probation, be given community service, or even worse, be suspended or expelled.

Final Break while the Judicial Board deliberates on an appropriate sanction

5:59 p.m. Finally, you are called back into the room. The waiting is over, but your stomach is still churning almost as badly as it was the Friday morning you woke up after your 21st birthday. This time, though, it is all nerves.

6:01 p.m. The charges against you are read one final time. The facilitator glances up at you, indicating that your full attention is now needed. "The Board has come to agreement by consensus that the following sanctions be imposed:

1. Disciplinary probation through the 1999-2000 school year
2. Ten hours of service through helping the housekeeping staff clean Bryan Hall. The hours must be worked off at the staff's convenience and must be completed by May 9, 1999.
3. A written letter of apology to your R.A. for all of the charges he has had to bring against you.
4. Finally, we, as a Board would like to suggest that you seek help for both alcohol dependence and anger management. We would also like to urge you to think next time about the consequences of your actions, strongly weighing the fact that being on disciplinary probation means that if at any time before May of 2000 you are brought before the Board again, you will be subject to academic suspension or dismissal from the college. We hope that you have learned from your mistakes, and we encourage you to act responsibly in the future.

We assure you that the Board will hold all matters and fact of this case in the strictest confidence and that all decisions have been made fair and in an unbiased manner. We thank everyone involved for their time and patience. This Judicial Board hearing is now adjourned."

6:06 p.m. You are relieved that this case is over and shrug your shoulders as if to shake the anticipation away. Fully aware of how close you just came to finding yourself in severe trouble, you vow to yourself to never come near that situation again.

Your judicial advisor shakes your hand and tells you that he will give you a copy of the sanctions by Friday. Sweat trickles down your forehead as you walk down the stairs of the building and towards your dorm where you intend to make a fresh start.

CHIP DANGER No. 23 B. BURG 1998

I FOLLOWED THE OLD SQUIRREL AND SONJA DEEP INTO THE WOODS, WHEN SUDDENLY...

... SANFORD KISSED HER!

WATCHING THE TWO, I REMEMBERED THE STORY OF SANFORD'S WIFE...

THAT NIGHT, WALKING THROUGH THE LIBRARY STACKS, THE IDEA CAME TO ME:

I'D WRITE A BOOK ABOUT CHIP

I TOLD SANFORD ABOUT MY IDEA, AND HE AGREED IT WAS A GOOD ONE.

I THINK I MAY KNOW OF A TYPEWRITER YOU COULD USE...

...IT BELONGED TO BEATRICE. SHE WROTE POEMS ON IT IN THE ATTIC OF THE FACULTY OFFICES. IT MAY STILL BE THERE!

I "BORROWED" SOME PAPER FROM A STUDENT'S ROOM...

I AVOIDED WRITING FOR AS LONG AS POSSIBLE. I FILLED UP PAGE AFTER PAGE WITH EXERCISES, UNTIL I KNEW I WAS MERELY STALLING...

wn fox jumps over
wn fox jumps over
wn fox jumps over

THE TYPEWRITER WAS STILL THERE, ALTHOUGH QUITE DUSTY. THERE WAS EVEN A BOX OF UNUSED RIBBONS.

FRANKLY, THE PROSPECT OF WRITING TERRIFIED ME. WHAT IF I WAS NO GOOD? HOW WOULD I KNOW IF THE WORDS WERE THE RIGHT ONES?

FOR WEEKS, IT SEEMS, I'VE DONE NOTHING ELSE. NOTHING HAS SO CHALLENGED ME, OR ABSORBED ME SO COMPLETELY...

I MISS HIM TERRIBLY. WHO WILL CHALLENGE ME LIKE HE DID? WHO WILL BRING ADVENTURE INTO MY LIFE? WHO WILL FORCE ME OUT INTO THE WORLD?

I DON'T PRETEND IT FILLS THE HOLE IN MY LIFE LEFT BY CHIP, BUT I ADMIT THERE WAS SOMETHING CATHARTIC, SIMPLY IN TELLING HIS STORY.

NOW I WILL NEED TO DO THESE THINGS FOR MYSELF. I KNOW - WHICH BRINGS ME TO WHY I'M LEAVING THE LAWN...
