

S.A.B. Endorses Activity Fee Hike

Prisoners Entertain Quakers Tonight

Sponsored By The Monogram Club

First it was the K. K. K., next came the annual Christmas dance, now the Monogram Club is proud to announce and to sponsor for the student body the North Carolina State Prison Variety Show. This show is connected with the Education and Rehabilitation Program at Central Prison. The program is composed of three sections: hillbilly, swing band, and Negro minstrel. The show is two hours long with some of the best music, comedy, dance, and novelty acts to ever come from behind the prison walls. This is considered as North Carolina's number one variety show.

This is not new entertainment for our campus but a return engagement. This same show was on our campus two years ago. The best advertisement the Monogram Club can have is for you to ask the students who saw the show before. Many say that it was, without a doubt, the best performance that has ever been presented in Memorial Hall.

The prisoners, many of whom are serving life sentences, seem to forget it for that night and have only one purpose in mind. That purpose is to present a show that everyone from eight to eighty will enjoy. The prisoners travel all over North Carolina putting on this same program.

The show will begin tonight at eight o'clock. Admission is fifty cents for students and one dollar for adults. The members of the Monogram Club say that each person who attends will, after seeing the show, long remember the night the state prisoners entertained the Quakers.

720 Students Mark Peak Enrollment

WHAT TO WEAR?

The usually accepted idea of a semi-formal is boys wearing suits and girls wearing formals, but Guilford goes by its own set of social rules. At all semi-formal dances here it's quite acceptable for girls to choose between cocktail dresses or formals and for boys to wear suits. The Valentine Dance Saturday night will be semi-formal, so one may dress accordingly.

Working on decorations for tomorrow's Valentine Dance are: (front row) Gaye Burton, Sue Drake, Joyce Hannaum, Tom O'Briant; (second row) Woody Finley, Carolyn Liverman, Gertie Murrow, and Tom Liverman.

Haitian Is Guest Of History Club

The History Club's last meeting featured an address by Dr. George Breathett, native of Haiti and present Head of the History Department at Bennett College. Dr. Breathett was introduced by Dr. E. F. Burrows who briefly outlined his educational career.

In his talk Dr. Breathett traced the turbulent history of Haiti from the days of Spanish domination to its present status as a free republic. He stressed the economic, political, and religious streams in the country's history and enlightened his facts with several personal views and interpretations. He often referred to Haiti as the "Riviera of the Caribbean."

At the conclusion of his address, Dr. Breathett conducted a period of questioning during which he answered many questions on Haiti. The questions posed by the club members were quite varied and covered many different phases of life in Haiti. They were answered fully and very interestingly by Dr. Breathett.

Inter-Collegiate Council Held

Friday, February 7, Guilford College was represented at the monthly meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Council held at WC.

The purpose of this organization which was founded in 1937 is to offer opportunities for discussions by and for college students in the Greensboro area. Topics discussed in the past have pertained to state and federal problems.

The colleges represented in the Council were: A&T, WC, GC, Bennett, and Guilford.

The session began at 7:30 p.m. with a brief business meeting presided by Clarence Benét, a senior at A&T, as temporary chairman. It was decided that the election of officers will take place when the members of the group become better acquainted.

At the termination of the business meeting, a dramatic association at WC presented a play entitled "No Exit."

The next meeting will be held at A&T College.

Brotherhood Week

Tradition of Christians and Jews

By BILL BLOOM

Nationwide observance of Brotherhood Week, sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, will be held February 16-23. President Dwight D. Eisenhower is honorary chairman of the observance. Louis P. Seltzer, editor, Cleveland Press, is national chairman.

We need only to look back over the events of the last year, both at home and abroad, to be reminded forcefully of the continuing need to renew our devotion to the American ideal of brotherhood.

It is to America that the free peoples of the world look for leadership and moral strength. Part of our tradition has been to stand up and be counted whenever and wherever freedom is challenged. And wherever the forces of darkness and oppression threaten the liberties of men, it is to America that the world turns for counsel and assistance.

This tradition has become our responsibility and when we fail at home in any area, it is time to renew our faith in the great virtues of charity and tolerance. We must work hard for that unity and cooperation among all our people that has been a guiding principle of the American democracy.

In the words of Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, president of the National Conference, "Brotherhood Week is essentially a campaign against the prejudices and bigotries that disfigure and distort religious, business, social and political relations."

