

BEVERLY MOORE --- 1964 MAY QUEEN

MISS BEVERLY JEAN MOORE
Queen of the May

MISS SUSAN LEE BROWN
Maid of Honor

During convocation on Friday, January 3, the 1964 May Court was presented to the student body for the selection of the Queen of the May and her Maid of Honor. The formal presentation was presided over by the president of the senior class, Dan Gregory. With Dan acting as host for the occasion, the ten candidates for the title of Queen of the May were introduced to the students. The ten girls were all from the senior class. They were: Miss Nancy Angotti, Miss Susan Brown, Miss Kay Daniel, Miss Meg Green, Miss Carol Harper, Mrs. Nancy Judd Martin (who was absent for the presentation), Miss Carolyn Kirkman, Miss Beverly Moore, Mrs. Judy Vail Reese, and Miss Jeannine Voss. The ten girls were introduced individually and were escorted by David Miller and Bill Seabrook.

The ballots have been tabulated and the results are known. Miss Beverly Moore, a psychology major from Charlotte, N. C., has been selected Queen of the May. Miss Susan Brown, an elementary education major from Port Washington, Long Island N. Y., has been selected Maid of Honor. These two girls and the remaining eight court members will be honored at the 1964 May Day festivities at Guilford in the spring.

Charter Day Plans Include Transfer of Bird Collection

On Charter Day, January 17, 1964, there was a presentation of the T. Gilbert Pearson bird collection to the Greensboro Historical Museum. Presenting the collection on behalf of the college was Mr. Robert H. Frazier, chairman of the Guilford College Board of Trustees. Mr. A. Earl Weatherly, chairman of the Board of the museum, received the collection on behalf of that institution.

Speaking that evening was Mr. M. A. Linton, the 1964 Ward Lecturer at Guilford College. After the presentation there was a general reception at the museum for those present.

The bird collection, assembled by one of Guilford's alumni, T. Gilbert Pearson, in return for his tuition at Guilford, was transported to the museum by members of the Biophile Club.

Mr. Linton delivered the annual Ward Lecture during a convocation program celebrating Charter Day at 10:30 a.m. in Dana Auditorium on January 17. On Saturday, January 18, at 10:30 a.m., Mr. Linton presented a movie entitled "Birds from Florida to British Columbia" in Dana Auditorium.

No Goose for GC

The Goose has been discontinued by the Student Legislature. The editors of The Goose presented their constitution to last year's legislature for approval as an official campus organization. This petition was approved on a temporary basis for a one-year period. At the end of the year the magazine would be evaluated and it would be decided whether or not The Goose would be allowed to continue in operation. The Goose never did make it to press, however, and it was decided by the Student Legislature on January 9 to discontinue the publication.

Mathis on Library Addition

When the preliminary plans for the proposed addition to the Guilford College Library were displayed on the bulletin board in the library, several students took the time to look at them and to write their comments and suggestions. We appreciate their interest and would like to try to speak of some of the points which were made by them.

Several questioned the size of the addition and felt that we were planning too small with no look at the future growth of the college. No library building is ever designed to seat all of the students at one time. The formula used by consultants and librarians in planning a library is based on a percentage of the total number of students. This was done, using the formula of one-half the size of the student body (850) as prescribed by the board of trustees, or 425 students. Stack space for more than double the present book capacity, or 125,000 volumes, is planned, and room for further expansion of the stacks is also being thought of at this time.

The World Cultural Center was related to the work of the Dana scholars and the consequent publication of the brochure, "An Introduction to the Cultural Resource Program at Guilford College," last fall. It was thought that a room of this kind could be used to emphasize visually as well as orally the curriculum of the college as it interprets a liberal education. It was hoped that a supplementary sum of money above that in the building budget might be secured for this room and for the facade adjoining it. If this is not forthcoming, modifications of the plans will be necessary.

We hope to provide comfortable chairs and more individual study desks throughout the library where such arrangements are feasible. Large tables and straight chairs will be used in some areas. We are also thinking toward the use of color in decorations and furnishings, and expect the total "new look" of the building to be as attractive as our funds will allow.

Several students asked for more books. Apparently they are not aware that we now order an average of over 250 books per month, and that during 1962-63 we accessioned over three thousand books, the largest number ever added in one year in the history of the college. We hope to exceed this number in this academic year. Students and faculty could play a large part in helping us secure the books which are needed to support the curriculum by letting us know what they need, and by anticipating their needs far enough in advance for us to have the books ready for use when they are wanted. We welcome suggestions for book orders at any time.

Treva W. Mathis, Acting Librarian, January 10, 1964.

Gutsells Move In

Mr. James Gutsell, assistant professor of English, will assume the duties of head resident of the New Men's Dormitory beginning this semester. The change is necessitated by the resignation of Dr. Alan Aberbach as head resident of the dorm. Dr. Aberbach relinquished the position in order to devote all of his time to his teaching duties.

Mr. Gutsell and his wife, who are currently living in the Frazier Apartments, will occupy the three-room apartment formerly used by Dr. Aberbach.

The Gutsells are anxious to become better acquainted with the students and to have the opportunity to work and associate with them. Mr. Gutsell is a graduate of the University of the South. He received his M.A. from the University of Connecticut where he was a part-time instructor. In connection with his doctorate, he has completed most of the requirements and spent much of last year in London working on his dissertation. Mrs. Gutsell is a graduate of Swarthmore, and holds an M.A. from the University of Connecticut. She is currently teaching at the Greensboro Division.
