Quakers Play Davidson Tomorrow-Page 7

Union Lounge: Folk Dances Begin Friday

Informal dancing classes will be offered again at Guilford in response to the interest shown by a number of students. The first session of the season is scheduled for Friday, September 26, in the College Lounge, at 7:30 p.m.

This year beginning dances will be emphasized, with basic steps explained. Thus dancers with two left feet can join in, without fear of getting lost, according to Marilyn Neuhauser, graduate student of Leadership will be cooperative. Among the prospective leaders are Marney Gutsell, who has led dancing in summer camps; Dr. Cyrus Johnson the Sociology Department, who is experienced in square who is experienced in square as well as in folk dances; a n d Vicki Wyszynski, Guilford sophomore. Vicki danced this summer with the crack International Folk Dance Group of Chapel Hill. She is qualified to lead many of the dances taped by Charlie White when the Chapel Hill groups danced here last spring.

Both folk dancers and folk dance leaders are welcome, (of any age!) Refreshments will be

Scott To Speak On Leadership For Woman

Dr. Anna Firor Scott will speak in an open forum ses-sion on "Leadership Opportun-ities for Women in America," in the Moon Room tomorrow 10 a.m. This program is open to the entire campus.

During her career Dr. Scott has held a number of positions which enable her to speak with authority on her subject. She has served as a research asso-ciate in foreign policy for the League of Women Voters, and as a congressional representative. From 1966-1968 she was a mem-ber of the President's Advisory Council on the Status of Women. Formerly a lecturer in History at Haverford College, Haverford Pa., she is presently an associate professor of history Duke University, Durham, N.C.

Dr. Scott is the author of many articles and pamphlets dealing with women and their roles, past, present, and future, in American society.

Associate Professor of Economics, Fredrick W. Parkhurst, the newly designated chairman of the Student Affairs Committee.

Bus Serves Tri-Colleges

the Tri-College Consortium is being provided for the first time this fall for students and faculty of Guilford, Greensboro, and Bennett Colleges. The bus primarily serves the students but is also used for exchanging library materials between the Guilford College and the Downtown Division Library and the other libraries in the Consortium.

Plans for a bus service between campuses began with the organization of the Consortium in September of 1968. The need transportation of library materials has been present for many years as the library on the main campus of Guilford is the central processing station for the downtown library also. more students showed a desire colleges, the demand for a bus service increased.

The Volkswagen bus driven by Mr. Harold Bailey and Mrs. Richard Morton runs from 7:55 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday and for two hours Saturday morning. It leaves the circle in front of Duke Memorial at five minutes before each hour and arrives at Odel Auditorium on the Greensboro campus at approximately twelve minutes past the hour. The next stop is the Gorrell Street shelter south of the Bennett campus at nine-teen past the hour. At ap-proximately twenty-six minutes past each hour the bus reaches the downtown campus and from there it returns to Greensboro College before coming back to Guilford. This same schedule is followed each hour with no deviations from the route.

To assure that students with off-campus classes do not miss the bus, professors who hold classes longer than the sche-duled time must allow these students to leave at the regular

Priority for the bus service is given to students regularly enrolled in one of the colleges belonging to the Consortium or to students taking classes at another college. Other students and faculty members may use the bus if space is available.

The Guilfordian

Government.

Hulburt states, "The student editorial opposed the legislature's decision to require at-tendance at a limited number of legislature is certainly democratic, the way the bill was passed was democratic, but the editorial implied that it wasn't fair. If the bill is brought up again and defeated, I think it will be because of the editorial, which is too bad, because it

Hulburt has mixed feelings

"I don't know whether it's on required convocations, statgood to require people to go ".

However, he feels that some programs are of such impor-tance to the student body as a convocations.

is misleading."

Hulbert Attacks 'Unfair' Story

The editorial appearing in last week's GUILFORDIAN is "misleading, unfair, and

CU Schedules Week's Events

Scheduled events presented by the College Union for this ek include two films, a dance and a football game.

On Monday, September 22, the first of the Vintage Film Series will be shown in Dana Auditorium at 7:15. Another film, "The Flim Flam Man," is scheduled for Wednesday, September 24 at 8:00 p.m., also in Dana. Both films are free to Guilford students.

The Inmen Limited have been engaged to play at a dance to be held Friday, September 26 in the cafeteria from 8:00 until 12:00. The Union's week of scheduled events will close with Saturday's football game with Elon College. The game will be played at Elon.

The inspection of student biased," according to Dan Hul-bert, President of Guilford's Student Government. The identification card numbers at meals will continue for the rest of the academic year. Tony Lioce, cafeteria manager said Monday.

The inspection of numbers is

I.D. Card Check

a safeguard against non-resident students who attempt to eat at the cafeteria without paying. If this were allowed to continue, as it did last year, the Cafeteria would exceed its budget. As a consequense it could not provide adequate

"Letting non-boarding persons eat free could mean the difference between simple casserole and a fancy meal". Mr. Lioce said. "I just feel that those who paid board should get their money's worth."

Students are advised to bring their identification cards to all meals and to take special care

Conservatives Endorse Plan For 'Crisis'

A seven-point program of attack against what they term "the campus crisis," has been endorsed by North Carolina leaders of the conservative student group, Young Americans for Freedom (YAF).

The plan was formulated this weekend at the 1969 North Carolina Freedom Offensive Leadership Training Conference conducted in Durham at the Durham Hotel. About 30 representatives of the North Carolina Young Americans for Freedom attended the twoday conference. The plan as adopted calls for:

Legal action against students who disrupt normal campus activities, and against college administrators administrators who do not protect all students' civil rights.

Investigations of student governments which allot activity fees for radical student groups. Encouragement of constructive changes in through peaceful means.

Upholding all persons' rights to free speech.

Protection of Protection of property threatened by student revolutionaries.

Support for "responsible" persons running for student government positions.
Attempts to establish con-

Actempts to establish con-tacts with black students dissat-isfied with "liberal" ap-proaches to their problems. Realizing that liberalism has failed to solve their problems and, in fact, has often made them worse.

RESIDENT ASSISTANTS ATTEND WORKSHOP

Last Sunday afternoon the Assistants attended in New Garden workshop Hall. The purpose of the work-shop, according to James Malone, Head Resident of Milto "stimulate and excite the R.A.'s, about

Instead of the athletic cards of the past, this year's student ID Card will admit each Guilford student to the entire S-game home football schedule with begins tomorrow night which Greensboro Stadium. Present your ID Card at the gate for the school". It was the first such workshop for the since the program began

Guilford three years ago.
Students heard speeches by Al Wheeler, Director of Development; Cliff Lowery, Director of Student Activities; Dr. William Burris, Academic Dean and Bruce Stewart, Director of the Richardson Program. The speeches were designed to inform the students about the different programs of the college and of their responsibilias Resident Assistants, dinner for the students was served in the cafeteria following the presentation.

CONVOCATION: ISSUE AT MON. MEETING

The Student Legislature's controversial convocation requirement is among issues expected to be raised at its first meeting.

This meeting is scheduled for September 22 at 6:30 p.m. in the Leake Room.

Under legislature rules, all interested students may attend its meetings and participate in discussions. However, only legislature members may vote.