

THERE IS SOMETHING IN THAT.

I am unsophisticated;
Nothing bores me.
I have even enjoyed one or two of Harold Bell Wright's stories.
And I laugh over prohibition jokes.
I never worry about the down-trodden masses,
And yet I'm always broke.
I read Main Street and felt sorry or the author.
He must be a very unhappy man—fearfully sophisticated, you know.
I thrill all over when I hear the Star Spangled Banner played,
And then I always go and enlist.
(Twice I've done it just that way) A good, close ball game gets me every time.
I guess its because I'm unsophisticated; nothing bores me.
But, for all that, I'm happy!
—Society Yorke, in Life.

SALEM VISITORS.

One of the pleasures of Thanksgiving is the visitors at Salem College.
Miss Annie Sharp Garrett was the guest of Miss Nina Sue Gill.
Mrs. J. D. Brown was here during the Thanksgiving holidays. Miss Jessamine Brown returned to Davidson with her mother.
Mrs. John Cilley visited her daughter, Miss Louise Cilley.
We were glad to have with us an alumna, Miss Elva Templeton, '21.
Miss Patty Turner, former member of Class '23, is a visitor at Salem.
Miss Mary Alta Robbins visited her sister, Miss Maggie Mae Robbins.
Miss Charlotte Brown and Miss Margaret Brawley of Statesville, were the guests of Miss Ruth Crowell for the week-end.
Miss Estelle Hooks paid her sister a visit during the past week-end.
Mrs. H. D. Thomas is visiting her daughter, Miss Katherine.
Miss Katherine Cudding, from Salisbury, visited Miss Ruth Eborn.
Miss Ava Mae Stafford had as her guest her sister for Thanksgiving.
Misses Katherine Armstrong, Emily Moye, Ada James, Louise Cilley, Elizabeth Rhodes and Margaret Williford attended the dances at Chapel Hill.
Miss Mary Bradham and Margaret Smith spent the week-end in Davidson.
Miss Louise Young and Miss Eloise Chesson visited Miss Frances Arm-field at Statesville.
Miss Ruth Reeves and Miss Raye Dawson went to Chapel Hill for the Carolina-Virginia game.
Miss Pearl Roberts of Sylacauga, Ala., was a Salem visitor during Thanksgiving.
Miss Eliza Gaston Moore has returned from Davidson, where she took part in the festivities of Senior speaking.
Miss Margaret Whitaker and Miss Sophia Hall spent the past week-end at their respective homes.
Miss Lucile Johnson, of Smithfield, spent Saturday at Salem as the guest of Miss Rachel Jordan.

THE COLLEGE TEA ROOM.

I wonder if every girl knows the very best place to go when she is hungry and wants something good to eat.
If she has been to the College Tea Room on Main street just a little below the Rondthaler's, she does; but, if not, she has something to learn.
As for the tea room itself, it is most attractively arranged and, in answer to the question whilh naturally arises in regard to what is served, I may say that the menus are made essentially to appeal to college girls.
What with sandwiches, chicken pie, salad, chicken salad, rolls, lemon pie, various kinds of cake, tea and hot chocolate, it seems to me there is a wide range for many different kinds of appetites. Watch the menu on the bulletin board in Main Hall, for it is constantly changing.

One thing of interest which I do not think many of the girls know is that Saturday night suppers are served at the tea room for seventy-five cents a plate and college girls may go with a chaperone. The only thing to remember is to notify Mrs. Weathers the Thursday or Friday before.

The college has really needed a tea room and now that it has one, let us all show our appreciation by dropping in there in the afternoons from four to six.

DAVIDSON FIRE!

Last Monday at the cold and early hour of 4:30 o'clock in the morning, all Davidson and the surrounding country was aroused by lusty shouts of "Fire! Fire!" This time it was real fire, too. The historic cupalo of Chambers building was in flames.
From there the fire burned steadily downward; yet the men who roomed in the two wings of the building had plenty of time to remove most of their personal belongings and also much of the equipment of the physics laboratory.

