550 holding a full work schedule. Dr. Milner stated that "careful selection of new students academically qualified for college work will enable us to point with pride to the number of students who finish each year rather than to the number who begin." The development of a religious program especially designed to prepare leaders for the society of Friends has been included in the plan, as well as a one year graduate study program leading to an M.A. degree in Religion.

Finances for the developments are to be obtained by endowments which are hoped to total at least $2,000,000 and which will include a living endowment of $20,000 annually. Dr. Milner stated that "as of today, we have approximately $28,000 in ready funds which are growing rapidly every day." When an initial amount is reached, the building will begin. A most interesting feature of the endowment plan is the initiation of a "Century and a Quarter Club." Membership in this organization can be had by anyone who, over a period of five years between 1957 and 1962, donates a minimum of $125.00 to the Guilford fund. This represents an initial investment of only $25.00 per annum to an expanding institution.

Class of '61 Boasts Array of Foreigners

The class of 1961 has entered upon its rostrum the names of eight students from foreign lands. These students have come to Guilford College planning to further their education in various fields and subjects.

Hyun Dju Kim and Sang-Yum Kim have come from Seoul, Korea. Hyun Dju is a pre-medical major, while Sang-yum is majoring in economics.

Eva Birgitta Leander comes originally from Stockholm, Sweden, to major in English. She is being sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Ashboro, Randleman, and Siler City.

Daniel Ulises Manresa and Eduardo Okdulio Pupo have come from Ote, Cuba. Daniel is on a Richardson Scholarship but hasn't decided in what field he wishes to major. Eduardo's arrival has been delayed due to a legal situation but he is expected any day.

From Oriente, Cuba, two more students have arrived. They are Alfred Santos Melero and Paul Labrada Barreras, who come on Richardson Scholarships, but neither has decided definitely upon his major.

Petty Succumbs

The recent death of Herbert C. Petty, a member of the Board of Trustees, has left two openings in the organization. Mr. Petty served as vice-chairman for the Board and assumed the position as Chairman of the Promotion and Development, one of the important standing committees. It is expected that the Chairman of the Board, Robert H. Frazier, will call upon L. Elton Warrick of Goldsboro, N. C., to fill the chairmanship of this committee.

New Faculty Members Lend Talents on Joining Various Guilford Departments

By CLARA MONTGOMERY

Several new faculty members have joined the staff of Guilford College enlarging various departments.

They are Dr. Chauncey B. Ives, Dr. Oscar Maurice Polhemus, Bill Lee Yates, Joseph Stuart Devlin and Miss Mary Catherine Upchurch.

Dr. Ives has joined the English Department as associate professor. He received his B. A. degree at Yale University, his L.L. B. degree at Harvard, his M. A. degree at the University of North Carolina, and in 1957 he earned his Ph. D. degree at the University of North Carolina. He is author of the novel, The Realist, published by Dodd, Mead and Co. in 1947. Dr. Ives has taught in the University of North Carolina and in Wake Forest College. He is also a member of the New York Bar.

Dr. Polhemus is in the department of Political Science as assistant professor. He graduated from Indiana University and received his M. A. degree there. Boston University awarded him his S. T. B. degree and the Th. D. degree in pastoral psychology. Among his many experiences, he has served as a chaplain in the Army on the island of Okinawa. He also has traveled extensively in North America and in the Mediterranean area.

Yates is Dean of Men and also assistant professor of education. He received his M. A. degree from the University of North Carolina and did his undergraduate work at Guilford College. Holder of an outstanding record at Guilford, he has made a special study of the college curriculum and has studied student guidance. In his studies he has concentrated particularly on types of problems affecting Guilford College students.

