

THE GUILFORDIAN

GREENSBORO, NC

VOLUME 90, ISSUE 20
WWW.GUILFORDIAN.COM

MARCH 26, 2004

SLF auction canceled

Alison Duncan
Staff Writer

The annual auction that supports the Student Loan Fund has been canceled this year, though the cancellation will not affect the recipients of the Loan.

"All students will still receive their money" said Anne Lundquist, Dean for Campus Life. Lundquist helped coordinate the auction last year and advised this year's organizers.

There is currently enough money in the Fund to support the 23 students who receive loans from $1,000 to $6,000.

Because it is a loan fund and not a scholarship fund, the repayment and interest from past recipients keeps the loan fund afloat in conjunction with the profits from the auction each year.

The auction typically nets just under $20,000 per year, and the school provides money for the remainder of the loans. Eventually, with enough auctions, there will be as much money going out each year as coming in.

The Student Loan Fund was modeled after the Perkins Loan, which is capable of supporting itself after 50 years. The Student Loan Fund "hasn't reached that point yet, but it will get there," said Anthony Gurley, Associate Dean of

Continued on Page 2

Guilford mourns death of young alum

Emily Mann
Associate Editor

On Sunday, March 7, recent Guilford graduate David Michael Klinghard died from injuries caused by a car accident in the Washington, D.C., area. Klinghard, who graduated last spring, was 23 years old. Also in the car was Dain Roose-Snyder, a Guilford alumnus from the class of 2002. Roose-Snyder was driving and also was injured but is recovering.

A memorial service was held for Klinghard March 11 in Tuscumcia, Alabama's First Baptist Church. There, family and friends from the all places he has lived, including North Carolina, Tennessee, Maryland, and Virginia, gathered to remember and honor him. A campus memorial was held in the Moon Room March 25.

Klinghard was an active member of the Guilford community and was involved in many activities. He lived in the Pines and served on the Judicial Board and Judicial Review committee. Klinghard also volunteered at a YMCA program for inner-city children and helped African refugee families. He majored in English with a German Language and Culture concentration at Guilford.

"I enjoyed having him in class and working with him in independent studies," said David Limburg, German professor, in the Guilford Beacon.

Klinghard moved to Washington, D.C., in January and was going to begin an internship for the National Parks Federation the day after his accident. He left behind many friends at Guilford, and will be remem-

Continued on Page 2

COURTESY OF THE QUAKER

David Michael Klinghard in his senior photo

Admissions welcomes Johnson

Matt Haselton & Aaron DeMoss

Staff Writers

Boxes litter the floor, though not from Tania Johnson's moving into her office, which happened 6 weeks ago. They are part of her next project, the Guilford Open House. She is already well acclimated to life on Guilford's campus, yelling through the wall, with a smile, to answer a question from her boss, Randy Doss.

As of Feb. 9, Johnson is Associate Director of Admission, a position created to help fill a vacancy left by Angie Carter, former Assistant Director of Admission.

"Tania brings a wealth of experience from two premier national liberal-arts institutions," said Doss, Vice President of Enrollment and Campus Life. Johnson, a graduate of Muhlenberg College in Allentown, Pa., spent three years working in the Office of Admission at her alma mater before transferring to Bucknell University admissions for two years.

"Coming to Guilford was a chance to get back to the type

Continued on Page 2

ROB BURMAN/GUILFORDIAN

New Associate Director of Admission Tania Johnson

No Child Left Behind

Page 3

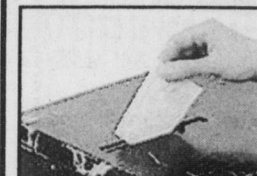

Swing
Dancing review

Page 5

Serendipity preview

Page 6

Let your voice be heard

Page 9