

The football team has been practicing hard since mid-August.

Freshmen brighten outlook

When you lose 18 seniors from your football team, it's time to do some recruiting, fast. If you're a big time coach the job is fairly simple, you recognize what you need, seek out the high school stars to fill those needs, offer the world, and hand them the application.

If you're Charles Forbes, you must spend long hours at the office and on the phone hoping to draw some talent that was either overlooked by the big schools, wasn't overlooked but wasn't interested, or simply wasn't good enough. Sometimes your work pays off, and sometimes it doesn't. It can be a frustrating business.

Apparently the efforts of Forbes and his staff have paid off this time. 36 talented freshman make this "the best recruiting year in a long time." Several of the newcomers could gain starting roles this season. Add 40 returning lettermen to the freshmen and the potential is real for a banner season. Forbes views it all with a cautious optimism; "With so many young people we're going to make young mistakes. We expect that. The first few games are pivotal because we need to establish a winning attitude. Hopefully, one of our strengths will be a good senior leadership."

Preseason injuries have already taken their toll, with the offensive line being hardest hit. Senior Dean Gravely is out for the season following knee surgery, and Bill Branson, also a senior, is questionable with a badly injured ankle. Both Gravely and Branson were starting offensive linemen. Numerous shoulder injuries have also hurt the squad.

With three weeks of practice, including an Elon scrimmage which Forbes labeled "very positive," the Quakers open up at home with Emory & Henry this Saturday, Sept. 6, at 1:30 at the Armstrong Athletic Center. The team has yet to lose to E & H under Forbes and that has him a little worried; "The law of averages has got to catch up with you sometime. Because we've always beaten them in the past people naturally expect us to beat them again. That's a dangerous attitude. We can beat any team on the schedule, but we can also be beaten by any team. Again, the first few games are very important."

Last year's squad finished with a disappointing 4-5 record after jumping off to a 3-0 start. "We started very strongly but after a few losses, the team really got down and we just couldn't bring them out of it. As coach, I have to accept responsibility for that and work hard to avoid a similar letdown this year." Look, for an improvement on last year's mark beginning with a win this Saturday.

"Well, here we are — unbeaten, untied, unscored on, and going into our first game."

Guilford College Notebook

Guilford PIRG will hold an organizational meeting Wed., Sept. 3, at 8:15, in the Passion Pit (the second floor of Founders). Everyone is welcome.

NEEDED BADLY -- The Athletic Dept. needs a sports equipment manager. Pay is available. Work-study grants are applicable. Contact Coach Charles Forbes in the athletic offices upstairs in the old gym.

A schedule of musical events at UNC-G, of stage productions at the N.C. School of the Arts, and fall performances at the N.C. Shakespeare festival are all in the Guilfordian reserve in the library.

"The Conversation," produced and directed by Francis Ford Coppola, will be shown Friday, Sept. 5, in Sternberger Auditorium. The movie stars Gene Hackman as an "electronic surveillance technician" whose character is ruthlessly dissected.

***

"Doctor Zhivago," starring Omar Sharif, Julie Christie, Alec Guinness, based on Nobel Prize winner Boris Pasternak's novel, tells the story of the 1917 Russian Revolution and its effect on Russian society through the life of Yuri Zhivago, doctor and poet. Exquisitely photographed, this is a film of lasting beauty and compassion.
