

Senate: Danas, Bus, N.S.L., and Shore

Eleven people convened in Founder's parlor at 6:00 P.M. on Tuesday evening for the weekly Community Senate meeting. Following a brief moment of silence, president Bill Fleming reminded those in attendance of the upcoming elections runoff, the South Asian festival and the provisions being made to fete the basketball team. Nominations of students to both the Selections committee and the Dana Scholarship committee are being welcomed. Any student with a 2.0 cumulative quality point average is eligible to receive a scholarship and may be nominated by any community member for such an award. Nominations should be submitted to Don Woodside, Dr. Purdon, or Bob Willis of the downtown campus by April 4, 1973.

Announcement of the new shuttle bus weekend service was made. The bus will be running for the next three weekends. For details regarding this trial arrangement, any interested student should contact either Bill Fleming or Ann Sager.

Elizabeth Zulick reported to the group on the National Student Lobby conference held a week ago in Washington, D. C. The three-day affair was attended by Beth, Robert Losco, and Bill Fleming, and consisted largely of legislative seminars - workshop studies, lobbying procedural instruction, and opportunities for discussion with Congressmen. All N.S.L. newsletters and circulations have been placed on file in the library for interested students.

Three hundred dollars was awarded to the Union for a joint activities banquet to be held in April for campus leaders and the generally concerned.

Senate elections will be held in the fall and the Shore proposal for the rehabilitation of that facility into a realistic co-educational situation is awaiting further discussion by the Board of Trustees when it convenes later on this Spring.

Students are reminded that the Senate convenes weekly at 6:00 P.M. on Tuesday in Founders parlor. The meetings are open to all.

And remember: If you don't vote, you can't bitch.

Alarmist Nabbed

Police were called after a Milner fire alarm was pulled by an off-campus student last Sunday night. They booked the offender, who was subsequently released on $100 bond and who will stand trial for turning in a false alarm.

N.C. Civil Liberties Proposals Face GA.

by Gordon M. Thomas

The North Carolina Civil Liberties Union recently announced legislative recommendations that have been or will be made to the 1973 N.C. General Assembly.

Briefly summarized, the proposals provide for:

The abolition of corporal punishment in the Public schools except in extreme, well-defined situation involving quelling a disturbance, confiscating weapons, self-defense or protection of persons or property.

That students in all public schools, state-supported institutions of higher learning, and private institutions accepting state aid be accorded their rights to all due process procedures guaranteed under the U.S. Constitution in suspension - expulsion proceedings.

Opposition to any move to reinstate capital punishment.

That juveniles be granted basic legal rights. (This proposal has not yet been completed).

Support for a Bill of Rights for prisoners, including freedom of religion, the right to receive uncensored publications, access to courts and to the media, due process of law before punishment for an infraction of prison rules, and the right to vote in elections.

Ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment.

Removal of criminal penalties for the manufacturing possession, use, and sale of marijuana, except sale to minors under 18.

The removal of criminal penalties for sexual relations between consenting adults.

Major changes in voting rights, including absentee voting in all primaries and general elections, a system of voter registration by post cards furnished by the government, permission for students to vote in the city or county where they attend school, and allowing employees to have time off from work with pay in order to vote.

Allow individuals to be heard in administrative agencies and in the courts when proposing measures to protect the environment.

An extension of rights of public employees to participate in collective bargaining.

Support for legislation providing limitations to police use of firearms.

Legislation supporting basic human rights for patients in mental hospitals as well as other civil liberties aspects not yet completed.

Support for a strong and efficient state anti-discrimination statute.

Support for legislation requiring recorded votes and open meetings in the N.C. General Assembly.

Support for a state constitutional amendment permitting registered voters between the ages of 18 and 21 to seek and hold elective public office.

Selections For Judicial Board

The Selections Committee for the Campus Judicial Board has announced that Ana Azcuay and Don Yelton have been chosen to serve as alternates to the Board for the remainder of this year.

