Students Arrested On Drug Charges

Some of Milner's residents were rudely awakened early Tuesday morning as city police executed a well-planned drug bust. Arrested were William Brigman, charged with possession of two ounces of marijuana for distribution and possession of marijuana; John Wescott, charged with possession for distribution of one ounce of marijuana and possession of marijuana; Steve Gallagher, charged with possession of marijuana and possession of distribution; John Taylor, charged with possession and distribution of 10 grams of hashish, possession and distribution of one gram of cocaine and possession of amphetamines; Bartley Tuthill, charged with possession and distribution of one ounce of marijuana; Luciano Blanton, charged with possession and distribution of one ounce of marijuana and conspiracy to violate narcotics laws; Richard Goldman, possession and distribution of one ounce of marijuana; John Meyler, charged with possession and distribution of marijuana; and Antonio Salame, of Chile, was arrested at Market and Eugene Streets early Tuesday morning and charged with possession of one pound of marijuana, possession of marijuana and possession and distribution of one ounce of cocaine.

Bond was originally set at $1000 for each charge against each of those arrested, except for Salame, whose bond was $76,500. Meyler's bond was raised to $5000 when he appeared before a judge, for reasons which are unclear. Only Gallagher, Meyler and Salame remained in jail late Tuesday, the others having managed to post bond.

Recycling Finale

On Saturday, April 21, the Biophile Club plans to completely clean out its recycling collection center in the basement of Cox Hall. Therefore, it is necessary to close down all collection centers now operating on campus in the dormitories and administration buildings. Volunteers are asked to remove all paper, bottles and cans by Wednesday, April 18. The Biophile Club will not be responsible for any material that collects in these places after this date.

Anyone interested in helping the Biophile Club in its year-end cleaning is asked to meet at the basement of Cox Hall on Saturday at 8:00 in the morning. It has been rumored the day's activities will prove to be enjoyable for all of those involved.

The Biophile Club also wishes to take this time to thank all students and faculty members who have conscientiously taken advantage of our campus recycling services. We hope to continue such services next year based on this response.

The raid evidently came after extensive undercover work by police. According to several reports the police completely surrounded Milner between 2 and 4 a.m., then calmly went around collecting whom they wanted. Ray Moody, head resident of Milner, was contacted as a courtesy but by then the die had been cast. All members of the Guilford Administration deny prior knowledge of the bust and in an interview Tuesday afternoon, Dean Gottschall stressed that the school policy for dealing with drug offenders is to turn them over to the campus judicial process, not to call the police. When the police come on campus, however, there is no way that the school can legally interfere. Gottschall also said that all of those arrested were still considered students at Guilford College and no action is planned against them by the college, at this time, although such action is theoretically possible, according to the Pathfinder.

(Alan Socal gives his account of the bust and the reaction on page two.)

Two New Faculty Members

Guilford College will have two new members joining the faculty and community next August. O. Ted Benfey from Earlham College, in Indiana will become the Chairman of the Chemistry Department, and David F. MacInnes, Jr. from Westtown School in Pennsylvania will be an assistant professor of chemistry.

O. Ted Benfey received his Bachelor of Science and Ph. D. at University College in London, England. He has been at Earlham College since 1956, and is married with three teenage boys and one twelve year old girl. Benfey has written four books, Classics in Theory of Chemical Combination, Dover 1963, From Vital Force to Structural Formulas, Houghton Miffline 1964, Names and Structures of Organic Compounds, Wiley 1966 and Introduction to Organic Reaction Mechanisms, McGraw Hill 1970. He translated Ernst Cassirer's "Determinism and Indeterminism in Modern Physics" Yale 1956, and has been published in many journals. Professor Benfey is a member of quite a few organizations, The American Civil Liberties Union, the American Chemical Society, History of Science Society, American Association of University Professors, Society for Social Responsibility in Science, and the Society of Friends (delegate to Friends World Conference, Oxford, 1952, Guilford, N. C. 1967).

Rule Clarification From S.A.C.

Because the PATHFINDER has not been completely reprinted in the last two years, the Trustees' policy change regarding the use of beverage alcohol has not been easily accessible to us in print. We would like to call the attention of everyone to the specific provisions of the Trustees' policy.

Beverage alcohol may be used only in one's private room within the residence hall. Its use elsewhere on campus is in violation of both North Carolina state law and of the Trustees' policy. Putting the beverage in an unmarked container, e.g., papercup, is illegal also for the restriction is on the use of the alcohol in all but the one authorized location.

The Student Affairs Committee would urge everyone to read the Quaker Testimony regarding alcoholic beverages which is printed in the PATHFINDER. We solicit a sensitive awareness of the testimony.

Appalachian Seminar

Students in Sociology and other related fields interested in the study of Appalachia are invited to meet with Bob Johnson and Andy Gottschall to plan an off-campus seminar for the Fall of 1973.

The first organizing meeting will be held in the small dining room of the College Dining Hall on Tuesday, April 17 at 12:00 noon.

Areas of study already considered as possibilities are those that deal with the human and environmental effects of strip mining, the nature of the institutions of the region which encompass the family, religion, education, social services, health, economics and politics.

For two years he has acted as clerk for the Clear Creek Meeting in Richmond, Indiana.

David F. MacInnes, Jr. will become an assistant professor of chemistry and the new resident coordinator of English Dormitory. He received his B.A. from Earlham College and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Princeton University. He is currently a chemistry teacher and chairman of the Science department at the Westtown School in Pennsylvania where he has been since 1970. He is married. His field is inorganic chemistry.

Arts For War Relief

Pottery made by Guilford student Laura Bolger will be on sale during the Arts and Crafts display Saturday, April 14.

On exhibit also in front of Dana will be candles by Ben Matkins, Rockingham Community college students. Ben is not only a master candle maker, but is active in the Vererans Against the War in Indochina.

Homes without their own child-artist-in-residence will have a chance to get children's art at the display of work of grade school students of the New Garden Friends' School according to the instructor, Dorothy Streeter.

A special feature of the affair will be a chance to participate in the making of a mural. Passers-by may participate by expressing ideas and feelings in a pop art mural.

Another unique event will be Guilford's own Good Will, featuring used clothing and white elephant items. Donations to be re-cycled can be left with Peg Hartzell, Mary Hobbs Dorm. For pickup service, call Marilyn Neuhauser, 294-0477.
