

Individuals Stand Out

Don Cupit headed a list of Quaker football players who contributed solid efforts Saturday afternoon despite a complete smothering as a team by Carson - Newman, shattering school and conference records as he floated a 51 yard field goal down the field with feet to spare. The senior soccer style booter barely missed a 52 yard attempt very late in the game. In breaking the league record formerly held by Guilford grad Mike Stewart, Cupit finally fulfilled the preseason expectations of those who were harping on the reputation he brought with him from VMI. A steady placement job by Chris Culpepper aided Cupit somewhat. In earlier games the specialist had missed partly due to poor placements.

Also on the offense, James Stanley picked up 89 yards, setting his game average at 62.7 and his yearly total of yardage at 439. The senior gained 237 in eight games last year.

Three members of the Quaker secondary picked off passes to raise the team's season total to ten. George Ladikos and John Troutman each intercepted their first, and standout safety John Bryant collected his third. On the other side of the slate, Butch Foley relinquished five of his passes to Carson-Newman, which makes nineteen Guilford has given up.

Alert sophomore line-backer Charles Swahn recovered two fumbles, and Bob Carlson and Bryant got two more. Despite forcing those seven turnovers, the Quaker defense never had a chance versus the massive and stunning Eagle personnel.

Carson - Newman battered a good many of the Quakers, but as of midweek only defensive end Gary Chantry appeared unable to play for the Catawba game. The junior suffered his second painful shoulder separation of the season.

Catawba, this week's foe, upset Wofford last week but before that had only been stumbling along. Guilford has been alternating between stumbling and kicking itself in the teeth only occasionally walking erect. There are no predictions as to Saturday's outcome.

Shore Girls Win Volleyball

The women of Shore Dorm left not a doubt about their superiority after the completion of the WRA's volleyball season recently, compiling an 8-2 record while sweeping the student crown. A faculty-staff contingent proved strong enough to tie the Shore girls record, but Hobbs, Binford, Founders, and 68 placed behind Shore in that order as the staff record does not count in standings.

Having exhausted the volleyball schedule, teams from Binford, Founders, Hobbs and Shore are presently engaged in flag football, which started last Wednesday. At present there are no favorites.

For individualists the Recreation Association has already held a tennis intramural tournament, won by Jenny Rawlings, with an 8-3 record. She prevailed over Marsha Wilson, who finished second, and Nancy Georgiade in third.

Ping pong competition is soon to be commenced. Both singles and doubles competition will be held for those who are interested. Tennis had a good turnout of twenty-three women, and the ping pong field should be large also.

Harriers Place 2nd in District

Mark Putnam and Jesse Corum led Guilford to its second consecutive number two finish in District 25 cross-country action last Saturday, finishing once again behind High Point. The Panthers' elite team took four of the top five places while compiling a score of eighteen to Guilford's forty-four.

Putnam was fourth in the field, and Corum was sixth, the only two non-Panther finishers among the top seven. Jon Hiratsuka took ninth for the Quakers, Jack English was eleventh, and Charles Thibaut and Gordon Pettit came in sixteenth and eighteenth to complete the scoring.

Elon had two men in the top ten while compiling a total of 58. Catawba also participated but did not have enough men to rate a final score. Mike Turmala set a new course record of 25:54 as the sophomore Panther finished thirty-six seconds ahead of a teammate. Guilford coach Ken Bailey had held the old record. Putnam for Guilford had one of his better times, 27:30, and Corum completed the race in 30:06.

Guilford will run in the NAIA Area meet Saturday afternoon at High Point for its last team action of the year.
