The magic number "2" arrived for the Quakers this past Saturday's grid-iron grind-out. The Quakers edged out nationally-ranked Towson State University, by a slim 7-6 margin. Towson had a much larger team, but Guilford did not quake with fear, but instead took the fight to the Tigers.

The Tigers drew first blood, early in the first quarter, on a 14 yard pass play. The extra point was missed, which was like a kiss of death for Towson, because the Quaker defense shut them out the remaining three quarters. The Quakers' defense gave up a lot of yards, but they were stingy when it came to letting Towson score. The quakers stopped the Tigers twice inside the Quakers' twenty yard-line, the second time with just 0:31 left in the game. The Quaker offense was not dormant by any means; they had 305 yards total for the day. The Quakers lone touchdown came as the result of a well balanced offensive attack. Quaker quarterback Johnny Stewart mixed his plays well to lead the Quakers down to Towson's one yard line, where Jeff "Boomer" Rodgers ploughed his way into the endzone. Jeff Barnes, with one swoop of his foot, sealed Towson's fate, as his extra point kick split the uprights.

Johnny Stewart, in the direction of the offense, had a fine day, going 8-13-144 yards passing, but the work horse for the quakers was freshman running back Chris Scissom. He has 134 yards on 27 carries for a 4.9 yard per carry average.

Coach Forbes was pleased but a bit reserved in his comments about the game. He felt that the miscues his charges made could have cost them the game, but he quickly ADDED THAT THEY SHOWED "a lot of character and poise." Coach Forbes felt the offense showed good balance and the defense did what they had to do to stop the Tigers. As with last week's fame, Coach Forbes felt that the best aspect of th win was the confidence gained by his players.

The Quakers have an open date next Saturday, but play Davidson College here on October 15.

Volleyball

The Guilford College varsity Women's volleyballteam had a busy week as they played five matches.

On Friday, September 30, the Quakers faced UNC-Chapel Hill's Tarheels in the first home match of the week.

Carolina took the first game 15-3 against slow defense by the Quakers. Game 2 was different as an overconfident tarheel team was taken for seven consecutive points by the excellent serving of senior captain Debbie Tyson. The Tarheels pulled themselves, and their well-known powerful offense together, and had Guilford diving for well-placed spikes. Guilford could not retain control of the serve and UNC took game 2, 15-7.

In the final game of the match, Carolina took the floor, confident but not cocky. A tired Quaker team readied themselves for game 3. Once again Carolina's powerful offense proved relentless as the Quakers spent more time playing offensively then setting up plays of their own. This imbalance of offense took its toll as the Tarheels won 15-6.

Several players felt that the Carolina match was the "best we've played yet" and were "not disappointed" as they "gave a good showing against one of the east coast's top teams."

On Tuesday, September 27, the Quakers traveled to Elon College to face two conference rivals, Elon and Pembroke state University. Pembroke was hungry for revenge as Guilford had beaten them twice during last year's finals to win the State Championship. A slow moving guilford defense gave up both games, 15-4, 15-9 to give Pembroke the match.

Guilford's record now stands at 3-5 with two home matches next week. On Tuesday, October 4, the Quakers face NCCU in a rematch at 6:30, and on Thursday October 6, will play High Point and Catawba at 6:30 in the gym. These are the last two home volleyball matches this year.

Ed Alonge, Steve Hicks, and Bobby Propster receive trophy from official.

Win Some, Lose Some

The Guilford College Soccer team brought its overall record to 5-2-1 last week as they beat UNC-G Wednesday and lost to ECU Friday.

Wednesday's match against UNC-G gave the Quaker plenty of action before they successfully routed the Spartans, 5-0. Credited with two goals was Bob Lloyd, while Larry Davis, Mustapha Faye and tom Boutin each scored one. Thanks to the excellent defensive tactics of Brian Oswald, Don Hamerick and Richard Wall, UNC-G had only four shooting opportunities. Goalie Bob Sanguenetti earned his second shut out of the year as he deflected all four. Comparatively, Guilford shot 33 times for 5 goals.

On Friday the Quakers faced the tough ECU team in a fast and aggressive match. Larry Davis scored the Quakers only goal of the game in the first half, leaving the half time score 3-1. Neither the Tigers nor the Quakers scored during the second half.

Next week the Quakers go to Elon on Wednesday. Friday there is a big home game against Pfeiffer. The outcome of this game could determine the conference Championship!
