Great Peace March Set

The Great Peace March is coming. Starting on March 1st, 1986, 5,000 people will walk from Los Angeles to Washington, D.C., to carry the call for global nuclear disarmament to the citizens of this nation and the world.

The Great Peace March, what CBS News has called "the greatest civilian undertaking of this century," is being organized by PRO-Peace, the Los Angeles based non-profit, non-partisan group.

Since PRO-Peace began, great strides have been made in the areas of recruitment, fundraising, and national organization. Regional and state offices have opened across the country, a nationwide Peacewalk fundraiser took place November 3rd, and over 11,000 applications have already been distributed to prospective marchers.

BEGINNINGS

The idea for PRO-Peace began late in 1984, when Executive Director David Mixner's 9-year old niece told him she thought she would die, before growing up, in a nuclear war. This prompted Mixner to search for a new way to fight nuclear proliferation. The problem, as he saw it, was the lack of hope that anything could be done. His answer was to create a groundswell for nuclear disarmament, both here and abroad, so powerful that the leaders of the world will have to listen.

The marchers, 5,000 strong, will leave their homes, schools, jobs and families, and walk 15 miles a day for 255 days — across the Mojave Desert, the Great Basin, and two major continental mountain ranges and the Great Plains. Their sacrifice will capture the imagination of the world.

The logistical challenges faced in planning the Great Peace March are massive. Over the course of their nine-month cross-country journey, the marchers will wear out 20,000 pairs of shoes, eat 3,825,000 meals, take 1,275,000 showers and set up and take down 2,500 tents each night.

PRO-Peace plans to meet these challenges through impressive recruitment and fundraising campaigns. PRO-Peace's organization is already in place. Its Los Angeles office houses over 70 full-time employees on three floors. Regional and state offices have opened along the March route, in Denver, Cleveland, Omaha, Des Moines, Pittsburgh, Chicago, Boston, New York and Washington, D.C. Two Advance Teams have just finished surveying the March route, cataloging campsites and charting every mile the marchers will walk.

The toll-free number for applications and donations is 1-800-453-1234. The Great Peace

March Public Service Announcement has been seen on local T.V. stations since October 23rd.

The logistics of the Great Peace March are massive, and the sacrifice displayed by the marchers will be inspiring. But in the words of David Mixner, "If we can accomplish this seemingly impossible task, if we can move 5,000 people, in peace coast to coast — and we will — then the citizens of this country will understand once and for all that they can undertake another seemingly impossible task: the task of abolishing nuclear weapons for good."
