Drinking Petition Passed

The Guilford College Student Government Monday voted to approve House Council Resolution No. 1, which condemns the present college policy towards drinking and recommends that the use of alcoholic beverages by students be permitted immediately.

The resolution stated that the House Council "strongly condemns the present college policy concerning the possession and usage of alcoholic beverages on the college campus as a most un-Quakerly act of intolerance and also as an act of unwarranted intervention in the lives of Guilford College students."

The resolution also stated that use of alcoholic beverages be made "immediately permissible."

The resolution, supported by the mens dormitories and the Student Government, now goes to the women's student council for approval.

The resolution will be taken to the Board of Trustees and presented as an expression of student feeling.

VIETNAM MORATORIUM

In other legislature business the legislators voted "as individual members of Legislature" to express approval of the upcoming Vietnam Moratorium on October 15.

Pulitzer Winner To Speak Mon.

Robert Ward, Pulitzer Prize winning composer, will deliver a lecture Monday, October 13, at 3:30 p.m., in the Union lounge.

The lecture, "Artistic Discipline and Creativity," will be based on his opera, The Crucible, for which he was awarded The Pulitzer Prize in Music and The New York Music Critics Circle Citation.

The composer will explain how he got the ideas for the opera based on Arthur Miller's play, The Crucible.

In describing the steps of writing the libretto, composing the music, and staging the opera, Mr. Ward will use excerpts from the recording of the opera.

SCHOOL OF THE ARTS

Robert Ward is the president of the North Carolina School of the Arts.

Founded by former governor Terry Sanford, this is the first state-supported school of the arts in the United States. Sanford's objective in establishing the school was to keep Southern talent in the South.

Mr. Ward's dream is to expand the school until it has a ballet corps, a symphony orchestra, and a repertory theatre which will tour the world.

JUILLARD GRADUATE

After receiving degrees from the Eastman School of Music and Juillard Graduate School, Mr. Ward worked for several years with Aaron Copeland.

He is a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters and has taught at Columbia University, Juillard School of Music and the Third Street Music School Settlement.

In addition to the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Music Critics Circle Citation, Mr. Ward has been awarded two Guggenheim fellowships.

Mr. Ward also heads the Sienna Summer Session of the School of the Arts, which is a school comparable to Tanglewood in Massachusetts.

Athletes Backed By Blacks

PLANS COMPLETE FOR MORATORIUM

The student legislature passed a resolution in support of the Vietnam Moratorium during the October 6 meeting.

A non-political statement, the resolution reads, "We the individual members of the student legislature express approval of the Vietnam Moratorium as held at Guilford College."

The members of the legislature recognize the need of an opportunity for discussion of the different aspects of the Vietnam war.

The activities for Moratorium day, October 15, begin with professors leading discussions of the war in their morning classes.

A worship service for World Peace will be held from 11-11:40 a.m. in New Garden Friends Meeting house.

Students are invited to participate in the weekly vigil at the courthouse from 12-1 p.m.

Discussions and workshops are scheduled from 1:30 until 2:30 p.m. Some of the workshops planned are on draft counseling and anti-war music.

Some teachers whose classes relate to the war are opening their classes to interested students.

A speakout will be held at Founders from 2:30 until 4 p.m. and at 4 p.m. a guerilla warfare drama will be presented.

An organized march will begin at 6:30 in Hamburger Square and proceed to Fisher Park. Students who need transportation to the march may contact Pat Shope or Sue Singleary in Hobbs Hall.

ART SERIES: BAND AND NEWSCASTER

The Guilford College Arts Series will present the Preservation Hall Jazz Band (above) on October 16.

The band is on tour from its home in New Orleans where the members took part in the birth of the most American art form--jazz.

David Schoenbrun, award-winning CBS news correspondent, will be presented by the Guilford College Arts Series October 15.

In 1967 Schoenbrun made a trip to Hanoi. He reported his trip in "Journey to North Vietnam."

Unique in American letters, he utilizes every modern means of communication--radio, television, magazines, books, the classroom and the lecture platform.

A small group of black students Tuesday staged an orderly demonstration in front of New Garden Hall. The approximately 20 students demanded that basketball Coach Jerry Steele's directive that all basketball players wear short hair styles be rescinded.

The group felt that since Black identity and Black pride were involved, the matter was of special concern to Black students.

Tuesday morning a delegation of 6 Black students discussed the issue of hair styles with Coach Steele. They received an unsatisfactory response.

As a result, the students met Tuesday afternoon on the steps of New Garden Administration Building to discuss the situation. Dr. Grimsley Hobbs deliberated with Coach Steele for approximately 1 hour, while the students awaited his reply.

Dr. Hobbs then gave a statement (see below) to Napoleon Jasper, spokesman for the group, who read it to the students waiting outside the building. After hearing the statement, the group of students immediately dispersed.

Coach Jerry Steele, in commenting to THE GUILFORDIAN, said that he conferred with the basketball players individually. Although he feels his obligation to the team prevents his releasing details, he believes that communication has not broken down.

Pres. Hobbs' Hair Policy

In response to the request for information concerning Black hair styles at Guilford College:

Guilford College's policy of longstanding is that all who represent the college are responsible to be well groomed and to represent the college in such a way as to reflect credit upon it.

It was in keeping with this policy that Coach Steele asked the basketball team to trim their hair. It is, however, understood that certain hairstyles are associated with a feeling of Black pride and Black identity. So long as these styles are kept neatly, Guilford's Black students are permitted to wear Afro hair styles and a reasonable amount of facial hair, and to participate on Guilford's athletic teams if they otherwise qualify in terms of the skills involved.
