

Catalogue File Is Microfilmed By Wachovia

As a free public service the Wachovia Bank and Trust Co. of Greensboro has completed the task of microfilming the 1006 catalogue cards in the Guilford College card catalogue file.

"This service was offered to libraries of the state," said Mrs. Treva Mathis, head librarian, "in order that our holdings can be listed in the Union Catalogue of the Wilson Library at the University of North Carolina."

"Formerly all we have had listed were our Quaker books," she continued. "This will list everything we have which is not available elsewhere."

Any library may request information from the Union Catalogue and then write to the individual library asking to borrow the special material they have. This inter-library service should be especially valuable to seniors working on their theses, Mrs. Mathis pointed out.

Employees of Wachovia Bank put in many extra hours to complete the microfilming of the cards. "Negotiations began August 1 and we received the cards September 1," said Mrs. Mathis. "They did the work between 4 p.m. and 12 p.m. each day because the machine was in use at the bank during the day."

Approximately 40 drawers of catalogue cards have been microfilmed.

Girls Plan Open House

All three girls' dormitories on campus are planning to hold Open House after the Homecoming game on October 8. The dorms will be open between 4 p.m. and 6 p.m.

The girls plan to have the dorms decorated inside and out. They invite everyone to come in.

There will be four poses each, with the women in white velvet drapes—the men in white dinner jackets and black bow ties, both furnished. The remaining two poses will be taken in the type dress the student wishes for job application purposes.

Underclassmen and women will have four poses taken for a sitting fee of $1.25. The men will wear white shirts, dark coats (NO plaids or stripes) and long black ties. The women will be photographed in black velvet drapes.

Pictures are now being taken. Please sign up in the College Union on the sheets on the bulletin board NOW. All men students will be photographed until Friday, Sept. 30. All women will be photographed between Oct. 3 and 7 and may sign up next week.

Please sign up NOW at your convenience while you have the opportunity, and be prompt to your appointment.—Helen Brown, Ed.—Quaker.

5 Professors Join Faculty

Howling, Gelfand, Parrish Reynolds, Burt Are Added

With the beginning of the year five new teachers have joined the Guilford College faculty. Each person fills a position vacated last year.

Robert T. Howling is the new associate professor of English. He received his B.A. degree from Rutgers University, his M.A. degree from New York University, and his Ph.D. degree from Penn State University. While at NYU he was graduate assistant in English. He has been instructor in English at Susquehanna University, and for six years he was associate professor of English and chairman of the department at the American University of Beirut.

Dr. Howling is married and has two children.

The new instructor in the Mathematics Department is a Guilford College graduate, Floyd Reynolds. Mr. Reynolds received his B.S. degree in 1949 and a M.Ed. degree from the University of North Carolina in 1954. He put in additional hours in math at UNC and participated in a National Science Foundation Institute in statistics at Oklahoma State University.

For the past two years Mr. Reynolds has been instructor in Math at Pfeiffer College. He is married and has one child.

Harold E. Gelfand has joined the faculty as instructor in Natural Science II. He received his B.S. degree from City College, New York, and his M.S. degree from the University of Tennessee. He received a good deal of teaching experience in the Army.

Another Guilford College graduate, Mrs. Lottie Stafford Burt, is the new librarian. For the last two summers she has been working on her degree in Library Science at Appalachian State Teachers College. Before coming here Mrs. Burt was acting librarian of Montgomery County Public Library. She has four daughters.

On the sports scene Mr. Clyde Parrish has joined the staff as instructor in Men's Physical Education and basketball Coach. He is a graduate of Presbyterian College and a former Wake Forest College athlete. He has spent eight years in high school teaching and coaching at Aiken, S.C., and Wendell, N. C. During this time he has had many championship teams.

Record Enrollment

Students Flood Campus; 714 Register for Classes

With a record and unexpectedly high enrollment the college campus is fairly "busting at the seams." At the last count the official enrollment was approximately 714. This number included six graduate students.

Practically every available inch of boarding space has been utilized. All dorms are filled to capacity; the infirmary has been in use for the girls, and both the gymnasium and infirmary are being used to house some of the boys. Many other students are staying in homes throughout the Guilford community.

