

Wachovia Grad Plan

Until this year, college graduates leaving the campuses to enter the mainstream of the working society had little but their own initiative to help them overcome the financial burden of moving from student to wage earner.

The new graduate is usually faced with a number of expenses in relocating to a new job in a new city. Immediate needs such as rent and utility deposits, a source of transportation, and a wardrobe suitable to the working environment can't wait until the first paycheck arrives.

Recognizing that many new graduates have not had the opportunity or resources to develop a full banking relationship or a credit rating, Wachovia Bank is offering a new program for college graduates called Grad Plan.

The plan includes a no service charge checking account, a savings account, overdraft protection, a banking card to guarantee checks and for use in Teller II, Wachovia's automated banking machine, and a Master Charge account. Simple interest loan are also available for major purchases such as automobiles.

"Our plan is designed to ease the transition from campus life to career life," said Paul W. Stephanz, Senior Vice President and Head of the Greensboro Office. "It removes the traditional difficulties of establishing credit for the first time."

The Wachovia Grad Plan is open to graduates of accredited colleges and universities who apply during the year in which they receive their degree, and who will live or work in one of the 74 North Carolina cities served by Wachovia. They must have accepted a full-time job with a minimum salary of $7,200, and can not have an unfavorably credit history. There is no cost for participation in the plan.

Film Available

To recapture the spirit and the memory of the extraordinary playwright who died prematurely at age 34, McDonald's Corporation has a film for distribution — Lorraine Hansberry: The Black Experience in the Creation of Drama. College groups can borrow the film by writing or calling McDonald's Corporation McDonald's Plaza, Oak Brook, Illinois 60521, Attention Barbara Ford (312) 887-6395.

"We feel this is a much needed plan and believe that it will meet all of the graduates' initial needs," said Stephanz. "In addition to overdraft protection the reserve funds make extra cash available for bills, emergencies or special purchases. The credit card gives the flexibility to charge items when needed, and the automated banking machines make banking services available day or night."

"The plan is tailored to individual needs and pocketbooks. Participating graduates can develop a firm financial base right from the beginning that will stand them in good stead throughout their lives," said Stephanz.

Holding the wind
Within our fists,
Poking the rain
Inside your ear,
Arming the shoulders
While two hands encircle:
These
Create the moistures
Of enabling Trust.
I hear and I forget
I see and I remember
I do and I understand.

This message can help save you from cancer.

- 1 Have your doctor give you a complete health checkup every year.
- 2 If you're a man or woman over 40, make sure that checkup includes a procto exam.
- 3 If you're a woman make sure it includes a simple, easy Pap test.
- 4 If you're a woman make sure you examine your breasts once a month.
- 5 Ask your dentist to check your mouth when he checks your teeth.
- 6 When you're out in the sun cover up and use screening lotion.
- 7 Don't smoke cigarettes.

These seven safeguards are saving lives every day. They're easy to follow. The next life they save could be your own.

American Cancer Society

Goes Down the Drain ?

The Biophile Club will be meeting again this week at 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, in the Boren Lounge. This will be no ordinary meeting (have any biofile meetings ever been ordinary?), as the fate of the club will be decided. On the agenda are elections of next years' officers, discussion of the past, present and future

McDonald's Play Awards

Two original plays on the Black Experience in America, will receive $500 toward the production of the play.

This year's award winner, drafts in a desk drawer or an idea in some student's mind, will receive the 2nd annual Lorraine Hansberry Award in the spring of 1978.

The award, funded by McDonald's Corporation, honors the memory of playwright Lorraine Hansberry, the youngest author and the only black ever to receive the New York Drama Critics' Award for Best Play of the Year. That play was the now-classic, A Raisin in the Sun.

The plays entered are judged by the regional and national judges of the American College Theatre Festival, which, every spring, brings to Washington the year's best student plays and productions. Some of the plays and authors are introduced at the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

The first-prize winner of the Hansberry Award will be presented by McDonald's with a check for $2,500 and the college that produces the play will get $750. The runner-up will get $1,000 and the school which at this moment may be production of the play. This year's award winner, Judi Ann Mason, a graduating senior at Grambling University in Grambling, La., will see her play produced by the Back Alley Players in Washington, D.C., on May 31.

To be eligible for the award, the play must be a regular entry in the Playwriting Award Program of the American College Theatre Festival, and meet all of the festival's rules and regulations. The playwrights must be full or part-time students enrolled in accredited graduate or undergraduate schools. However, a student may submit a play up to one year after graduation. The play must be an original, copyrighted work and has to be fully produced by a college or university.

The complete information and application forms can be obtained from the Producing Director, The American College Theatre Festival, John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, Washington, D.C. 20566.

and, incidentally, plans for a beach trip (we keep trying!). Oh yes, and if you don't show up, you won't get your picture in the Quaker!!!!

Seriously, though, what will be happening is that, with the eminent graduation of an overwhelming majority of Biophile's present membership, your presence at

Wednesday night's meeting will be the assurance that the club will survive. Biophile means "lover of nature," and I'm sure there are plenty of those sort around (it's Spring, right?!) so why don't you folks all come show your faces! See you 8:30 p.m. Wednesday — this is your opportunity.

The Wachovia Grad Plan gives you a package of all the banking services you'll need, including Free Way Checking, a Simple Interest Loan, Ready ReservAccount, Master Charge, a Banking Card and your own Personal Banker.
