

The Salemite

VOL. XVII.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1937.

Number 18.

MEMBERS OF FACULTY ATTENDING EDUCATION MEETING IN LOUISIANA

Left Friday For New Orleans

Miss Sallie B. Marx and Mr. Noble McEwen left Friday to attend the meeting of the department of superintendence of the National Education Association. Miss Mary Weaver and Miss Charlotta Jackson of the Academy attended the sessions of the National Association of Principals and Deans of Schools for Girls. The meetings are being held in New Orleans.

The meeting will open Sunday afternoon with a vesper service and the department of superintendence will hold nine general sessions and thirty-six discussion groups.

Topics for discussion include:

"Business Administration as it Applies to Materials and Financing"—Homer W. Anderson, superintendent of schools, Omaha, Nebraska.

"Teacher Participation in School Administration."—E. W. Jacobsen, Superintendent of School, Wichita, Kansas.

"The Professional Status of the Teacher."—L. W. Mayberry, Superintendent of Schools, Quincy, Ill.

"Safety Education."—Millard C. Lefler, Superintendent of Schools, Lincoln, Nebraska.

"School Finance."—Lloyd W. King, State Superintendent of Public Schools, Jefferson City, Mo.

"Rural Education."—Francis Bailey, State Commissioner of Education and president of Department of Rural Education, NEA, Montpelier, Vt.

"Relationship of the Library to the Educational Program."—George Wiley, assistant State Commissioner of Education, Albany, N. Y.

"A Public Relations Program for Schools."—Helen Anderson, Supervisor of Publications, Public Schools, Denver, Colorado, and President, National School Public Relations Association.

"Adult Education."—S. M. Brownell, Superintendent of Schools, Grasse Point, Michigan.

"Our Professional Organization Problem."—Edgar G. Doudna, secretary, State Board of Regents of Normal Schools, Madison, Wis.

"The Curriculum."—Frederick H. Bair, Superintendent of Schools, Bronxville, New York.

Other events of interest will be a breakfast for those attending the convention, under the old Dueling Oaks in City Park; an open air concert in the Municipal plaza by the Louisiana State University band, and a parade by the Krewe of NOR, school children's organization of the Mardi Gras. Their colorful parade of the Mardi Gras will be repeated.

Of special interest to those attending from North Carolina will be a talk on "Arithmetic," by Dr. W. A. Brownell of Duke University.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE SYMPHONY TO GIVE CONCERT

Saturday, March 13

The Davidson College Symphonic Band will present a concert in Memorial Hall, Saturday night, March 13, at 8 o'clock.

The band is conducted by James C. Pfohl, well-known Winston-Salem musician. The band is regarded as one of the outstanding college organizations of the South.

The band will come here under the auspices of the Boy Scout Troop of Salem and the entire proceeds will be given to them.

DR. HAUPERT HOLDING CONFERENCES HERE

MORAVIAN MINISTER CONDUCTING SERIES

Event Sponsored By Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Raymond S. Hauptert of Bethlehem, Pa., is conducting a four day conference on spiritual life for youth. The conferences are being sponsored by the Y. W. C. A.

Dr. Hauptert is a member of the faculty of Moravian College and Theological Seminary in Bethlehem, Pa., where he teaches courses in biblical literature, Hebrew and archeology.

After receiving his B.D. degree from Moravian Seminary in 1924, he taught Bible for two years at Lafayette College in Easton, Pa. During this time he did work in the School of Semitic languages at the University of Pennsylvania where he later received his doctor's degree, and a scholarship for a year's study abroad.

Then Dr. Hauptert went to the American School of Oriental Research at Jerusalem. He did excavating with a group of archeologists in Iraq in Mesopotamia.

In 1931 Dr. Hauptert returned to the United States and resumed his teaching at Moravian College and Seminary and became active in the ministry of Bethlehem Churches. In 1932 he was married to Miss Estelle McCannless of Winston-Salem, a Salem Alumnae and at that time a member of the faculty of Salem Academy.

Dr. Hauptert is president of the board of Christian education in the Northern Province of the Moravian Church. He is a member of the National Association of Archeologists.

