

The Salemite

VOL. XV.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1935.

Number 25.

PIERRETTE WIN CITY DRAMATIC TOURNAMENT

Loving Cup Awarded For Work in "Op-O- Me-Thumb"

The Pierrette Players, of Salem College, won recognition, last Thursday night, April 4, when their entry, "Op-O-Me-Thumb," won the city wide dramatic tournament conducted by the department of recreation. A beautiful, silver, loving cup was awarded to the winning players, who won over the other contestants, by a margin of several points.

The judging of the plays considered diction, acting choice of play, interpretation, and direction. Competing against the Pierrettes Thursday night was the student "Y." dramatic club, presenting "Pink and Patches."

Mary Penn was outstanding in her portrayal of Amanda, a pathetic, poverty-stricken, laundress in a Soho establishment. She played her role with sympathy for and an understanding of the character of Amanda.

B. C. Dunford was cast as Mr. Horace Greensmith. He was convincing as a young laborer, the subject of Amanda's romantic fabrications.

Anne Perkins played a delightful celeste, and Mary Woodruff and Nancy Schallert were Rose and Clem respectively. Mary Elizabeth Reeves played Madame, an excitable Frenchwoman, doing her part well.

Miss Elois Padrick, and Marietta Way handled make-up and properties, and Doctor Willoughby coached the play. To these three the success of the play was due in no small measure, as well as to the willing co-operation of the actors.

The loving cup will remain at Salem, until the tournament next year.

JOSEF LHEVINNE PRESENTS PROGRAM

Josef Lhevinne, a well known pianist appeared Friday evening in the Reynolds Auditorium, in a last concert of the Winston-Salem Civic Music Association for this season.

Mr. Lhevinne is a recognized authority on tone production and gave a brilliant performance which demonstrated his theories. He is quoted as saying that "tone" in piano-playing is the result of touch and therefore touch is the thing most desired."

DR. MYERS TO CONDUCT SERVICES HOME CHURCH

Founders Day Speaker To Be Here May 5 To 12

Dr. Charles F. Myers, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Greensboro, N. C., will come to Winston-Salem early in May to hold a series of services at the Home Moravian Church. For the past years Dr. Myers has been a prominent figure on the campuses of many of the leading colleges of the South. His simple and logical messages have been enthusiastically received not only by the college groups but by older people as well, wherever he has gone.

Rev. Gordon Spangh announced that the special service will be held the week, May 5 to 12. Dr. Myers is well known in this community having spoken at the home church on previous occasions. He was the guest speaker at the Founders Day Exercises at Salem in February.

TWO NEW BUSINESS MANAGERS ELECTED

MISS SUSAN RAWLINGS
Of Goldsboro, N. C., Business Manager of Salemite 1935-36.

MISS MARY LOUISE SHORE
Of Winston-Salem, N. C., Business Manager of Sights, and Insights 1935-36.

REV. TOM SYKES SPEAKS IN Y. P. M.

"Undiscovered Wealth" Discussed By High Point Minister

Rev. Tom Alderman Sykes, of High Point spoke at Y. P. M., Wednesday, April 3, on "Undiscovered Wealth" and the way to tap this fortune.

He stated that one of the first and greatest challenges to youth today is to study. Many of us study mainly because the folks back home would be disappointed if they didn't send home good marks, but according to the Bible, we are challenged "to study to show thyself a workman that needeth not to be ashamed." If we are wise we will not throw over the teaching of the Bible but turn back more and more to this greatest of all text books to search for and rediscover its worth.

The speaker continued with this theme that one of the greatest enemies of America today is ignorance. "We must," he stated, "conquer that enemy; we must understand and grow ourselves; we must have within us the making of something better and finer than give expression at the moment. We must stimulate and stir to consciousness that better and nobler self to attain anything like the goal of perfection. Winston-Salem and North Carolina need at this moment the finished product of Salem College at its best. Anything less than the best will fall far short of your school standards."

To attain this perfection, Rev. Sykes went on to say, we must be adventurers. We must keep alert mentally and physically, we must have a larger view of human relationships, for we are going into a world in which we need direction with this new leisure and freedom. We must think for ourselves; it is all right to send out our washing, but by no means should we send out our thinking. We must think in terms of perfection as our goal and objective and in time we will raise up in America the kind of leadership and guidance it should have.

MATH CLUB MEETING

The Math. Club will meet tonight at 7:00 o'clock in the recreation room of Louisa Wilson Bitting Building. A program of Mathematical games is planned, with refreshments following.

RONDTHALER DISCUSSES RELIGIOUS QUESTIONS

Y. W. C. A. Holds Informal Meeting Monday

Under the auspices of the World Fellowship Committee of the Y. W. C. A. a discussion group was held Monday night in the Y. W. C. A. cabinet room. Dr. Rondthaler answered questions the girls put before him, either previously written or additional ones. The questions demanded three types of answers from experience, from the Scripture, and from a speculative angle.

The first question to be discussed was: Is the resurrection spiritual or physical? This cannot be adequately explained because of the lack of appropriate terms. It has been dealt with in a series of figures, which do not prove, but rather illustrate and throw some light on the subject. We should not be baffled by the physical aspects of the resurrection, but should draw from it a spiritual comfort. The resurrection involves a mingling of spiritual feelings plus a continuity and change.

The second question spoken of was: What is the significance of the Book of the Song of Solomon and how should it be construed? This book is a rural idyll, not a continuous and logical poem, and is made up of disconnected episodes in the love life of a shepherd. It is a book that is sweetly and sincerely frank and lovely. There are those who think every part of Scripture has to have equal value, but one should discover and honor the varying values. Scripture should be placed in various categories, and valued accordingly.