The onlookers and students witnessed the fiery destruction of that grand old building with sorrow, not only because they realized what a great expense it would be for the Presbyterian church to rebuild it again, but also because of their love for the stately building around which so many tales of mystery and tradition have been woven, and in which many of their fathers and grandfathers before them roomed. Among the charred ruins there still remains the four majestic pillows which, by their dignity and age, stand for the "tradition, mystery, steadiness, and progress" of Davidson College.

We hope that soon this building will be replaced and that Davidson's work may go on unhampered.

Sing a Song of Rent Bills.

The rose is red, the violet's blue, and so is a man when his rent falls due.—Western Christian Advocate.

Not Going Up.

Stage Manager—"All ready, run up the curtain."
Stage Hand—"Say, what do you think I am, a squirrel?"—Froth.

Just So.

Carry—"Why did kings tap men on their heads when they knighted them?" Tarry—"Perhaps the stars made the knights more realistic."—The Widow.

Inhuman Treatment.

Heroine (in the melodrama) —
"What are those shrieks?" Villain (relentlessly)—"They have tied an American to a chair and are showing him a bottle of Scotch."— London Passing Show.

Easily Explained.

The fancy shop proprietor had ransacked his shop in an endeavor to please the rather exacting woman who wanted to purchase a present.
"Now, are you sure this is genuine crocodile skin," she inquired, critically examining a neat little satchel.
"Quite, madam," was the reply.
"You see, I shot the crocodile myself."
"It looks rather dirty," remarked the customer, hoping to get a reduction in terms.
"Yes, madam," replied the shopkeeper, "that is where the animal struck the ground after it fell off the tree."—London Telegraph.

No Chance.

"Judge," cried the prisoner in the dock, "have I got to be tried by a woman jury?"
"Be quiet," whispered his counsel.
"I won't be quiet! Judge, I can't even fool my own wife, let alone twelve srrrange women. I'm guilty."

He Could Prove It.

"Well," said the waiter to the student, who had just had his coffee cup refilled for the seventh time, "you must be very fond of coffee."

"Yes, indeed," answered the student, "or I wouldn't be drinking so much water to get a little."—Lehigh Burr.

Relieving Her Anxiety.

Old Lady—"Oh, conductor, please stop the train. I dropt my wig out the window."

Conductor—"Never mind, madam, there is a switch just this side of the next station."—Octopus.

THE THANKSGIVING BANQUET.

then about basket ball. He finished by saying that his speech consisted of three parts: the beginning, the body and the end, and that he had come to the end.

The class songs were sung with unusual spirit, after which each class president responded to the graceful introduction of Miss Griffin.

The Craven loving cup was presented to Martha Matheson, captain of the winning team by Dr. Rondthaler. Her response to his presentation speech was witty and original.

Miss Griffin presented numerals to the following girls: Charlotte Mathew-son, '22; Bright McKemie, '23; Katharine Denny, '23; Estelle McCanless,
'23; Adelaide Armfield, '24; Louise Young, '24; Corinne Clements, '24; Ruth Hayes, '24; Mary Howard Turlington, '24; Mary Womble, '25; Sophie Hall, '25; Mavis Lindsay, '25; Dorothy Wood, '25; Ruth Womels-dorf, '25; Elizabeth Parker, '25; Elma

Parrish, '25; Elizabeth Racon, '25.
Stars were presented to the following: Martha Matheson, Gertrude Coble, Mildred Parrish, Louise Cooke, Nina Sue Gill, Mabel Chinnis, Sophie Hall, Mavis Lindsay, Gertrude Coble, sub., Louise Cooke, sub., and Mary Womble, sub.

Athletic sweaters were presented for the first time to Misses Mildred Parrish, Gertrude Coble and Nina Sue Gill. These are presented only after seven points have been won in athletics for three successive years.

After the Alma Mater was sung, every one went to the gymnasium to dance.