SECOND EVENING RECITAL GIVEN FEB. 15th

Eleven Students On Program

On Monday evening, February 15 the Salem College School of Music presented advanced student in the second evening recital of this year. The excellent program was as follows:

- "Eroticas" Sjogren
- Willena Couch
- "Tod und das Madiem" Schubert
- "Verrath" Brahms
- Jane Rondthaler
- "Nocturne in F Sharp Major" Chopin
- Mary Frances Hayworth
- "Berceuse" Juos
- Katherine Snead
- "Concerto in G Minor" Mendelssohn

- Malta Allegro
- Andante
- Dorothy Blair
- "Sonata Appassionata" Opus 57 Beethoven
- Allegro Assai
- Hazel McMahan
- "A Chloris" Hahn
- "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal" Ovliter
- Kenneth Bryant

- "Arabesque" Debussy
- B. C. Dunford, Jr.
- "Alleluja" Mozart
- "Fountain" Ware
- Harriet Taylor
- "Prelude from Suite Berganasqu'e" Debussy
- Frank Campbell
- "Concerto in C Minor" Beethoven
- Allegro con brio
- Rose Siewers
- Dean Vardell accompanied Miss Blair and Miss Siewers on the organ.
- Miss Virginia Thompson and Miss Hazel McMahan played accompaniments for voice and violin.

SELF-KNOWLEDGE IS IMPORTANT FACTOR IN LIFE

Overcome Inferiority Complex

In Friday morning's chapel, Dr. Hauptert discussed the importance of self-knowledge in overcoming difficulties. In a study of self there must be absolute honesty; it is well to begin with the acknowledgement that we know very little about ourselves.

Dr. Hauptert gave illustrations of how lack of self-knowledge may result in fear or other personality problems.

Self study is an aid towards getting along with other people. In the Sermon on the Mount are given some valuable rules along this line. One of these is "Judge not that ye be not judged." This means not to condemn people for their faults, and not to be continually trying to pick out only bad things in a personality. Judging people in this manner is evidence of an inferiority complex. This is evidenced in gossip, envy, and suspicion.

CORNER-STONE LAYING PROGRAM

Vernon Geddy To Speak At Luncheon

The corner stone of the new Hall of History will be laid on George Washington's birthday, Monday, February 22.

The public ceremonies will be at 1:40 P. M. Bishop J. Kenneth Pfohl will preside. Mayor W. T. Wilson will present a brief history of the Wachovia Historical Society.

Bishop Pfohl, Mayor Wilson and J. Harry White, former president of the Chamber of Commerce, George W. Coan, Jr., North Carolina work progress administrator, B. J. Pfohl, Vice-President of the Wachovia Historical Society will participate.

The cornerstone will be unveiled by the small daughters of two members of the Society. Dr. D. Clay Lilly will pronounce the benediction.

Immediately preceding the ceremonies a luncheon for distinguished guests, members of the Wachovia Historical Society and the chamber of Commerce, will be held at the college. Vernon M. Geddy, vice-president of Colonial Williamsburg, Inc., will be the guest of honor and speaker.

Mr. Geddy is resident officer in charge of the Rockefeller Corporation engaged in the restoration of the colonial Virginia capitol.

STUDENTS CHARGED FOR LIBRARY USE

$1.00 Per Quarter Charged To Use Salem College Library 100 Years Ago

The announcement of the plan for a $100,000 library for Salem brings to light interesting facts pertaining to Old Salem, found among the records at Williamsburg, Va.

Miss Mary Katherine Thorpe, an alumna of Salem, who is doing special work at Williamsburg, found among the McGavock papers a Salem catalogue for 1837, exactly 100 years ago. This catalogue, among other things, listed the terms for use of the library at the college at $1.00 per quarter.

The catalogue found by Miss (Continued On Page Three)

UTILIZATION OF CHRISTIAN RESOURCES DISCUSSED

Dr. Hauptert Opens Conference Series

On Thursday morning Dr. Raymond Hauptert opened the series of conferences which he is conducting here, at the chapel hour.

The theme of Dr. Hauptert's address was the utilization of the vast resources which we as Christians have. Citing the works of noted psychologists, he showed how those people with mental problems, such as fear, were nearly always non-Christians. Timidity, false pride, boasting, jealousy, anger are all signs of an inadequacy or inferiority, conscious or unconscious. Such faults are not to be condemned, but may be overcome by a full utilization of those things which belong to us as Christians.

