

Quakers Pull Out Squeaker Over Catawba

BY JOHNNY MOORE

Quaker quarterback Johnny Stewart and Catawba halfback Ricky White reversed roles in the fourth quarter of the Guilford-Catawba game Saturday and the result was a 17 - 15 victory for the Quakers over 15th ranked Catawba.

Stewart turned from goat to hero after his two late game interceptions appeared to put the game out of reach for Guilford. But, White, who rushed for 127 yards on the day, turned from hero to goat after he fumbled the ball right back to the Quakers after each of Stewart's interceptions.

The two teams were deadlocked at intermission after Mike McClune kicked a 37-yard field goal and Indian Tom Sexton booted a 38 yard three-pointer.

Catawba ran up a 15 - 3 lead early in the fourth stanza; with the touchdowns coming on runs of four and one yard, by Ricky White. Both PAT's failed, and that was the difference in the game.

After Catawba's second score of the half, Stewart engineered his troops to an 80 yard scoring drive, with Reggie Kenan hitting paydirt from three yards out with 7:04 left to play. McClune's kick cut the Indian lead to 15 - 10.

Guilford's defense then went out after the kickoff and held the Indians without a first down and the Quakers took over on their own 39 yard line after the punt.

Meal Tickets

Meal tickets are now available for Day Students. Twenty (20) meals can be purchased for twenty-four dollars ($24.00). The punch cards, good until the end of the spring semester, may be obtained directly from Ron Short in the cafeteria.

With time running out, Stewart again went to work, but Terry Cunningham picked off one of Stewart's aeriels and things looked dull for the Quakers.

The picture brightened on the next play when White fumbled and Andy Collins fell on the ball on the Quaker 22 yard line.

Stewart then began moving his team steadily towards the Indian goal. With a first down on the Catawba 37, it appeared as if the Quakers would pull the victory out. But, Rod Overholt made a diving interception of a pass intended for Chris Paphites and the Indians took over on their own 17.

All hopes for a Quaker victory appeared to have vanished until on the first play after the interception, White again dropped the pigskin and, after a mad scramble, Guilford defensive end Cliff Hunsucker came up with the ball on the 17 yard stripe.

Coffehouse

Presentation

BY JIM FRYE

The Coffehouse Committee with its unusual ability in selecting talented artists has surpassed itself once again. In case you've forgotten they brought you such greats as Eric and Sam, and Rod Abernathy.

On Saturday, November 20 an original composer with a fantastic voice will be performing in the Grill Room. Jack Riggs has spellbound audiences at UNC-G and Chapel Hill with his lyrical voice and words. So, if you feel fancy free, or lost in schoolwork, come see Jack Riggs Saturday at 10:00 p.m. (Quality music, free entrance and refreshments are hard to beat!)

Six plays later, Stewart rolled to his right and dashed into the royal soil from two yards out. McClunes' kick gave Guilford a 17 - 15 advantage with only 23 seconds left in the game.

Catawba, aided by a pass interference penalty, was able to penetrate to the Guilford 45, before Mike Williams batted down a last second pass at the goal line to preserve the Quakers' fourth win in eight outings.

Stewart, a junior from High Point, N.C., complete 12 of his 24 passes for 159 yards. halfback Reggie Kenan rushed for 84 yards, leaving him just 180 yards shy of 1000. The Quakers will close their season at home against Maryville College. Game time is 2:00.

Photographs

A photographer will be set up in the Boren Lounge November 17 and 18, during the lunch and dinner hours, to take underclassmen annual photos. There will be a one dollar sitting fee. Students whose last names begin with A - M will be photographed Wednesday; N - Z, Thursday. Proofs will be returned for inspection and students will have the option of ordering additional photographs.

Now you may say, how does Cakes express such confusion, such disconcertedness? Well, when you know my mother as long as I have, you will know.

You see. My mother is not a strong-worded woman. She is very pious and proper. The very salt and pepper hair on the top of her head does not get out of kilter except for a very strong wind. So when she gets out of sorts, she only lets out as much anger and surprise as is needed to keep her lid on. When the pressure has decreased below the point of combustion, she is then okay - at a state of equilibrium once more.

Cakes must be added in extreme cases of pressure to bring on that latter state more immediately. So far this has always done the trick.

I worry that with added years, my dear mother will find that Cakes no longer does the trick. What, in the name of Heaven, will she be forced to utter in case of an extreme impending catastrophe? Jiminy Cricket Cakes a la mode?

Invitational Soccer Classic

There will be an Invitational Soccer Classic next week at Greensboro's Smith High School. The dates for it are November 19-21, which is Friday through Sunday of next weekend. The tournament is sponsored by the Gate City

Jaycees. Guilford is entered along with a number of other teams from this area. They include High Point, Pfeiffer, Belmont-Abbey, Furman, Elon, UNC-G, and Greensboro College. The cost is $1.50 for students.

Senate Minutes

The meeting opened with a moment of silence. Roll was called; all Senators were present.

The Pre-Alumni Council constitution was presented for approval. Since no one representing the Council was present to answer questions, the constitution was tabled until next week.

A proposal was presented setting requirements for future selection of SAC representatives. After a great deal of discussion, the following was passed as an addition to the Senate constitution:

1. Nominees must have a cumulative 2.0 QPA.
2. Nominees must have been full-time Guilford students for one year.
3. Nominees must submit thirty copies of a short statement listing their qualifications and any Judicial Board convictions.
4. Nominees must attend the Senate meeting at which selections are made.
5. Nominees will not be Senators.

Two new organizations, the History Club and the Volleyball Club, submitted budgets. They were each granted $200 as "seed money."

The Senate voted to fund keys and certificates for the Scholarships Society.

Senate will meet at 6:30 next week so that Senators can attend the Art Series event at 8:15.

Kim Chinn expressed the concern of her constituents over the gynecologist issue. Dan Hurley reported that he is still investigating the matter and will elaborate on his findings next week.

'Greased Pig'

Wrestling

BY DAVE OWENS

"Psychology and Creativity: Wrestling With a Greased Pig" will be the topic of Richie Zweigenhaft at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 17, in the Gallery of Founders Hall at Guilford College.

The public is invited to hear the chairman of Guilford's psychology department deliver the lecture, one of a series of 10 programs on "Creative Process in the Arts and Sciences" presented by the Guilford College Colloquium.

Zweigenhaft, who joined the Guilford faculty in 1974, received his bachelor's degree from Wesleyan University in 1967, his master's from Columbia University in 1968 and his doctorate from the University of California at Santa Cruz in 1974.

Biology Seminar

Dr. Howard Rubin, a Guilford alumnus (1969), will present a seminar on "The Inhibitory Properties of Yogurt" at 2:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 17 in King 122. Dr. Rubin received his Ph.D. from Michigan State University and will leave next year for a teaching assignment at Federal Rural University, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. All members of the college community are invited to attend this seminar.