America is the home of the greatest experiment in liberty ever developed by man. Here we have demonstrated before the world the ability of men and women of good will to live and work together in peace and harmony, regardless of differences in race, creed, or cultural background.

Despite the success of these efforts, there are times when we have failed to measure up. Because of this, it is important that we take inventory from time to time of our position in the struggle for human freedom. Only by doing so can we properly assert the moral force that our neighbors expect of us. It is in the rededication to this cause that we observe Brotherhood Week.

Students Attend Seminar

Five Guilford College students attended a seminar in Washington, D. C., February 5-9. The main topic for discussion at the seminar was "Civil Liberties and Minority Rights." The four-day session featured lectures by various well-known persons in the fields of social science and human relations and conferences and discussions with members of the Senate and House. A visit to Howard University in Washington, D. C., was also included in the program. Dr. Rayford Logan, faculty member of Howard University, delivered a lecture to the group.

Guilford students who attended the Washington Seminar were: Heea Halder, Marilyn Maticic, Claudette Belton, Janet Andrews and Eileen Murray.

Student Body To Vote On Proposed Increase February 25-26

At its monthly meeting Tuesday night the Student Affairs Board endorsed a proposed budget for 1958-59 which calls for an increase in the Student Activities Fee.

The increase, in the amount of $3, will raise the student activity fee from its present $22 to a total of $25. This increase is based on the rising cost of providing facilities and equipment for the various organizations on the campus of Guilford College.

Valentine Dance Is Tomorrow Night

SWEETHEART COUPLE TO BE ANNOUNCED

Tomorrow night in the gymnasium, the Social Committee is sponsoring its annual Valentine Dance, the Sweetheart Ball. The Appalachian College Orchestra, a sixteen-piece band, will render music from 8:30 until 11:15.

Highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the "Sweetheart Couple," a new attraction added this year. A group of couples was nominated for this title by the Social Committee, and from these five semi-finalist couples were chosen by student election in chapels this week. At the dance a panel of faculty members, headed by Mr. Dave Morrah, master-of-ceremonies for the occasion, will make the final decision and announce the "Sweetheart Couple."

This year also the Social Committee has decided to make this dance a flower dance. As usual, it is semi-formal and there is no admission.

The gymnasium will be decorated in the traditional Valentine theme and will feature an original backdrop by Carmen Castillo. There will be a short reception line, headed by Social Committee Chairman Joyce Hannaum. Refreshments will be served during intermission.

Members of the Social Committee are expecting this dance to be well-attended and enjoyed as much as most students enjoyed their last dance, the "House of Blue Lights."

Thoughts on Brotherhood

Believe you are a brother to all men and that all men are brothers to you. You'll like yourself better if you do.—Dinah Shore.

The opportunity to practice brotherhood presents itself every time you meet a human being.—Jane Wyman.

The spontaneous feeling of brotherhood is a mark of human maturity.—Oveta Culp Hobby.

Treat every man as a brother.

Before the raise becomes official, however, three-fourths of the student body must approve the upped rates, along with the approval of the board of trustees. Opportunity to vote on the proposed increase will be given members of the student body at both upperclass and freshman class chapels Feb. 25 and 26.

At this time the student body will be given an opportunity to raise questions concerning the increase in the activities fee and the proposed budget. The results of the vote will be published in the next issue of the Guilfordian.

Benefiting directly from the increased fee will be the following organizations:

The Choir, the Social Committee, the Student Christian Association, Men's and Women's Student Government, International Relations Club, Convocations Committee and the Guilfordian.

First Time

For the first time the Senior Class has been allotted an amount from the Student Activities Fee. It has been proportioned $10 to "use as it sees fit."

At a previous meeting of the budget committee it was decided that "the Men's Student Government and Women's Student Government should receive a $35 increase over last year due to their increase in activities."

Allocations were based on the requests of the organizations and were distributed as closely as possible in accordance with their requests.

Those organizations which had large, unspent balances were allocated funds accordingly.

Previous Request

Several years ago a similar increase in the Student Activities Fee was presented to the student body for approval, but was turned down by a majority vote.

"We hope that the current student body will consent to the increased fee because it will benefit not only the individual organizations, but the student body as a whole," said Douglas Kerr, chairman of the Budget Committee.

The present Student Affairs Board, in its initial decision to request the increase, acted on a recommendation from last year's board members. Their recommendation was to raise the fee to $30, but this year's board members felt that $25 would be sufficient to meet the needs of campus organizations.