Dr. Hauptert was introduced by Mary Frances Hayworth, president of the Y. W. C. A.

SECOND MUSIC HOUR OF SECOND SEMESTER

February 11

On Thursday, February 11, the students in the School of Music presented the following program:

- Romance in F Sharp Schumann
- Bertha Hine
- Etude Schytte
- June Hire
- Twilight Sternberg
- Frances Britt
- Berceuse Juon
- Katharine Snead
- Valse Triste Sibelius
- Catherine Brandon
- Largo from Sonata in F Major Mozart
- Helen Savage
- Alleluja Mozart
- The Fountain Ware
- Harriette Taylor
- Serenade Rachmaninoff
- Dorothy Blair
- Second Arabesque Debussy
- B. C. Dunford, Jr.
- Sonata Appassionata, Op. 57 Beethoven
- Allegro Assai
- Hazel McMahan

A. A. U. W. HOLDS BRIEF MEETING

Miss Mickel Is Speaker

The American Association of University Women held a brief but interesting meeting at 8:15 Tuesday night in Louisa Wilson Biting building. The speaker was Miss Robena Mickel, who gave a short history of the beginning of the A. A. U. W. branch here.

The American Association of University Women was founded to standardize the leading colleges. The branch here was founded in 1914 and its first president was Margaret Horsfield. Miss Elizabeth Avery Colton from North Carolina was very influential in the organization, and one of the nation's outstanding women in the field of education. Her ranking of the southern colleges was accepted as standard. It is in her honor the southeastern District Fellowship of the A. A. U. W., which includes Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama and other Southeastern States, is named the Elizabeth Avery Colton Fellowship.

MRS. OVERTON SPEAKS AT Y. P. M.

Needs of Youth Discussed

In expanded chapel Wednesday Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton talked on women's changing position in the home today all over the world by answering the questions "do we need a new family pattern?" Mrs. Overton said that young women of today asked to be treated as human beings and given an equal chance with men, only in a feminine setting.

At a meeting of the United Front for Youth which Mrs. Overton attended in Chicago last week the five major needs of youth today were discussed. In descending importance these were:

1. A job or career, a way and means of earning a living.
2. Mating, marriage and family life.
3. What part should youth play in the total governmental system of the world?

Mrs. Overton said that when she was in Russia and Germany the youth asked her how American youth could act so naive as to think that they were not affected by the rest of the world. In Germany 80 per cent of the youths belong to some political organization or movement. American youth is just learning how the politics of the world determine their destiny.

However, women in both these countries have been driven back into the homes, not for love but for breeding purposes only, to raise a larger army for their country. Mrs. Overton said that the type of government we had determined our future so American women had better look well to democracy.

4. Personal problems. The United States needs more people with whom its youth might confer about their own personal problems and receive help without fear of having them divulged in lectures and articles.

5. A philosophy of life. Mrs. Overton said that she would put this first because she feels it is of greatest importance but that the committee felt that a philosophy of life was achieved through the first four and therefore placed it last. Religious belief is a direct result of the first four.

After showing the relationship of this with the whole problem of life Mrs. Overton isolated this need and talked on it.

Mrs. Overton said that women today are growing up about life. Girls no longer die of broken hearts or isolate small problems from the whole of life, not realizing its relative unimportance.

Mrs. Overton continued by answering the question, what has happened to family life in Russia, Germany and the Orient. The home is the pivoting unit of any society. In Russia it is the belief that although parents may be the only ones to produce children, they may not be the ones to train them. This is because 80 per cent of Russian parents are illiterate and not capable of training good citizens for the state, so it is up to the state to build its own citizens. After a generation has been raised in this way the home can be re-established.

In Germany Hitler has decreed that no women can hold strategic positions and only 10 per cent of men and women in universities can be women. Women must spend from eighteen months to two years in some home learning to keep house just as men must serve in the army. The home in Germany has become a state institution.

In the Orient old ideas and the old home order has gone. New ideas of home and marriage similar to those of Russia and Germany are now prevalent.

Even in the U. S. the old family (Continued On Page Four)