Is Christ to come to the earth secretly before the second advent, making a total of three comings to earth? No man knows exactly the facts concerning this, but throughout the Bible the suddenness of his coming rather than the sneakiness is emphasized.

Will the Jew be saved though he does not believe in the divinity of Christ? To this question Dr. Rondthaler read the eleventh chapter of Romans in which we are told that all are to be saved.

Why do Catholics lay so much stress on the reverence of the Virgin Mary? The Catholics revere and admire Virgin Mary because of her intimate relationship with Christ. They

(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

OFFICERS, REPRESENTATIVE GROUP ELECTED

Officers For Y. W. C. A., Student Government And Publications Elected

In the past week the student body has elected the rest of its officers for the Student Government, the Y. W. C. A. and the "Salemite" and "Sights and Insights." Miss Agnes Brown is to succeed Miss Anne Taylor and Miss Stephanie Newman is to succeed Miss Rebecca Hines as vice-presidents of Student-Government. Both girls are very capable and have been outstanding in work on the campus. Miss Josephine Whitehead is the newly elected secretary and Miss Mary Louise Haywood the newly elected treasurer.

In the Y. W. C. A. elections Miss Martha Schlegel, succeeding Miss Anne Taylor, is to work with Miss Erika Marx as her vice-president. Miss Mary Hart is to be the secretary and Miss Mary Louise McClung the treasurer. All these girls have done outstanding "Y" work during the year.

As business manager of the "Salemite" Miss Susan Rawlings succeeds Miss Agnes Brown. Miss Rawlings has for the past year been in charge of the ad placement in the paper.

Miss Mary Louise Shore will take over the work of business manager of the annual. Miss Martha Neal has been the manager for the past year. Miss Shore has worked on the annual several years and has been very interested in the work.

ACADEMY TO PRESENT OPERETTA FRIDAY

Pinafore, Operetta In Two Acts

On Friday evening, April 12th at 8:15 the Academy choral classes are presenting "H. M. S. Pinafore," an operetta in two acts by Gilbert and Sullivan. This is one of the more popular Gilbert and Sullivan operettas and during the present revival of Gilbert and Sullivan has been often heard over the radio. As is often the case with these operettas the plot is based on mistaken identities, built around the theme expressed by the Lord High Admiral that "a British Sailor is any man's equal, excepting mine."

The students have been hard at work since Christmas under the direction of Miss Dorothy Knox and Friday night's performance should be very entertaining. A cordial invitation is extended to all college faculty, students and friends. There will be a small admission charged.

The cast follows:
Sir Joseph Porter, First Lord of the Admiralty

Florence Lee Harry
Captain Coreoran, Commanding "H. M. S. Pinafore"

Ethel Young
(CONTINUED ON PAGE FOUR)

UNIVERSITY OF MICHIGAN LITTLE SYMPHONY CONCERT

On Thursday night, April 11th the Woman's Auxiliary of the Home Church is sponsoring a concert by the Little Symphony of the University of Michigan. It will be given at 8:15 in Memorial Hall. The leader, Thor Johnson, is a resident of Winston-Salem and the orchestra is composed of young instructors and students, among whom is Ruth Pfohl, a graduate of Salem College.

YOUTH PROGRAM TO BE HELD IN WINSTON-SALEM

Dr. and Mrs. Earnest Groves Will Be Speakers

The fourth annual Parents' and Leaders' Conference on Childhood and Youth will be held in Winston-Salem, April 11 and 12, at the First Baptist Church. The theme of the conference this year is "The Family and the Community." Dr. Frank Howard Richardson, of Black Mountain and New York, will speak, Thursday evening on "The Family at Play." In one of the Friday morning sessions, Rabbi Lieberman will give an address on "Ideal Contributions to Family Life." Mrs. Groves, who is widely known in the state, will speak at the luncheon at 1 o'clock Friday on "Common Problems of Family Life." At Friday afternoon's session representatives of the public library, Girl Scouts, Junior League, city recreation commission and Boy Scouts will give their views on "The Use of Leisure Time." A discussion of "The Community and the Adolescent" will also be held in the afternoon. The closing feature of the conference Friday night will be an address by Mr. Groves on "The Human Values of the Family."

I. R. S. ENTERTAINS ACADEMY SENIORS

Outdoor Dinner Party Enjoyed Wednesday

Wednesday evening, April 10, at six o'clock, the I. R. S. Council entertained the Academy Seniors at a progressive dinner party. If the weather permitted the tables were placed on the lawn in front of the Hanes Memorial Building. A color scheme of purple and gold, the academy colors, was carried out in the flowers, the place cards, and shoulder corsages, which were presented to the guests.

Presiding at the party was Miss Jane Williams, President of the I. R. S., who, after a short entertainment conducted by Misses Margaret MacLean and Mary Penn, took the girls for a tour of Salem College Campus. Following that, coffee was served in the living room of Louisa Wilson Bitting Building.

SALEMITE PRINTERS TO ENTERTAIN STAFF AT DINNER PARTY

Two Year Old Salemite Writers Invited To Reynolds Cafeteria

A treat is in store for all the members of the Salemite Staff (both Editorial and Business) who have worked as many or more than two years. It is rumored that the Sun Printers are giving a dinner party at the Reynolds Cafeteria for those mentioned on Monday, April 18. The entertainment will honor the newly elected editor, Virginia Garner; the newly elected business manager, Susan Rawlings, the retiring Editor and Business Manager, and ten other of their hard working staff members. Invited as guests will be Margaret Me Lean, President Student-Government, a one-year staff member, and Miss Katherine Riggan who served her two years on the staff.