student's place to do the same. You argue that the actions of one or two in such an affair cannot have much weight; but if one or two are lax in their work it is the privilege of others to do the same. If we all gave up, would not the outcome be the same as in the case of the faculty?

Thus it is the duty of each student to prepare each day's lessons just as carefully as though the time for Santa Claus were not drawing near, up to the last lesson on the last day.

FROM THE COLLEGES.

Meredith Links Up With Other A1 Colleges in the South.

Meredith College, Raleigh—A telegram was received from President Charles E. Brewer on Friday, December 2, announcing that Meredith had been received into the Southern Association of Colleges. Thus, Meredith has the honor of being the only woman's college in North Carolina, with the possible exception of Trinity, which is a co-ed institution, having membership in the Association. Proper celebration of the event will take place upon Dr. Brewer's return from Birmingham, Ala., where he attended the convention. the convention.

Friendship Council Banquet.

State College, Raleigh.—On Mondoy night, November 21st, the Freshman Friendship Council held their annual hanquet in the dining rooms of the College Y. M. C. A. The College Woman's Club prepared and served the delicious food. Mr. W. S. Morris, acting president of the Council, officiated at Toastmaster on the occasion.

The principal speaker was Mr. Odis B. Hinnant, City Boys' Work Secretary of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A., who was warmly welcomed by the men. He delivered an inspiring address to the christian students and proved himself an able speaker to college men. Dr. Riddick, president of the college, made a few remarks in which he highly complimented the Friendship Council on their splendid work. Col. Olds also gave a few words of good cheer.

The banquet was carried out in a splendid manner and was an inspiration to the men present. The work of the council is being directed by Mr. E.

SPECIAL MUSIC AT MORNING SERVICES.

Now that the Christmas holidays are fast approaching it devolves upon each student to keep the standard of her work up to par.

Students are not the only ones whom the coming of Christmas, with its round of pleasures and gaieties, thrills. The faculty are just as human—they, too, would, I am sure, like to grow lax in their work about a week before vacation begins, but do they give way to their desires? If they should do so there would be no need of classes at all for that last week. Then why not move up the vacation a week? The same tale would be repeated, until finally there would be no school at all—only vacation.

If the faculty thus have to continue their work until the last hour, it is the student's place to do the same. You argue that the actions of one or two been marked by special music at the morning chapel services. Notable among the organ selections were the "Pastorale" and "Hallelujah Chorrus" from Handel's Messiah. The ninth grade of the Academy sang "The First Noel" on Friday morning and on Saturday morning some of the pupils of the violin department added greatly to the very enjoyable service prepared by Miss Susan Webb. Those playing were Misses Gladys Sills, Laura Howell, Esther Efird, Zora Styron, Mary Pfohl, Elizabeth Parker, first violins; Margaret Rodwell, Isabel Wenhold, Lydia Yingling, Elizabeth Brookes, second violins; and Bessie Pfohl, viola. With Miss Evelyn Smith at the organ Gounod's Marche Romaine" and Mendelssohn's "War Misch of the Priests" were played and accompaniment was given to "O Come All Ye Faithful," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," "O Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing."