Devlin is an instructor in economics and business administration. He received his M. S. degree from the University of South Carolina in 1957 and did his undergraduate work at West Virginia Wesleyan College. Devlin served in the U. S. Army in France from 1954 to 1955. In undergraduate school he was secretary of Theta Chi Fraternity. He worked actively in school pub-

Candidates Chosen For May Court

The following girls were elected to be candidates for May Court. From a list of thirty-three hopefuls, ten co-eds were chosen. They are: Clara Atkinson, Mary Cashwell, Ann Harper, Patricia Lapp, Carolyn Liverman, Rachael Richardson, Susan Walter, Elden Walters, Anne Watson, and Ruth Simpson. The Queen and the Maid of Honor will be selected from this list at a later date.

M.S.G. Holds Retreat for Policy Discussion

On a cold, rainy Sunday, September 29, the Men's Student Government met at Quaker Lake for a discussion of present and future policy as another step forward by this group in promoting a stronger school spirit and closer cooperation between students and school administration.

The president of the organization, Woody Finley, discussed the importance of the individual and his place in God's plan. Charlie Hendricks then served an excellent dinner which he and Lee Andrews had prepared.

Dr. Lovejoy was the next speaker. He described the various types of leaders, both good and bad, and the problems a leader faces in being a good leader. Dr. Burrows then discussed the importance of group cooperation and the function of the democratic form of government. He afterwards challenged the members of the M. S. G. with points to consider as members of a student government.

With the three challenging talks to inspire them, the delegates gathered into a discussion group to examine themselves as representatives of the Men's Student Body and their responsibilities therein. The paramount question raised was how to develop closer feeling among the students as members of a group — more esprit de corps, so to speak.

The M. S. G. is not only a policy making body; it also undertakes to see to the carrying out of their policies. This year the enforcement will be more rigorous than it has been in the past.

The final item on the agenda was committee appointments and some interesting committees were formed . . . new ones to this campus; their need has doubtless been felt before and the outcome of their work should be interesting.

Influenza: Will History Repeat

Bulletins, warnings, and predictions from all public health officials caution us to expect an epidemic of influenza in the late fall and early winter. This infection that is supposed to put several million Americans "under the weather" has been dubbed "Asiatic flu." Reports from all parts of the world show that a large percentage of the population of each infected country are feeling the effects of this disease.

FLASHBACK — Guilford Campus was hit by two epidemics of influenza during January, 1918. The following account appeared in The Guilfordian, January 29, 1918: "Since January 10 . . . fifty patients have been successfully cared for in the infirmary. All cases were fortunately light and no serious complications occurred. As the first outbreak was confined entirely to men, this one was almost altogether a feminist movement—only three boys were hospitalized."

Since the first signs of Asiatic flu have appeared, a vaccine has been developed as a preventive measure. However, it is not 100 per cent effective in preventing an attack of the disease, and there is not enough available at the present time for a mass inoculation of the United States.

Doctors have listed the most important measures in warding off an attack of flu as: an adequate amount of rest and sleep, proper diet, avoidance of crowds, and general hygienic procedures.

A report published by Wyeth Laboratories in cooperation with the United States Public Health Service states: "It should be noted that the present disease clinically resembles that of 1947 or 1953, not 1918. We should not frighten people with references to the catastrophe of 1918—but neither should we forget the potentialities."

Ex-Guilfordian Appointed New Alumni Secretary

Gene S. Key of Mt. Airy, has been named Alumni Secretary of Guilford College, Dr. Clyde M. Milner has announced. Key, a 1951 graduate of Guilford, began his new association with Guilford about September 20.

While an undergraduate at Guilford, he received the Alumni Achievement Award and the B. Clyde Shore Journalism Scholarship. He was also editor of the Guilfordian.

Key is a native of Surry County and graduated from White Plains High School. He was in the Navy from 1944 to 1945 with duty in the Hospital Corps at Bainbridge, Md., Ft. Eustis, Va., and Camp Perry, Williamsburg, Va.

In connection with his appointment, which indicates more active organization of the Guilford alumni, Key stated, "I am pleased to be on the campus of Guilford College where I can meet first-hand the future alumni of the school."

His appointment points toward the completion of previously announced alumni goals by 1962 when Guilford College will cele-