Final selections for Judicial Board members for next year have not yet been made. All campus organizations are therefore encouraged to consider their own members for possible applicants, in order to insure a broader base of representation among potential Board members.

Blacks Not Militant, According To Peers

Storrs, Conn. (I.P.) Only 10 per cent of the nation's black college students are militant in the eyes of their peers. This finding is one of many reported in a survey conducted by a University of Connecticut assistant dean of students.

When asked if the militants were in control, Dean James Lyons noted, the respondents were evenly divided. Twenty-seven per cent said yes, and the same number said no. Perhaps more telling than the percentages were some sample comments:

"No, our black leadership group is responsible and seems interested in maintaining high academic records."

"No, the group in control appears energetic, responsible and goal-oriented."

No, our militants for the most part are angry young men and only one or two have any real problems."

"No, the group in control appears to reflect mature judgment and leadership."

"No, the group in control are moderates who are working hard to build something good."

"No, our control group is just damned committed and concerned."

Perhaps equally interesting was Dean Lyons' survey conclusion that it is not the liberal Northeast schools which are taking the lead when it comes to admitting blacks. He found that the Midwest compiled the best record here with the East tied with the West for third.

Dean Lyons reported the greatest agreement among his respondents occurred when queried on black studies programs and the need for more black teachers. Sixty-seven of 68 campuses concurred on these two goals.

Dean Lyons also found evidence that the larger a black student community on campus the smaller the participation of individuals in black organization programs.

"In those schools where there are fewer than one hundred blacks, most of them are actively involved in the organization. When the number goes above this figure, participation declines. This can be explained in several ways," he stated.

First, he said, the larger the group the greater the likelihood of conflict. Then, he continued, as the numbers grow, communications become a problem. Finally, he found that the larger populations often give birth to second and even third black student organizations.

Although Dean Lyons does not address himself to the possibility, it appears that a similar phenomenon and set of circumstances exists in the white student community.

The U of C black administrator also pointed out that 62 out of 68 campuses surveyed had black student organizations with the most popular names - "Black Student Organization", followed by "Black Student Union".

Regarding black leadership, Dean Lyons observed that one-third of his respondents believed that the most articulate students were the ones who acquired the mantle of leadership.

"They were not always the best leaders, but possessed the 'rap' necessary to keep the organization moving." The student leaders were reported by nearly one-fourth of the campuses as being in academic difficulty. This was attributed to the time required to handle leadership responsibilities.

To The Editor

March 7, 1973

To The Editor:

There are 165 courageous people at the Dow Chemical plant in Bay City which has been on strike for 14 months. They would like to enlist the aid of your newspaper and members of the student body so that we may survive. Dow Chemical is using its unlimited resources in an attempt to destroy us economically and eliminate the collective bargaining process of our Local Union which is 14055 of the United Steelworkers.

Many workers and their families have suffered unlimited hardships in the loss of income and personal property which they have had to sell in order to feed their families because Dow Chemical refuses to resolve an unjust labor dispute provoked by Dow Chemical and its local management.

In the interest of humanity we ask that you print this letter in your college paper and that the student body aid us by refusing to buy Handi-wrap plastic food wrap and Ziploc bags which are made at the Bay City plant.

If there are individuals or groups on campus who would like to aid us in this humane endeavor, please contact me at the address which is given below. We request that they boycott the above mentioned products which are produced by Dow Chemical in Bay City and by any other aid or activities which may aid our cause.

Thank you,
 Martin Schwerin Local 14055

Run-off Election

There will be a run-off for Senate Executive Council between the Mattheson-Zulick-Forman and Rice-Lathrop-Haddad tickets all day Monday, March 26, in the small dining room.

Education Aid To Be Cut

Students are urged to write their Senators and Congressmen to ask them to support federal appropriations for direct grants to students, direct low interest loans, and grants to colleges to provide jobs for students. These programs have recently come under fire from the administration, and Congressional support is mandatory if they are to continue.
