A prize of "The Crennock Silver Cup" and one hundred and fifty dollars has been offered for the best one-act drama produced and acted at Northwestern University. Preliminary competitions are to take place at the School of Speech theater, December 30 and 31, and the final contest is to take place January 1.

In awarding the prize, the judges will consider the choice of the play, the direction and the acting. The play may be any comedy or heavy drama which can be presented within forty minutes.

On Tuesday night, November 11, the Mercer radio station, WMAZ, began a series of four college courses, in addition to the special musical programs by various campus organizations. Courses in literature, history, journalism, and religious education will be given at first. If the experiment proves successful, a number of courses will be added and college credit will be given for them.

It is noticeable that "Dad's Day" has become a popular celebration among colleges and universities. It is a splendid plan in which the fathers are brought together and into closer touch with the college. The University of Florida hopes to unite the "homecoming" of old graduates and "Dad's Day" on Thanksgiving this year. Georgia Tech has recently established a Dad's Day, and is planning to have the fathers come to Atlanta sometime in the spring to the week-end baseball games.

The popularity of certain subjects has been obtained by the Registrar at Washington and Lee University and has been tabulated in the following order: 1, English; 2, Hygiene; 3, History; 4, Mathematics; 5, Politics; 6, Economics; 7, French; 8, Spanish; 9, Business Administration; and 10, Geology.

A few weeks ago the University of North Carolina was made president of the Association of American Universities at a meeting in Minneapolis, Minn. The membership of the association is limited to twenty-six of America's best and largest universities, the Universities of North Carolina and Virginia being the only southern universities in the association.

The University of Kansas recently established a class "open to beginners and to all those who are anxious to learn the fundamentals of good dancing." The class meets one afternoon each week and the time is devoted to both the teaching and practicing of dancing. The meetings are open to the entire University.—The New Student.

The Seniors are looking forward to diplomas, the Juniors to rings, the sophomores to sweaters, and the Freshmen to Christmas. Good luck to all.—The Carolinian, N. C. C. W.

The Criograph, published weekly by the students of Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Virginia, gives a summary of the "New Loyalty," which is a loyalty not to the people of one nation but to the people of all the world. The terror of war, and of the universal destruction which inevitably accompanies it, is being set forth. The Criograph urges "courageous youth" to be more willing "to give their lives toward advancing international good" will than they were formerly to lay down their lives on fields of battles in orgies of hate and bloodshed.

"Give Thanks for what?" the deacon said. At his proclamation read—
"There's storm and fire, frost and flood,
Every road is two feet mud,
My two daughters bobbed their hair;
Friend wife is gone, I don't know where."
Then said the pastor: "Gim, don't curse,
Just thank the Lord it ain't no worse."

"But," said the deacon, just look here. They took away our wine and beer. Of soggy bread, and cake, that stuff— Give thanks for what?—I had enough!" The pastor said: "Your brains are dead, just go to Gilmer's for your bread. And 'Roshad' Fruit Cake and Mince Pie. Then you'll give thanks until you die."
