

Field Hockey

Ends Season

In case you haven't already heard, Women-Sport has a new team out on the field this year: field hockey. Maybe you've noticed the hard/working group practicing out in the field by New Garden in the evening. These Quakers opened their season on Sept. 25 with a match at Averett College. A quick moving offense and a sound defense resulted in a tie of 1-1. The next day, the team traveled to High Point, where Guilford's novices were met by a more experienced team. The Quakers took the defeat 0-2. Fall Break and no practice with the new offensive strategy took its toll as the hockey team contested with Averett College on Oct. 22. On the home field the fatigued Quakers took the short end of the score 0-6. On Oct. 24, the Quakers once again played here at Guilford, this time competing against the powerful Salem team. Despite a valiant fight, the Quakers took the loss 0-0-5.

Supervisor Kitty Steele and Assistant Coaches Leslie Clarke, Sherrie Flynt, and Cathy Hokum from UNC-G expect excellent prospects for the next season. When they will have a strong core of experienced players as well as an influx of new freshmen. The team's experienced players include Jane Wilbourne and Kathy Stengle, with Flo Smith and Hunter David as co-captains.

They are joined by their teammates, Carolyn Davis, Beth Donaldson, Velina Hammond, Barbara Johnson, Mary Beth Keller, Annette King, Simone McDonald, Lynn Ozello, Elizabeth Parker, and Janet Waggener.

Women's Tennis

The Women's Varsity tennis team is trying something new this year: a split season. About half of their matches have been played these past few weeks, and the complement of the matches will be played in the spring. The Quakers had a real exciting season with these outcomes: on a chilly Sept. 23, Campbell College slid by the Quakers on the home court 5-4. Beautiful weather proved a catalyst for the Carolina J-V's as they hosted the Guilford team in a match on Oct. 1. The outcome was 8-1. The following day the Quakers were back on the road, traveling to Meredith College, in an exciting match, the winning team was not decided until the last game when Janet Boyles and Jean Roueche won their doubles contest. The outcome was 5-4. On Oct. 8 Meredith came for revenge and turned the Quakers over 3-6. The Quakers traveled to Campbell minus two anchor players on Oct. 25. They took the short end of the score 3-6.

This year's starting five at the present time include: Janet Boyles, Jane Wilbourne, Jean Roueche, Cyd Atkins and Kelly Erickson.

Cyd and Kelly, who are freshmen, have made an invaluable addition to the team this year, says Coach Steele.

Varsity Volleyball

The Women's Varsity Volleyball team has made some improvements this year, and have a smashing record of 11-6 thus far. The season was wrapped up with the last game at home on Wed. Oct. 30. Teams defeated by the super hitters are Meredith (twice), Pembroke (twice), St. Andrews (twice), UNC-Charlotte (once), UNC-Asheville (twice), Lenoir-Rhyne (once) and Queens (once). The strong teams of Wake (twice), UNC-Chapel Hill (twice), and Elon (once) have kept our Quakers from a perfect season. Queens and UNC-Charlotte were the opponents

in the final match

The Women's Varsity Volleyball team travels to Pembroke State University on Friday morning, Nov. 1, to participate in the state tournament. They have entered in the "B" section of the contest and will be playing 7 other teams, 5 of whom have been defeated by the Quakers already. The remaining two teams in the "B" section have not yet met with the mighty Quakers, but when they do, watch out! Coach Gayle Currie feels confident that her team will fare well in the matches, as they are slated first in their section.

Davidson College provides the competition for this year's homecoming encounter. The last time these two teams met was back in 1969 and the Wildcats won 21-8. That was the same year that Davidson played in the Tangerine Bowl.

This year is a little different for both teams. The Wildcats won their first of the year by nipping Hampton Sydney last week, a team which Guilford had defeated earlier. The Quakers, of course, slaughtered Randolph Macon last week 42-7.

The Wildcats are lead by their quarterback Dave Harper. Harper was one of the top five yardage leaders in passing last year in the NCAA. He usually throws to end Gary Pomoroy, the leading receiver in the Southern Conference.

"We are about equal with Davidson in size and team speed, although their backfield is a little bigger than ours," said coach Dennis Haglan. "If we get behind in the score we're going to be in trouble because they make very few mistakes."

At halftime of the game, five men will be inducted into the Guilford Hall of Fame. They are Thell B. Overman (basketball, football, and track), James Bunn (football and baseball), John Meroney (two time football all-american), Jack Tilley (twice president of the Quaker club) and the late William Linsey (baseball). Kickoff is scheduled for 2:00.

Guilford lost its second game of the year the week before when Mars Hill got two chances to win on long field goals late in the game. After missing on a 56 yarder, Guilford was called for being offside. The five yard penalty was all that was needed as the 51 yard attempt split the uprights.

"It's funny how fate works," said a disappointed Guilford coach Dennis Haglan. "Against Gardner Webb we win on a field goal, last week (Catawba) we had two chances to win but instead we tied. And now this."

Haglan was in better spirits after Guilford had manhandled the homestanding Hornets. "It was nothing less than a team effort," he beamed. "Watson had a good day throwing the ball and Paphities was super catching it. Whitley ran tough."
