

Winning Games Mean Chance at Playoffs for Soccer

by Kathy Corcoran

The men's soccer team improved their district record to 5-2-2 by winning 2 of 3 games last week. They beat Atlantic Christian College and Wingate by 3-goal margins and lost 2-0 to Elon.

The victory over ACC was a decisive one for the Quakers, as they outshot their opponents 30-6, for a final score of 5-2. Guilford took charge in the first half with goals from co-captains Chris Jenkins and Rob Lane as well as one from freshman Nat Havholm. Jenkins and Lane assisted each others goals, while Tony Rosica set up Havholm for his shot.

The second half saw ACC become more aggressive, and they scored two goals before Guilford was able to respond. The Quakers did come back, though, and on a pass from Jon-Paul St. Jermain, Tom Bennett nailed a low shot into the corner from 40 yards out, making the score 4-2.

Jenkins finished the scoring for the Quakers by weaving through the defense for an unassisted goal.

The Quakers lost some steam after this win, though, and were undermanned going into the match against Elon, Coach Wally Cook said. Three starting players were out - Burch Wilkes with a groin injury, Raul Sanllehi with an ankle problem, and Jenkins with strep throat.

Guilford took only five shots compared to Elon's 16, and Cook says that this is indicative of how the game went. "After they scored their second goal 23 minutes into the match, the rest of the game wasn't that inspired."

Goalie Barry Fullman was inspired, though. As of last week, he has more saves than any other District 26 goalie. As Cook points out, though, "this is both good and bad. It's great that he makes saves, but the opposition shouldn't be getting that many shots in the first place."

Fullman continued his good record making 11 saves as the Quakers shut out Wingate 3-0 on Thursday. The first 25 minutes of play were fairly even, according to Cook. Then Jenkins, still suffering from strep throat, came into the game and assisted two goals within five minutes. The first one came from Sanllehi at 25:43 into the match. Three minutes later, Jenkins passed to Lane, who put it in the net.

Coming into the second half with a two goal lead did not stop the Quakers. Jason Wolff scored five minutes into the half off of an assist from Tony Rosica. Gregg Caporossi played well on defense for Guilford, while Bennett controlled the midfield.

According to Cook, these games have put the team in striking distance of the playoffs. "It's within our grasp. We need to win three of our four remaining district matches to do it," said Cook.

Emory and Henry Hands Quakers October Opening Loss

by Mike Grossman

The Quakers opened the month of October on a discouraging note, losing to the Emory and Henry Wasps, 31 to 17 last Saturday, October 1st.

In this game, it was not who had the ball that mattered, it was what the team did with it that was important. The Quakers had possession of the ball for just short of half of the game, 29 minutes and 45 seconds to be exact.

The difference in the game was that Emory and Henry turned their 30 minutes and 15 seconds of possession into 31 points, while the Quakers could only earn 17.

The Wasp running attack victimised the Quaker defense for 230 yards, and passed for 153 more, for a total of 383. While the Quaker defense as a team did not play well, senior linebacker Daniel Cole enjoyed one of the best performances of his Guilford career. Cole racked up 16 solo tackles, five assists, and two sacks creating Wasp losses of 22 yards.

Emory and Henry opened the scoring on a 17-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Pat Walker to Paul Overbay at 10:06 in the first.

Guilford responded with 11:51 remaining in the half, when senior quarterback Jay Vannoy hit Steve Arnold with a seven-yard touchdown pass. Emory and Henry added 10 more points in the half, to take a 17-7 halftime lead.

The rest of the game's scoring came in the fourth quarter. The Wasps scored just eight seconds into the quarter, when Overbay and Walker hooked up again for another touchdown. Guilford answered three minutes later, when Vannoy hit John Holloman from five yards out. A 30-yard field goal by Guilford freshman Shane Handy with 9:19 remaining brought the Quakers to within a touchdown, 17-24.

But Quaker hopes were crushed when Emory and Henry's Rodney Beville scored on a 45-yard run with 2:51 remaining.

Vannoy had a rough day, connecting on 10 of 20 passes for 130 yards and throwing three interceptions. Senior runningback Cedric Ellison played well, rushing for 97 yards on 15 carries.

The Quakers will try to get back on track when they play Davidson at home this Saturday.
