

Sports Quips

By Mike Van Wagner

Thanks largely to the efforts of Dr. Appenzeller, Guilford students can now attend away basketball games at High Point, Pfeiffer, Elon, Pembroke, and Wingate, free of charge with the presentation of a Guilford I.D. The free admission is part of an effort to increase interest in conference ballgames. "We felt we needed to get some interest back in our league and one of the best ways to do that is to allow students free admission to away games", explained Appenzeller. So don't let an empty wallet stop you from attending Quaker road games, just remember the I.D.

Speaking of basketball, the Guilford Invitational Tournament will be held December 19th and 20th in the Ragan-Brown Center. Jack Jensen's squad will play host to Bluefield State, Milligan College of Ohio, and High Point. Following the tourney, the team will break for Christmas and return the following week to prepare for the Gardner-Webb Tournament to be held on the 2nd and 3rd of January. The Quakers will head for the Sunshine State to eat grapefruits and drink orange juice in preparation for a game against the Florida Institute of Technology on January 10th.

One final note on basketball, former Guilford standout and present Boston Celtic, M.L. Carr, was on campus last week for the Lenoir-Rhyne game. M.L. is on the injured reserve list with a broken foot and took the opportunity to visit his alma mater and watch his first ballgame in the new gym, which his contributions helped build.

Congratulations are in order for this Fall's intramural champs. In the men's leagues the champions were: Flag football-NADS, soccer-GEORG WHITE-DAYS HOPS, Tennis-GYPSIES. In the women's league Binford II won the flag football title. Volleyball champs will be crowned this week.

Since I was three for four on my baseball predictions, I feel somewhat justified in trying my luck once again. Here they are: DALLAS to win the Super Bowl; PHILADELPHIA to win the NBA title; PHILADELPHIA to win the Stanley Cup in hockey; NOTRE DAME over GEORGIA in the Sugar Bowl; and in college basketball, RUTGERS to give CAROLINA a scare before bowing to the Tar Heels in their game at Charlotte on December 22nd.

As much as I hate to pick Dalls to win anything, the Cowboys just look too tough. Both the Sixers and the Flyers are on top of their divisions and should add to Philadelphia's growing list of titles. Despite the picks, I'm not really a Philly fan but this just seems to be the year for the City of Brotherly Love. Notre Dame's experience in post season play makes them a slight favorite. And finally, the Scarlet Knights may be as strong, or stronger than the team that lost in the Eastern Regionals here two years ago.

Have a safe, exciting, amazing, joyous, wonderful holiday.

Photo by Jack Mohr

Mike Gordon notches basket for Quaker men in a 73-68 loss to Lenoir Rhyne. The men's team salvaged the week by beating High Point in a 64-60 thriller Saturday night, after the earlier loss to Lenoir Rhyne and a 76-72 loss to Pfeiffer.

Despite Sharon Parks three-game total of 59 points, the Quaker women lost their first three games, 84-62 to Pfeiffer, 76-62 to Pembroke, and 73-63 to High Point.

The men's record is 4-3 overall and 2-1 in conference play.

Alley releases net schedule

The 1981 men's tennis schedule released by Coach Ray Alley will include five of the eight teams from the Atlantic Coast Conference, two Big Ten schools and Brown University from the Ivy League. The 30-match schedule includes a six-school spring break swing to Florida during which the Quakers will play Georgia Tech, Jacksonville, Flagler, the University of Florida, Purdue, Central Florida and Rollins.

The Quakers, who finished 21-6 a year ago while winning both the conference and NAIA District 26 championships en route to a No. 7 national finish, will host the University of North Carolina, N.C. State University, the University of Iowa, West Virginia, Appalachian State and Brown, among others. Road clashes include matches at Duke and Wake Forest. Key conference matches have the Quakers at Atlantic Christian and High Point at Guilford.

"We feel that we have a very attractive home schedule that should attract a great deal of student interest," commented Alley, who is in his sixth season as coach of the Quakers. "We begin the season the last week in February, and have a number of weekend doubleheaders scheduled. That will lighten the schedule during the week, and we really don't have many away matches on week days."

Guilford will return six lettermen this year, including three who played in the top six a year ago.

Guilford College Notebook

Operation Crossroads Africa, Inc., a non-profit organization focusing on international development and educational exchange, actively seeks faculty, professionals, and students to participate in 8-week summer team projects in Africa. Both volunteer and leader positions are open. Persons interested in participating in Crossroads' Summer Work/Travel/Study Program must apply immediately. Contact: Crossroads Africa, 150 - 5th Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. phone (212)242-8550. Or see the local contact person: Richie Zweigenhaft in the Psychology Department X269.

Naturalist Thomas A. Sterling will show and narrate his film "Superior -- Land of the Woodland Drummer," at the Centenary United Methodist Church, 2300 W. Friendly Ave., Greensboro, on Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. The screening is part of the Audubon Wildlife Film Series, sponsored by the T. Gilbert Pearson Audubon Society. Tickets are $3.50 and may be purchased at the door.

The Committee on Institutional Cooperation has established three fellowship programs designed to increase the representation of members of minority groups among those who hold doctorates in the social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, mathematics, and engineering. The fellowships provide full tuition plus a stipend of at least $4,500 for four academic years, provided that the Fellows make normal progress toward the Ph.D.

Anyone who has or will receive a bachelor's degree by September 1981 is eligible to apply for the 1981 competition. Anyone desiring detailed information about the fellowship programs should write to: CIC Minorities Fellowships Program, Kirkwood Hall 111, Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana 47405.

Jan Parini, Director of Creative Writing at Dartmouth, will visit Greensboro Day School as Poet-in-Residence for the week of December 8 through 12. A dynamic teacher, who has directed the Vermont Poets-in-the-schools program, Parini will encourage the writing and enjoyment of poetry in grades Kindergarten through 12. Parini will read his poetry for the Greensboro Day School community and the public on Wednesday evening, December 10, at 7:30 p.m. in the theatre of the Center for the Arts.

The Political Science Department will nominate three graduating seniors for internships with the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. Deadline for application on Guilford campus is January 15, 1981. The internships are for six months, with salary, for students who have a serious interest in foreign policy. Interns are assigned to the Arms Control Association or Foreign Policy magazine, or will work with projects dealing with arms control, political impact of Islam, U.S. foreign relations, role of the military in foreign affairs, etc. . . . The program is highly competitive. Please contact William Schmickle (Founders basement) or William Carroll (Archdale 215) immediately if you wish further information.

Students interested in helping with decorations for the Inauguration Ball should contact Cristel Lee, second floor New Garden. Any suggestions for the inauguration are welcome.

Operation Santa Claus is asking for your help. The Mental Health Association in Greensboro needs gifts of clothing, games, or money for patients at John Umpstead Hospital. Gifts or donations should be taken to Boy Scout Headquarters, 1305 Westover Terrace, Greensboro or mailed to the Association Office, 1301 N. Elm St., Greensboro, 27401.

Fitness classes are coming to Guilford College beginning the week of January 5 and running for 10 weeks. The classes will be held at New Garden Friends Meeting and is offered through the Greensboro YWCA. To register, call the YW at 273-3461. The classes are Dance Aerobics, level 1 on Mon, Wed, Fri. from 10:15-11:15 a.m. at $52 for all three classes, Dance Aerobics, level 2 on Mon, Wed, Fri. from 9:15-10:15 a.m. at $52 for all three classes, Jazz exercise on Tues. and Thur. from 9:15-10:15 a.m. at $35 for both and Beginning Yoga on Tues. and Thurs. from 10:15-11:30 a.m. at $38 for both weekly.

The Livestock Players will present Rodgers and Hart's "Babe in Arms," at the Carolina Theatre on Friday and Saturday, December 12 and 13th at 8:00 p.m., and on Sunday December 14th, at 2:30 p.m. Season memberships and single tickets are available. For more information concerning this movie, call the Visual Arts Center at 373-2026.

Steven Dunn, Fred Chapel, and Betty Adcock have all given poetry readings at Guilford this semester. Who could possibly follow in their tracks? The Poetry Workshop Class of Guilford College! Ann Deagon's students will be presenting their own works on Tuesday, December 9 in Dana Lounge, from 7-9 p.m. in a public reading hosted by Sandra Burrus. A variety of styles will capture the imagination of the audience as the poets formally present the craft they have worked on during the semester. All are welcome to come for poetry and refreshments.

The Piper will have a meeting on Tuesday, January 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Publications Suite. Please attend so we can decide about readings, yearbook picture, and other vital matters. A deadline for submissions is set for that date, so bring your stuff! Read the article in this paper for more info.

