37 Selected for Who's Who

Thirty-seven Guilford College seniors, 11 of them enrolled through the Urban Center, have been selected for membership in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.

In notifying the students of the "significant honor," President Grimsley T. Hobbs declared that their "character, scholarship and leadership have been exemplary, and Guilford College has been strengthened by their many accomplishments."

Main Campus students selected by the committee composed of faculty, students and administrators were:

Senate Minutes

While waiting for a quorum, the Senate heard from members of the Union about their experiences at the National Entertainment Convention. They were able to see a variety of acts and attend valuable workshops on topics such as leadership and publicity. Overall, the experience will be helpful to the Union in future performance of its duties.

Roll was called. Sherri Wall, Tom Evans, Judy Pevey, and Kathy Sebo were absent.

The Pre-Alumni Council constitution was reconsidered. Bob Gold was present to answer Senators' questions about the organization. The constitution was not approved as Senators felt that the stated purpose could be better carried out by the group as a student-faculty committee working with the Alumni Office, and that the planned activities of the group were of the type that other organizations were funded to provide.

Sally McAllister, President of Binford Dorm, presented the dorm constitution for approval. It is essentially a revised version of the previously existing constitution, and was approved after some discussion of minor points in the wording.

It was reiterated by John Stoneburner that an issue may be discussed by the Community Council before being presented for consideration to the various appropriate governing bodies of the Guilford College community. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted,
Betty Marbert

Ellen Pollock read the college catalog description of the grading system to the Senate, and quoted statistics on the percentage of A's, B's, etc., given yearly at Guilford. She then asked for discussion of the grading system and opinions on its rigor, to take back to the Educational Policies Committee. Senators discussed factors such as national grade inflation, and the relativity of the system to individual subjects and/or professors.

Dan Hurley suggested that the Senate conduct a survey on the interest in the gynecological services issue. He was referred back to the Student Services Committee to get the survey organized.

There was discussion about the policies and use of the Student Emergency Loan Fund. The Senate felt that the current policy is appropriate: limiting the use to medical and family emergencies, and they decided to leave the current amount of $1000 in the fund. It was decided that advisors and Student Services need to be informed about the fund.

Peter Reichard expressed his concern that the food committee is not doing its job and needs to be prompted to further action by the Senate.

Janice Mosher has received complaints from committee representatives that the committees are not functioning or that they have not been contacted by their committee chairperson. Since some committees are quite active, and others simply have no

Community Council Minutes

The Community Council met on Wednesday November 3, 1976 at 9:00 a.m., in the Board Room, New Garden Hall. The meeting opened with a moment of silent meditation.

John Stoneburner asked if there were any corrections or additions to the minutes of the last meeting. There being none, the minutes are approved.

John Janney introduced two new student members to be on the Community Council to serve for this year and the Student Senate will elect two representatives each year. These students are Leslie Zeldin, a day student, and Peter Reichard, a main campus student.

The question was raised as to whether or not the WQFS radio station should have a representative on the Community Council. John Janney will look into this.

The concern was raised about the honor code and whether or not the students and faculty take it seriously enough. It was mentioned that this should be attached to the master minutes.

A part of freshman orientation and that faculty should express their expectations of abiding by the honor code at the beginning of their classes each semester. This was referred to the Clerk's Committee for discussion with the faculty and to the FAC to bring before freshmen. Item 6 is held in abeyance.
