Open Forum Q & A

Why did Guilford spend $4 million on technology that will probably be obsolete in just a few years? (McNemar answered)

Technology is unavoidable in our future lives. "This is a tension we ought to struggle with." Prospectives often make judgements on superficial qualities such as computers and the conditions of dorms. The changes made were to bring Guilford up to the minimum level to keep people interested.

What was the rationale behind the smart cards? (Gillis answered)

We wanted to combine the library key cards, the meal plan, dorm key and student I.D. into a single entity.

Are the changes happening in an unQuakerly manner?

(McNemar answered) If changes don't happen soon, current and prospective students will be in a state of limbo.

CDC to sponsor job fair

• Career Development Center helps students find jobs

BY KATIE HUNTER

Unless he or she plans to remain a professional student or suddenly become independently wealthy, the average college student will have to find a source of income and employment. A painless way to start this search would be to visit the Job Fair on November 19th.

The Job Fair, sponsored by the North Carolina Career Consortium, provides a place for students to explore possible career interests. Students who think that they have already found the perfect job can check the future availability of that career at the Fair. Underclassmen will have the chance to ask employers what kind of skills they look for in job applicants.

"The Job Fair is for everyone," said Irene Harrington of the Career Development Center. "We encourage all students and alums to go."

The Job Fair will be open from 12:30 to 4:00 at the Airport Marriott. Those who need a ride can contact the CDC to make transportation arrangements.

"We don't want anyone to miss the Job Fair because of transportation problems," said Harrington.

Students are also advised to take resumes along. The people at the Job Fair can help those who are not graduating seniors find a summer job or internship. Students who need assistance with writing their resume can utilize the resources of the CDC.

Ninety employers have registered to be at the Job Fair so far. They represent health care, government, human services, banking and finance, criminal justice and law enforcement, education, and the media and communications.

This number will most likely increase between now and November 19th.

Three information sessions will be held before the Job Fair. The first two will be held October 7th. One will be at 5:30 in the CDC (upstairs in New Garden) and the other will be in Milner Lounge at 7:00. The final session will be October 16th at 3:00 in the CDC.

The Job Fair will provide a great opportunity for students to get a jump start on the future.

Corrections

Perfection is our goal, but we don't always achieve it. The Guilfordian strives to correct all errors, so please contact us at x2306 if you see a mistake.

Our circulation goal is to have a paper under the door or on the desk of every person on campus by noon on Friday. If you do not receive your paper, please contact the publications suite at x2306.
