

WITH THE OTHER COLLEGES

BASEBALL AT WAKE FOREST

Wake Forest, April 10.—The past week has been one of continued baseball interest for Wake Forest. On Monday, a twelve inning game was played with State College in Raleigh with a tie score of 3-3. Tuesday saw the defeat of State by a 1-0 score at Wake Forest. Wofford fell an easy victim on Wednesday by a score of 6-4. On Thursday, she again went down before the Old Gold and Black warriors to the tune of 12 to 3. Much interest is being taken in the games and hope of the State championship is high.

Students Elect Editor-in-Chief and Manager of Carolinian

On Friday, April 1, at the regular mass meeting, the editor-in-chief and business manager of the Carolinian were elected. Anne Cantrell was elected chief and Stella Williams business manager. This year Miss Cantrell has been on the newspaper staff where she has shown exceptional ability. She has also had a course in journalism and is well prepared for her work next year. The other members of the staff will be elected at an early meeting.

Y. W. C. A. Council Meets at N. C. C. W.

The Cabinet Training Council of Winthrop and N. C. C. W. met at N. C. College April 6-9. At the same time a similar council with representatives from Trinity, Salem, and Meredith was held at Greensboro College. The two councils joined together in their most important sessions, part of which were held at Greensboro College and part at N. C. College. Several leaders in the National Y. W. C. A. were at this council. Of these the students at N. C. College had the privilege of hearing Miss Burner at chapel, Wednesday, and Miss Ruffin, of the colored Y. W. C. A., on Friday.

The presentation of "Twelfth Night" by the North Carolina College Dramatic Club on April 2 was very successful. Aside from the unusually skillful acting the superb costuming added much to this play. Much of the credit for the success of the play is due to Mr. R. H. Thornton, of the English department in his work as coach.

Agricultural Club to Hold Faculty Debate

Raleigh, N. C.

On April 12th, the Agricultural Club will hold its annual faculty debate. The query is, resolved: That it is worse for a giraffe to have a sore throat than for a milliped to have corns on its feet. For the affirmative are Professors Sherwin, Gray and Taylor, while Professors Wolfe, Wells and Newman will uphold the negative. This affair is looked forward to by all of the members of the Club.

For Commencement Speaker

The Faculty have invited Hon. John Skelton Williams to be the commencement speaker this year. Mr. Williams has not indicated whether or not he can accept.

Athletic News

April showers were disastrous to the track meet to have been held here Friday, April 8th, with Davidson.

"Runt" Faucette, our first baseman, and captain of next year's football team, had the misfortune to break his ankle while sliding to third in the game with Elon the 7th. He was taken to the Burlington hospital, and his leg placed in a cast. We will miss "Runt" on the team as he is one of our best players.

The faculty defeated the freshmen by a score of 8-2. The game was conspicuous for its errors. The batteries for the freshmen were Harkey and King, for faculty Leddy and Hill.

R. O. T. C. News

This year's summer camp will be held at Camp Knox, near Louisville, Ky. Col. Gregory is making preparations for the Juniors to go. The regiment will soon give a review in honor of the various clubs of Raleigh.

Making Plans For the Tower

The building committee of the Tower have been busy working on plans. The Tower is being built by the alumni and students in honor to the State College men who gave their lives in the World War. The edifice is to have a set of chimes, and is to cost $30,000. The corner stone will be laid at the commencement exercises in June.

BETWEEN APRIL SHOWERS

Miss Hettie Bethea and Miss Sarah Boren, the outgoing and incoming presidents of Student Self-Government Association, are attending the convention of the Southern Inter-collegiate Student Government Association at Agnes Scott, Decatur, Ga.

Miss Sallie Tomlinson has returned from a week-end visit to her home in East Bend, N. C.

Miss Clara Belle Morris, of G. C. W., was a visitor at Salem Sunday.

Miss Lois Hayemore, of Mt. Airy, and formerly a member of the class of '23, was a visitor at Salem this week.

It is rumored that Alice Watson and Hattie Mosely had a visitor Saturday night in the person of Mr. Fallen Plaster!

Miss Mary Mauney, of Salisbury, visited her niece, Miss Dorothy Yancey, this week-end.

The following girls have returned from the Y. W. C. A. Training Council, held at G. C. W., in Greensboro, last week: Mary Shepard Parker, Elizabeth Gillespie, Annie T. Archbell, Eliza Gaston Moore, Georgia Riddle, Margaret Russell, and Mary Louise Pybus.

Miss Louise Cilley has returned from her home in Hickory. Her Easter vacation was prolonged, as she was bitten by a dog.

Mrs. Kirk, of Atlanta, Ga., has been visiting her daughter, Dorothy, for several days.

Miss Julia Hairston spent the week-end in Pine Hall, the guest of her parents.

Miss Marie Edgerton spent the week-end with her parents in Oak Ridge!

A Salem Prophecy

As from old Salem's gates they turn, With one accord, the freshmen spurn The thought that they will e'er return Within those portals. "Ne'er hereafter Will we come back! (Unless we hafter."

They all orate in voice bombastic. Yet in the fall with mien scholastic, They'll toddle back with step elastic. Their attitudes are quite soph'moric They all hold forth in terms caloric! We, wretched freshmen, view the campus,

Unknowing, as the soph'mores lamp us,

If they intend to kill or vamp us. Through tears we view the scenes before us,

The while our faithless friends ignore us.

Ah! Cruel fate that from home tore us!

Envoi

'Twas ever thus. Today's soph'more Is on the scene. Those troops galore Of erst-while Freshmen are no more. B. HOLT, '24.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM. PLANNED

Gala Event of the Spring at Hand.

In the spring, a Junior's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of proms. And this spring has been no exception to any other, though I do believe this is only the second prom. for Salem. Never you mind, once a good habit is formed at Salem on it marches. And the Junior-Senior prom is to come off soon, very soon, indeed; it is to be Saturday, May 7, just three short weeks. At eight o'clock that night, Salem campus will be thronged with handsome men and lovely girls in evening dress. There are to be soft lights, wonderful music, flowers, and last but never least, Salem back campus and a full moon. Why aren't we all juniors and seniors? Well, we most are; for all we hear concerns men, refreshments, wonderful music, and spring.

EXCHANGES

Maroon and Gold: Next year Elon will have a course in "Practical Teaching and Observation Work" for seniors. Any student taking such a course will be granted credits toward the degree for which she is studying.

Old Gold and Black: Your base ball schedule is unquestionably interesting and we'll be watching for results. Here's wishing you luck in all the games!

Tar Heel: Your Easter dances were evidently a great success. At least, from all reports, they seem to have been well attended and old Carolina's hall must seem rather empty since the departure of the numerous fair.

The Mirror: We especially notice the splendid progress of your Y. W. C. A. and the inspirational series of meetings held during Lent. This phase of college life is one too often neglected and we think the fine work you are doing is much to your credit.

I'll sing you a song, entitled, "He said he craved a biscuit,"; and the curtain came down with a roll.
