Rains catsup

(CPS) — While other city dwellers choke on pollution, some Oakland, Ca. residents wash catsup out of their hair instead.

Government air pollution experts has found that it sometimes rains catsup near a cannery in East Oakland. Coming into contact with steam clouds of residues emitted from the factory is like brushing into a large wad of cotton candy, according to Bay Area Air Pollution Control engineers.

Pollution Engineer Don Gibson said that the steam "looks like catsup, but it tastes like sugar, a sort of sugary catsup."

After walking into the cloud, he said, "My hair was sticky. I had to wash it out as soon as I got home."

In the past few months a new fad, probably one of the silliest yet, pie throwing, has hit the U.S. One organization Pie Face International, has two agents who are paid $35 for each pie thrown. Time magazine on March 10 published an article on the Pie Throwers LTD. According to the article 60 pies have successfully hit their victims in the Los Angeles Area from Pie Face International. Another organization of Pie throwers, Pie-Kill Unlimited, states their group strives for four goals 1) to stamp out pomposity 2) uphold the virtues of surprise, randomness and chaos 3) wreak lighthearted havoc whenever and wherever possible 4) get away with it. Besides these groups there are many others who have had successful hits. Sounds like an easy way to make money.
