

Concert Review

Rod Abernathy at Coffeehouse

For all you concert goers, the Student Union is presenting a very talented musician this Saturday night in the Coffeehouse. Rod Abernathy, playing six and twelve string guitars and piano, is apt to impress you with his instrumentals and his vocals. His first LP, Solo is a collection of his finest original work and has been selling well throughout this area. His appearances in nightclubs from here to Raleigh have been very well received and have given this musician quite a following. This could well be one of his last Solo performances, so catch him now! The show will begin at nine o'clock this Saturday night in the Grill Room. Admission is free and there will be free refreshments served. Come early for this special evening with Rod Abernathy.

Lariat Sam Goes Off Well

Again Lariat Sam came to Guilford with their fine, smooth country rock sound. Playing to a packed Sternberger audience, Lariat Sam performed tunes by the Eagles, Jesse Colin Young, and others along with some excellent originals like "County Line". With their uncommonly good harmonies and tight guitar work, Lariat Sam produced some excellent music for everyone's pleasure. The Union would like to thank all those who made the concert such a success.

Women's Center For Women and Men

The Guilford College Women's Center has an ambitious purpose — to educate both men and women, to unify women, and increase communication. The actual office lends itself to these goals in that our resources are numerous, ranging from health to law to women's education. We have many ideas for this semester; however, the group is small. Therefore, we urge you to participate in whatever capacity or interest you may have.

The following is a list of activities that we're keeping in mind:

- ★ Discussion groups on topics like alternative lifestyles, abortion, and the E.R.A.
- ★ films, concerning women and directed by women

★ Womansprouts, an anthology of poetry by Guilford women students and faculty. Hopefully our second issue will come out next semester.

The Women's Center is attempting to meet the needs of more than just one kind of woman. It is flexible and its orientation depends on the ideas and interests of those who wish to be involved.

The office is on the second floor of Founders Hall. If you want to get involved, bring suggestions and ideas, or just talk or listen, the Women's Center is there for you.

If you are interested or have some ideas, please contact Amy Steerman — Hobbs 22; or Patricia Lenihan — Bryan B214.

Pep Band Strikes the Beat!

BY DOUG MOORE

Due to popular demand and a quest for true musical expression the Guilford College Pep Band sets the stage for what may be the social regalement of the season. Besides returning six members from last year's band there have been seven new members recruited. Membership in the band has steadily increased since registration, with the strong point being the brass section. Enthusiasm is never lacking in the ranks, much to the dismay of visiting football teams.

The current roster for the Pep Band is Dr. Jim Carver as conductor, Ruthanna Haines on flute, Sally Busken on clarinet, Doyle Moore on saxophone, Jim Shields on cornet, Larry Puryear, Paul Pell, Tommy Old, Bill Terrell and Mike Tornell on trumpets, Catherine Vanneman on french horn, Helen Dauerty and Doug Moore on trombones and Craig Dean on drums.

Besides entertaining the fans with the sweet sound of the Guilford Brass selected members of the Band have taken the responsibility for causing opposing teams to fumble the ball when the need arises. The "Hey, Hey, Hey Fumble Fumble" cheer which was thought up by our own Doyle Moore has been a great success both on and off the playing field. This cheer indirectly caused seven fumbles during the 1975 Guilford Football season, and Doyle is trying to refine the cheer for the 1976 season.

Plans are being made to travel to all of the away games including the Towson State game in Maryland. Anyone interested in joining this selective pack is welcome and if the enthusiasm persists you may be playing with us in our new album entitled, "Guilford College — You Asked For It."

Dorm

Photo Contest

What ever happened to group feeling? In an attempt to decide whether or not its obituary is due, the Quaker is sponsoring a contest which will be won by the dorm or hall that produces the most creative photographic self-portrait. NO HOLDS BARRED

All photographs must, however, be in black and white on gloss dried photographic paper at least 8" x 10". Although creativity will be the primary criteria, the quality of the print itself is a factor. In addition, at least one-half of the people living in the dorm or hall must be represented.

The winning photograph will appear on a double page spread in the Quaker '77, possibly as the book's end sheets, but probably as the introductory page to a Campus Life section.

Entries must be submitted to Randy Catoe at the Quaker Office in Founders or at the co-ordinator's apartment in English Hall, by Nov. 1, 1976. All photographs become the property of the Quaker.

last about an hour. If you have ever wondered what makes our computer run and would like to find out, make sure you don't miss this class.

News for the SPS

Once again the SPS will be having their fabulous Star Parties. We will start this year's season of Star Parties on September 28 (or September 30 if the skies are not clear). The Star Party will begin with a talk about the Moon by the always funny Sheridan Simon. This interesting talk will take place in the gallery of Founders Hall at 8 p.m. From there you'll get to see the real thing through the telescopes (and maybe take a picture). Now if this isn't enough to entice you, there will be refreshments served, including Epicure's famous chocolate-chip cookies. See you then!!!

In addition to the Star Party, the SPS will provide some post-lunch entertainment in the form of Dick Reynolds, a mechanical engineer from CIBA-GEIGY. (He has also been known to play tennis with Rex Adelberger.) If you ever wondered about what a mechanical engineer does (I'm sure you ask yourself that all the time), or if you just would like to eat your lunch with some interesting people, come on down to the small dining room of the cafeteria at 12:30 on Friday, September 24.

For all you prospective computer jocks, SPS will sponsor a two week computer class that will put you on the road to success. The class will begin on September 29 (that's Wednesday) at 10:00 a.m. and