In explaining this crowded housing problem Dean Daryl Kent said, "All schools over-accept due to the multiple applications. Many students apply to four or five colleges so that every college has to count on shrinkage."

"We usually hit it pretty close," he continued, "but this year there wasn't as much drop out as we had anticipated."

According to Dean Kent the upperclassmen caused part of this over-admission problem. Upperclassmen were given readmission blanks last spring with a deadline for returning them. But many of these blanks were slow coming in, and the admissions office had already completed the process of accepting freshmen before many of the upperclassmen reapplied.

Only ten boys were promised rooms who didn't have them the first day. However, all these have now been absorbed into either dorms or the infirmary.

On the girls' side of the campus, Miss Mildred Marlette, dean of women, reports that all dorms are full with one girl in the infirmary and two living in Greensboro with relatives waiting for rooms.

"Only two new girls didn't show up," she said, "and all upperclass girls expected back returned except one."

Despite such a high enrollment and so many students to work with, registration has been termed a success by Mr. Bill Yates, registrar. The new system of pre-registration instituted last year moved students through the business of registration in half the time it has taken in previous years.

In referring to upperclass registration Mr. Yates said, "We closed the doors at 11:30. We had processed 344 at that time."

"Pre-registration certainly helped us in the fall," he continued. "It reduced the number of changes in courses; it provided more stabilized schedules; it helped in ordering books; and it helped expedite the process for upperclassmen."

NEWS FLASH

The names of the ten Dana scholars have just been released. They are Miriam Almaguer, Penny Smith, Linda Shepard, Brenda Alexander, Dora Smith, Jimmy Childress, Maurice Raiford, Douglas Connor, Steen Spove, and Mrs. Doris Walker.

10 Dana Scholarships Are Offered

Charles A. Dana has agreed to provide the following scholarships during the next three years at Guilford College:

1960-61 academic year—10 @ $500—$5,000.00.

1961-62 academic year—20 @ $600—$12,000.00.

1962-63 academic year—30 @ $600—$18,000.00.

Sixteen students are being considered for these scholarships. They will be selected by a committee consisting of Dean Harvey Ljung, Dean Daryl Kent, Dean Mildred Marlette, Dr. E. G. Purdom, Dr. Algie I. Newlin, and Dr. David Stafford, with Dr. Clyde Milner, college president, serving as chairman.

To be eligible for consideration, men and women students must have completed a full academic year or its equivalent as a duly enrolled student at Guilford College. During this year such a student must have demonstrated marked quality of character and evidence of leadership, and have acquired a minimum academic quality average of 2.00. The scholarship committee will make selections from the available candidates after careful study of their complete records and after personal interviews.

A Dana Scholar will receive a scholarship in the amount of the academic tuition and fees charged by the college for that academic year. The scholar will enroll in and attend regularly a two-hour seminar each week during the academic year. At least two professors will be present to direct each seminar. A schedule of professorial and subject assignments will be prepared so that the maximum mutual advantage to both scholars and professors can be realized. The seminar will be on the philosophy of liberal education at Guilford College. The core curriculum, the unity of all knowledge, the college book list, the inter-relationship of assembly and special resource programs with the entire educational program, the interdisciplinary character of learning will be among the subjects considered. The two-hour seminar should carry one academic hour's credit each semester.

A Dana Scholar will serve Guilford College five hours each week, acting as a teaching assistant in his major field, or pursuing some subject or project discussed in detail by the seminar, or planning, directing or leading an assembly or Friday evening program. A Dana Scholar may be reappointed each successive year during his college career, provided the standards are maintained and there is evidence of increasing maturity, of growth in understanding of the total college program and purpose, and of the development of effective leadership.

Charles A. Dana Scholarships establish a new maximum of financial aid and thus supersede and cancel any previous grants.

The first ten Dana Scholars will be selected as soon as possible and will be presented to Mr. Dana at a dinner which is being given in his honor Thursday, October 27th. At this time he will personally award the scholarships.

"The Guilfordian" strongly urges every student whose residence is not in Greensboro to write to the registrar of his home precinct to learn the laws of his state concerning absentee ballots. Do this now if you want to vote in the presidential elections this fall.
