Spring Lake Repairs are Complete

Spring has sprung a leak in the lake and left Millie Marshall and Jo Ann Hanks sitting high and dry on an old water-worn tree stump.

The lake has been drained in order to make improvements which according to Mr. David Parsons, business manager, have been completed.

The bank has been cut down. A retaining wall and cement floor have been built around the non-swimming area. "This will help

TALK ENDS; WORK GETS UNDERWAY ON GUILFORD'S BUILDING PROGRAM

After concerted effort on the part of the Alumni and Business offices and a great many private talks and conferences, the Guilford College Building Program has gone into high gear construction wise.

The architects have received the final "go ahead" signal to complete all essential drawings and specifications for the Religious Education-Auditorium-Music Building to be located where the Music Building and Hobbs Field now are. With this last obstacle overcome it is predicted that the new building will be completed and ready for use by September, 1961.

According to Gene Key, Alumni Secretary, this is nine months ahead of previous hopes. "The dream," he said, "has been voted into construction."

Mr. Charles A. Dana, Sr., New York Industrialist, has donated $700,000 toward this project. The total cost of this building will be $722,000.

Off the local campus, construction has begun of the science extension of the Greensboro Division. This three-story addition to the existing building on Washington Street will provide facilities for physics, chemistry, biology, and special research study on the third floor.

The second floor will be devoted to psychology, language and art laboratories and classrooms; while the first floor will contain special audio-visual classrooms and equipment.

This extension was made possible by another contribution from Mr. Dana of $150,000 on condition that a similar amount be contributed by Greensboro business and industrial leaders.

Construction is expected to be completed so that the addition can be occupied at the beginning of the fall term in 1960.

Mr. Dana has contributed 1/4 million dollars for both projects combined as a challenge gift. A grant of $100,000 has been given by the Reynolds Foundation toward the auditorium-chapel.

A meeting of the administration and student leaders is being planned for the near future to discuss the stipulations for the two foundation grants, so that the faculty and student body will become acquainted with and interested in the project.

Social Committee Plans Activity In Outdoor Recreation Area

To lighten the study-ridden minds of many students and to provide an outlet for much stored up spring fever, the social committee has resumed the evening recreation program at the outdoor recreation area.

The time will be from 6:30 until 7:30 p.m. on Mondays and Thursdays.

Two members of the committee will be there to organize games in volley ball, shuffle board, and horse shoes. Dancing music will be provided, and the lower courts will be available for tennis.

Jim Boles, co-chairman of the committee, in speaking of the program said, "We had this program in the fall and all the students seemed to enjoy it, so now that the weather is pretty again we are going to continue it."

Any suggestions for additional activities should be made to Jim Boles or Lynn Hundley, social committee co-chairmen.

Hayride

Something different is in store for this Saturday night. Plans have been made for a hayride out to the battleground.

The hayride will begin at 8 p.m. Students should meet the wagons in front of the gym. Then, pulled by two tractors and loaded with hay and students, the wagons will roll away.

At the battleground another event is in store — a marshmallow roast. Afterwards there will be dancing. "We hope we will be able to dance at the battleground," said Jimmy Boles, co-chairman of the social committee, "but if we can't, we'll come back to the recreation area."

SSL Delegates To be in Chapel

Guilford College delegates to the 23rd session of the North Carolina Student Legislative Assembly will speak in chapel on May 3 and 4. The session, which was held in Raleigh just before spring holidays, was attended by representatives from approximately fifteen North Carolina colleges.

Summer School Policy Changed

A new policy concerning the transfer of credits for work taken during summer school sessions at other institutions has been announced by Dean Harvey Young.

"Any student wishing credit toward graduation at Guilford College for summer work at another institution or correspondence work must have the approval of his major advisor and the academic dean at Guilford and must do the work in a fully accredited institution," he said.

No credit will be given in a course in which a grade of less than "C" has been earned. Moreover, grades transferred from another college are not considered in computing the quality average at Guilford. The quality average is determined only on work taken at Guilford.

"The reason for this," said Mr. Bill Yates, registrar, "is for the protection of students to assure their courses being accepted."

It is the student's responsibility to request an official transcript of his work to be forwarded to the Registrar at Guilford College.

Betty Lou Chilton Will Give Recital
