

Soccer Team Wins Two of Three

This past week the Guilford College Soccer Team played three important conference games against Atlantic Christian, Elon and Pfeiffer Colleges.

On Monday, the Quakers travelled to Atlantic Christian College for their first night game of the year. The game was fast paced as both teams played strongly, offensively and defensively.

While the game moved quickly, the first half ended in a 0-0 tie. Atlantic Christian College came back early in the second half to score. Then, with less than two minutes to go in the match, Bobby Propster fired a shot into the goal to tie the score. At the end of regular game time the score was tied at 1-1. Two 10-minute overtime periods followed. Halfway into first overtime, Bobby Propster was tripped and fouled. This gave Bobby Lloyd the indirect kick, which he scored on.

The score stood at 2-1 throughout the overtime periods. Co-Captain Steve Hicks and Bobby Propster, a leading scorer, both felt that this was "one of our best games this year. We played like a team and it was a well played match."

On Wednesday, the Quakers travelled to Elon College to face the Christians in their third conference match. Although the match was not one of the Quakers more aggressively played games, they managed to crush the Christians 7-1.

During the first half, Guilford scored twice, the first coming from Bobby Lloyd's penalty kick. The second goal was made in Al Cook's kick that was headed into the goal past Elon's goalkeeper by an Elon player. Cook was credited with the goal, however. During the second half action, Lloyd scored a second goal, Propster scored three goals, and Mustapha Faye scored once. Elon's only goal came during the second half on a penalty kick. Bob Sanquinetti kept the goal the first half, and

Ed Alonge heads one in.

2nd string Don Basnight took over the job second half.

Hicks felt that "the team didn't play well during the first half, but by the second half began to work the ball better and take more shots from the outside."

On Friday afternoon, the Quakers hosted Pfeiffer in their fourth conference match.

The Quakers played a hard fought game, but they didn't play well as a team.

Pfeiffer scored early in the first half, which somewhat dampened the Quakers spirits. The remainder of the half was a rally between the teams, with the half time score standing at 1-0. During the second half, Pfeiffer scored a second time before Bobby Lloyd could score the Quakers single goal. The final score was 2-1. "Pfeiffer played together as a team," said Propster, "and we didn't. But we'll beat them in the conference playoffs."

The Quakers overall record now stands at 7-3-1 while their conference record is 3-1.

Lady Quakers Up Record

The Guilford College Women's Volleyball team raised its record to 5-6 as they faced some important conference foes. On Tuesday, October 4, Guilford faced N.C. Central in a match filled with errors. Although Central was not as strong a team overall they possessed powerful serves. Guilford had its problem handling them, and even greater problems trying to keep their own serve. The teams traded games with Guilford landing on top 15-7, 8-15, 15-12, 13-15, 15-4.

On Thursday, October 6, the Quakers faced the Indians of Catawba, and the Panthers of High Point.

A psyched Guilford team ran over Catawba 15-4, 15-9, to get to the business at hand, High Point.

High Point, a conference and division rival, placed ninth in last year's National Tournament, the Panthers high national ranking did not appear to impress the Quakers, as both teams took the floor, ready to play.

The Quakers took the lead early as High Point could not handle Guilford's strong serves. The game was highlighted by offensive power and defensive quickness by both teams, but the Quakers had the momentum, and went with it to win, 13-15. The shaken High Point team pulled itself together, and this time it was Guilford that could not handle their opponents strong serves. The Quakers were also plagued by poor serves on their own part, and did not manage to score when they had control of the ball. The game went to High Point, 15-2.

Both teams were tired as they came out, but both were ready for blood. High Point took the lead early, again on the strength of their serves. Guilford appeared to be making a comeback as its offensive machine began to move, but High Point's extremely effective use of the center hit caught the Quaker defense by surprise several times. When the smoke cleared from this highly competitive game, the Panthers had won, 15-6.

Guilford faces a busy week, on Tuesday, October 11, Guilford travels to Pembroke to play the Lady Braves and UNC-Wilmington. On Thursday, October 13 Guilford plays Wake Forest at Winston-Salem, in a very important Division II match. On Friday, October 14 the Carolinas Conference Tournament begins. The tournament, played at Elon this year, will run through Saturday and includes Catawba, Atlantic Christian, Pembroke, Elon, High Point and Guilford.

Basketball Season Approaches

The 1977-78 season of Guilford College basketball hopes to improve on what was an "up and down" previous year. This year's team will have more depth than any team in the past seven years. Returning from last season's 17-12 team are 6-5 Mike Cherry, 5-11 Gary Devlin, 6-6 Paul Drechsler, 6-5 Elton Gross, 6-2 Steve Rosenberry, and 6-1 Charlie Welborn. They will be joined by three players who transferred to Guilford last January: 6-5 sophomore, Al King; 6-5 senior, Gary McGair; and 6-1 sophomore, Frank Petrouskie. "We feel that we had a good year recruiting," said coach Jack Jensen. "We were able to sign two tall players, 6-8 transfer, Greg Hopson, and

6-6 freshman, Bill Meyler, and a fine guard, 6-3 Sporty Jeralds."

With four starters back (Drechsler, Gross, Cherry and Devlin) and the addition of the new players, there should be tremendous competition for starting positions. There are six front-court players who are 6-5 or taller. The breakdown by grade lists five seniors, two juniors, three sophomores and two freshmen.

This season's schedule lists a full slate of Carolinas conference games, tournaments (at Milligan, Tennessee, Salisbury, N.C., and Ashland, Va.), and games with independents Barber-Scotia, Lenoir-Rhyne, Liberty Baptist, and Mars Hill.

The Quakers first games this year will be played at the Milligan Invitational Tournament, November 18 and 19. Their first home game is against Liberty Baptist at 8:00 p.m. on November 22. There are only 9 home games this year, so don't miss them!

Team Tennis Ends

The 1977 Team Tennis intramurals will finish tomorrow, Wednesday, October 12. In women's tennis, any of three teams can win. Bryan third (with 5 wins) plays Hobbs (with 6 wins) tomorrow. Either team will have to sweep all 5 games to tie or beat Shore, who has 10 wins. Such a situation should provide a lot of hard-fought tennis matches.

The story for first place in men's tennis is simpler. After their last match, the men of Milner first north pulled far enough ahead so that no other team can get within 2 games of them. The race for second place is the question for tomorrow. Milner first south, Bryan first, and Milner third (A) all have records of 12-9. If you have time tomorrow, come out to the tennis courts and watch some exciting battles.

Intramural Soccer Standings

The intramural soccer program is now about halfway through its season. There have been good turnouts for the games so far and it seems the participants have been enjoying themselves. The standings are:
