

"QUOTABLES"

by Greg Hastings

This month, the Guilfordian asked Guilfordians:

"When important news events happen, do you take the trouble to find out about them? How aware are you of things outside of this college's environment? How in touch are you with the 'outside world' at Guilford College?"

Toni Pyle: "I'm not informed. I don't have time. Between classes, homework, and social life, by the time I'm done my eyes are so tired that the last thing I want to do is read a newspaper."

Derek Maingot: I find sometimes that I have to go out of my way to keep up with what's going on in the 'real world.' It takes a definite effort on my part. Being an international student makes me really aware that there's a lot going on out there - Things not covered in the Greensboro Daily News. I have to go home to find out what's happened in my country (Barbados).

Extra-Curricular

By Wendy Harrison

It's never too late or too early to get involved. Guilford College has a wide variety of interesting clubs and organizations just waiting for you. Participation is strongly encouraged -- and you won't regret it -- it's fun! The following is a summary of the possibilities, so delve in and see what suits you.

Community Senate -- serves as a forum for college concerns and initiates new policy ideas as well as allocating student activity funds to the various campus organizations. Although the Senate officers have been elected for this year's term, they would appreciate hearing from any concerned students. The senate office is located in the basement of Founders, B-9.

College Union -- is largely responsible for providing extra-curricular activities for the student body. The involvement of a large number of students helps to insure the events appeal to as many students as possible. Committees within the Union include concert, film, coffeehouse, dance and recreational. Participation is encouraged. The office is in the basement of Founders.

Christian Fellowship -- is a non-denominational group which, because it is affiliated with the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, interacts with other schools. Small bible study groups and prayer meetings will be held weekly. Seasonal retreats will also be scheduled. An organizational meeting will be held Sept. 8, at 7:00 p.m. For more information contact George Evans, Box 17155; Jane Adams, Box 17003; John Hunn, Box 17253 or Jeff Goodwin, Box 17194.

Hillel -- encouraged interest in the Judaic heritage and culture and their place in modern society. Social events such as dinners, parties, and casual get-togethers as well as religious activities and holiday observances serve to expand community involvement. If interested contact Sheldon Novak at 723-0731 or 723-0732.

Student Quaker Concerns Group -- works to promote and maintain an awareness of Quaker and other relevant concerns on campus. It serves as a support group for Quakers and non-Quakers alike. Among other interests this semester, the group is planning to consider the issue of commitment. Monthly meetings and seasonal retreats will be sponsored. All interested students should contact Brian Seabrook, Box 17482; Judy Harvey, ext. 171; or Dick Dyer, ext. 149.

Choir -- gives students the opportunity to learn a varied repertoire of music -- from Renaissance to contemporary pieces--as well as the chance to sing! Carol Burnett, the new director, is looking forward to working with the students and extends a welcome to anyone interested. She says they are especially desperate for tenors. Choir will be sponsoring the November talent show and working towards the annual Christmas concert. If you want to sing, contact Carol in Dana, ext. 247.

Revelers -- is the drama organization responsible for the production of school plays and promotes general interest in drama at Guilford. Membership is open to all interested students -- there are many opportunities for both actors and actresses as well as for technical aids. They are already beginning work on their first production, Equis, so hurry up and contact the Drama department, ext. 246.

WQFS -- 91 FM is a non-commercial, student-operated radio station, serving the community with an extensive and variable choice of music forms -- everything from traditional music and classical to country and anything progressive. They are looking for any motivated and enthusiastic individuals. Remember, office work and record sorting is as important as broadcasting. If you are interested in any aspect of radio work, contact Flash or anyone at the station located at the top of Founders.

S.N.A.C.E. -- is the students branch of an important professional organization, the N.C. Association for Education. They remain in close contact with this group while still independently following issues of concern in education. They take an active interest in campaigns and lobbying. Prospective members should contact Kathy Nance in the coordinators' suite in Shore.

N.A.A.G. -- the Nuclear Arms Awareness Group is a non-aligned group working to educate the student body and community about different points of view concerning arms policies as well as the threat and/or danger of nuclear proliferation. Meetings will be weekly with frequent films, speakers, seminars and workshops. Listen to WQFS for announcements about the first meeting or contact Chris Darnell, Box 17134.

IRC -- International Relations Club. More than forty countries, including America, are represented in this club! The purpose is to gather together to share different cultures, ideas, and friendship. Informal meetings two times a month and organized activities, such as bowling, skating, films, and trips throughout N.C. encourage interaction. IRC is also responsible for arranging two functions which have become college favorites -- International Week and the International dinner. If you think it sounds like fun, contact Derek Maingot at the Science House or Box 17366.

A.A.C.S. -- The African American Cultural Society (offshoot of BASIB) is a new organization which hopes to foster unity among Afro-Barbara Ruby: Yes, I read Ann Landers! And I do read the main headlines of the newspaper. I pick it up every now and then because my roommate gets one.

Louise Parks: I don't feel tremendously in touch but when something important happens I know about it. I listen to the radio and read the paper. It's difficult to make the time though and it takes work.
